TAKE POWER TO REGULATE CAR PARKING

Government Discovers No Jurisdiction Has Existed With Regard to Cars Around Buildings

AMENDMENTS TO SETTLEMENT LAW

Better Inspection of Public Buildings and Increasing of Means of Egress Planned

IN the past no authority has legally rested with the provincial authorities to regulate parking about public buildings. This fact was revealed by the Minister of Public Works yesterday in the Legislature during the second reading of the bill to amend the Public Works Act. The authority so to regulate parking is taken by the department under this bill.

The announcement of this fact was of special interest to the Leader of the Opposition who early in the session complained of having been interfered with in trying to park his car at the Parliament Buildings. This complaint he aired in the House.

When the announcement was made by Hon. N. S. Lougheed yesterday that authority did not exist, Mr. Pattullo became doubly interested in the bill, and informed the House that he wished he had known this a few weeks ago.

The lack of authority in this matter will apply particularly to parking about the Parliament Buildings, and also about the Court House in Vancouver. In the latter case the minister said that the lack of regulations was liable to be serious there, in case of a fire nearby.

The fact that authority did not exist was only discovered, the minister said, a little time ago.

CONTRACTORS' DEPOSITS

Mr. Lougheed said, on the second reading, that provision was being made in the bill to take care of a practice that had long existed, and which it was deemed wise to have legal authority given for it's carrying on. This had to do with the deposit which was made by contractors with the Government. In many cases these deposits amounted to a very considerable sum of money. To hold these meant a great deal of inconvenience sometimes. It was provided that as the work progressed there could be a gradual reduction in the deposit, so as to allow the money to be used, and at the same time not endager the position of the Government with the work.

There was provision also, he said, to allow of the disposing of material amounting to less than $1,000

Public Men Laid Aside by Sickness

THE photographs here show two widely known men in the affairs of the world who have recently been the victims of ill health. Left, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, noted spiritualist and author and creator of Sherlock Holmes, who is reported to have been confined to his bed for the past few weeks. Overwork during a spiritualist campaign in Scandinavia is said to have weakened his heart. Right, William Howard Taft, who recently resigned as Chief Justice of the United States on account of ill health, is reported improved and able to sit up for a few minutes every day. Yesterday he was able to sign an important document.

HOUSES SHAKE AS EARTH IS ROCKED

FRANKLIN, N.H., Feb. 14.—Two distinct earth tremors in rapid succession shook the city at 1:15 a.m. today. Residents were awakened by a heavy rumbling and windows and dishes in houses were shaken. No damage was reported.

MANY AMENDMENTS TO ACTS NEEDED

(Canadian Press)

TORONTO, Feb. 14.—After a five-day conference here during which the problem of legislating against illegal and unscrupulous actions on the part of stock brokers and exchanges was discussed fully, the representatives of six of the Attorneys-General of Canada left tonight for their respective capitals in complete agreement on all points.

As a result of the conference, five, and possibly seven provinces will adopt a uniform Security Frauds Prevention Act, aimed at the elimination of illegal short selling and bucketing practices on the part of brokers. These will be: British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, and Ontario.

Quebec with its separate civil law—the Code Napoleon—will have an act patterned after the "Master Act" as closely as possible. Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia, while not represented at the conference, signified their intentions of adopting any recommendations made. New Brunswick was not represented.

REPORT NOT PUBLISHED

The report of the conference was not made public here. Each delegate will report back to his own Government and steps will be taken to incorporate in each act, the regulations recommended at the LONDON, England, Feb. 14.—All the deeper forces operative at the Naval Conference continue to warrant confidence in a favorable issue of the delicate and difficult discussions. Certain superficial features of the situation have been given prominence. Differing views concerning submarines have had their airing. Big navy and small navy standpoints have been expounded. Anglo-American and Italo-French parities have thrust themselves into the foreground. There has been the more or less exciting incident of an American proposal for a battleship excelling in fighting potentiality every other ship on the seas.

But the conference has not been wrecked. It pursues its initial purpose, to accommodate the particularist points of view of the five chief naval powers in a treaty reducing and limiting warship construction. So long as this work progresses ordinary folk, I assume, may regard not, to be sure, without interest, but certainly without undue perturbation, the little day by day ups and downs of the conference. It would require decidedly more than anything yet in sight to bring the efforts of the five delegations to nought.

WORKING IN EARNEST

Why is this? It is because there is unanimity of desire for peace. None of the five nations wants war and none desires that perpetuation of naval competition which presages war. This is a conference, as I have stated before, in the spirit of the Briand-Kellogg pact. The nations

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Feb. 14.—"It is obvious the Labor Government is built on shifting sands," asserted Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, leader of the Conservative Party of Great Britain, speaking at a luncheon of the Unionist Council here today.

"A curious feature of Labor in office is that the leaders are spending their whole time trying to wean the party from the Socialism they have preached for forty years," he added.

There was no consistency, no sin-

DEMANDS OF FRENCH ARE MAIN ISSUES

Naval Conference Reaches Point When Tonnage Ratios Constitute First Direct Problem

THINK FRENCH ARE ONLY BARGAINING

With Main Questions Confronting Them, Delegates Hope to Conclude Work About March 15

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
(Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 14.—France wants to double her quota of cruisers, as fixed by the Washington Treaty of 1922. This, it is calculated, is the effect of the French memorandum on naval policy submitted last night. It is the first problem with which the naval conference is now confronted.

QUESTION OF RATIO

The Washington conference fixed a ratio in capital ships of five for Britain, five for the United States, three for Japan and 1.67 for France and Italy each. France objected to this ratio at the time, though she accepted it and, in fact, never actually built up to it.

But for cruisers and destroyers France is now asking for a lump tonnage of 383,447, compared with the 539,000 tons of cruisers fixed in the Anglo-American parity agreement. These figures, if accepted by the present conference, would scrap the Washington ratio.

RIOTING AND FIGHTING IN MANY CITIES

Drive on Gangsters Continues at Chicago and Riots Call Police Out in Other Places

COMMUNISTS CALL BIG GATHERINGS

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—All was quiet in Chicago gangland today. Comparative peace reigned and the imps of superstition chuckled at those who expected repition of, or reprisal for, the St. Valentine's Day massacre of a year ago. The zero hour came and passed and there was not so much as a "boo" from gangland. Victims of the massacre last St. Valentine's Day were seven members of the George "Bug" Moran band of rum purveyors. They were lined up in a garage by opposition gangsters, posing as police, and killed by machine guns.

Any advantages in the war on hoodlums today were on the side of society. Seven men, among them some "big shots" from the hoodlum camp, were named in indictments for gun-toting. They were Bernard O'Donnell, George Barker, William "Three-Fingered Jack" White, Thomas Vinceri, Herman Tinson, John Clekay and Albert Carter.

Arraignment of nine others indicted previously and assurance of

COMOX-ALBERNI NOMINATION IS SET MARCH 26

Conservatives of Northern Island Riding Will Meet at Courtenay to Choose Nominee Next Month

MR. T. H. KIRK WILL ATTEND

A convention of the Conservatives of the riding of Comox-Alberni has been called for Wednesday, March 26, at Courtenay, for the special purpose of nominating a candidate to represent the party in the forthcoming Dominion election. Announcement is made well in advance of the date so that there may be a very representative gathering at the convention, which will gather on the date fixed to name whom the Conservatives of Comox-Alberni believe will be a winning nominee.

Mr. T. H. Kirk, M.P.P., president of the Provincial Conservative Association, will attend the convention, and so will Mr. J. J. Blair, provincial organizer.

The seat is held by Mrs. A. W. Neill, who contests the riding as an Independent.

Assured that a strong candidate will be selected the Conservatives are taking steps to prepare for a vigorous campaign, and to be ready for the election at whatever time the poll is called. The district is a difficult one to cover, and the early nomination of a candidate is felt to be a necessary factor in assuring success.

Appointments to Senate Are Not Made by Cabinet

OTTAWA, Feb. 14. — The Senate appointments were not considered at today's meeting of the Cabinet, Premier Mackenzie King announced this evening. The Prime Minister said that the long sitting had been spent in discussion of measures in respect to war veterans. He had nothing further to announce.

Japanese Not To Go Where Not Welcome

TORONTO, Feb. 14.—Japan has no desire to intrude in countries where her people are not welcome, said Hon. I. Tokugawa, Japanese Minister to Canada, who is a visitor to Toronto for five days. He was the guest of Hon. W. D. Ross, Lieutenant-Governor, at a dinner last night. On Monday he will address the Canadian Club.

In an interview, the Japanese diplomat said:

"So long as the immigration question is dealt with by a country in such a way as not to hurt the sense of dignity and honor of the other country, that other country has nothing to say.

"We are sending numbers of our people to other countries—so long as they are welcome. There is no point in our people going where they are not welcome. The laws of some countries are closed to them, but there are some countries, such as Brazil, where they are wanted.

"Some day the immigration and emigration question will have a more international aspect. I am not predicting the exact nature of this development. Ten years ago who could have foretold such events as the broadcasting of a speech over the ocean. Other large developments may be expected, and one of them may be this international regard of immigration."

Communist Riots Promptly Ended In Indo-China

(Associated Press)

PARIS, Feb. 14.—The Ministry of the Colonies announced tonight that French soldiers had put down the recent Communist agitation in Indo-China and that peace and quiet now prevailed there. Martial law had been maintained in several districts.

The communique said the violent uprising at Fort Yenbay was not aimed against overstrict military discipline, but had been fostered by Communist propaganda. The Communist party newspaper, L'Humanite, affirmed on the contrary that the people of Indo-China were struggling for freedom from French imperialist domination.

Five French officers were killed and five were wounded during the mutiny of native riflemen at Fort Yenbay on February 12. Bombs were thrown in Hanoi, and troops had to repress an uprising in Hunghoa.

Australian High Tariff Is Defended

(Associated Press Cable)

CANBERRA, Australia, Feb. 14.—A defence of Australia's "high tariff" policy was made by Prime Minister James Scullin, head of the new Labor Government, tonight. The tariff was designed to attract manufacturers to Australia, he said, and the success of this policy had already been shown by the large number of British concerns which had established factories in the Commonwealth.

Goods which Australia would be unable to manufacture herself will be warmly welcomed from Great Britain, he said, but in any event the present financial condition of Australia made necessary a reduction in imports.

ALLEGES HOLDUPS TO BE ONLY FAKES

Report of Police Chief Bingham, of Vancouver, Gives Details of Robberies He Contends Have Been Fictitious—Declares He Has Signed Confessions as to What Really Happened

Prosecutions Likely Will Be Taken in Some Cases

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14.—Chief of Police W. J. Bingham branded as "an absolute fake" the alleged recent holdup of Mr. W. F. Brougham, city lawyer, when jewels worth $7,500 were reported to have been taken, when he appeared before the city police commission today. The chief made this charge in reply to a question from Mayor W. H. Malkin, chief police commissioner, and his statement proved the high light of today's session of the commission which is investigating police affairs.

At Wednseday's session of the commission, Chief Bingham made the charge that fifteen recent alleged holdups were fakes.

MAY PROSECUTE

Today the chief stated that he was securing legal advice with the object of prosecuting all those reporting fictitious holdups, and just prior to adjournment of the session, the commission ordered the matter referred to the corporation counsel.

When the Brougham report had been read today, Mayor Malkin asked the chief if there were any more to the case, and the latter replied that as far as he was concerned the case was closed.

"What is your opinion?" asked the Mayor.

"It is an absolute fake, sir," replied the chief.

In the case of Mrs. Annie Robinson, who alleged she was beaten by a thug last Friday in a house on West First Avenue, where she was employed as housekeeper, Chief Bingham said that in his opinion, it was "clearly the work of a highly strung woman's imagination.

"I leave it to the commission as one of those very doubtful cases," the chief added.

HAD NO BRUISES

He stated that despite the fact that Mrs. Robinson's story of the holdup told of an alleged brutal attack by a man who dragged her upstairs, and who struck her on the head, the woman had received no bruises, according to her own admission.

CHINA MAKES PREPARATION FOR TROUBLE

Thousands of Troops Being Moved in Readiness for Expected Renewal of Fighting Soon

FIVE GENERALS TO TAKE PART IN WAR

By REGINALD SWEETLAND
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

SHANGHAI, China, Feb. 14.—With the determination of the Nanking Government to recruit more than 60,000 men for the formation of five complete new divisions of troops, preparations are well under way for renewal of fighting in China this Spring. Such a development is already the foregone conclusion of many persons here.

This recruiting campaign is not alone confined to the regions under Nanking's control, but it is pretty general throughout the country. Reports are that General Yen Hsi-Shan, powerful independent war lord and Governor of Shansi Province, is active in Peiping and the North generally, and is outdoing Nanking in calling men into service.

DEMAND SHIPS

Part of this preparedness campaign was brought close to Shanghai yesterday, when the Government demanded ten Chinese vessels for troop transportation; but when these were not forthcoming, it cancelled the sailing permits of all Chinese ships leaving Shanghai for two days pending negotiations with the heads of Chinese shipping firms.

At the same time, Nanking has been engaged upon large troop movements down the Yangtze River from Hankow to Pukow, across the river from Nanking, during the last

Protest Against Dress of Women Made by Vatican

(Associated Press)

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 14.—The Sacred Congregation of the Council has issued instructions to all Roman Catholic bishops of the world regarding the campaign against immodest dress of women.

The instructions say that insufficiently dressed women should not be admitted to the sacrament of communion, to congregation rules or to act as godmothers at the sacraments of confirmation and baptism, and if necessary should be sent away from the churches.

Government Boosts B.C. Made Goods In Its Latest Tenders

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14.—Officials of the British Columbia Products Bureau are elated over the boost given to British Columbia-made goods this year in the tenders which the Government is asking for supplies for provincial institutions.

"I agree to supply nothing but British Columbia products where these can be obtained at prices which compare favorably with prices of similar products elsewhere," reads a clause in the Government tender forms.

This is the first time in the history of the province that this stipulation has been made in Government tenders, officials of the bureau state, and they regard it as a big boost for the objective towards which they are working.

The "Made in B.C." campaign has received valuable support recently from various women's institutes throughout the province. The Salmon Arm Women's Institute opened a "Buy B.C. Products" week on February 11, members of the institute making personal appeals to all Salmon Arm merchants to assist in the campaign.

The Oliver Women's Institute is planning a similar campaign to open on March 3, and the Chilliwack Women's Institute will follow suit during the week opening April 19.

Legislature Receives Bill to Incorporate B.C. College of Drugless Physicians

CREATES STATUS OF PROFESSION

In the Legislature yesterday afternoon a bill respecting the practice of drugless physicians was introduced into the House on motion of Mr. William Dick, of Vancouver. The bill passed its first reading and was referred to the private bills committee.

Drugless physician, under the Act includes any person who, by the application of drugless therapeutics based on Nature cure philosophy, uses, directs, advises, prescribes, or applies food, herbs, roots, barks, water, light, heat, exercise (passive or active), manipulation; adjusts tissue, vital organs, or anatomical structure by manual, mechanical or electrical methods, appliances, or instruments or other natural agency, to assist Nature to restore a psychological or physiological interfunction for the purpose of maintaining a normal state of health in mind and body.

The British Columbia Institute of Sanipractice and Naturopathic Practitioners is to continue as a body corporate under the name of the B.C. College of Drugless Physicians. There is provision for a council to have charge of the work, and this council shall name examiners. A course of examinations is set out, with rules and regulations governing the body corporate.

It is provided in the bill that persons registered under the Act shall exercise the rights to practice in a professional way, and have other rights such as are possessed by the ordinary medical men.

UNIVERSITY MEN KILLED BY PEONS

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 14.—Four students of the University of Mexico were killed and seven wounded when they entered the "Hacienda Land" in the State of Gueretaro on a field trip and survey.

Peons and agrarians, mistaking the mission of the student body for a religious mission, opened fire on the party.

cerity in the Labor Government, Mr. Baldwin declared. The Government had no intention of bringing about a condition of things which the ordinary Labor parliamentary candidate had promised, because the leaders knew it was impossible.

by advertising it locally instead of having to go through the necessity of a regular system of provincial wide advertising.

The bill passed its second reading.

INSURANCE BILL

Hon. R. H. Pooley, in moving the second reading of the bill to amend the Insurance Act, said the measure was more or less a technical one. The subject matter had been taken up with the insurance agents, and the companies. It was really a family arrangement between those concerned, with ample protection afforded the public.

In reply to Mr. A. M. Manson, the Attorney-General said it was in line with that adopted in other provinces.

The bill passed its second reading.

APPEAL COURT

It is proposed under the bill to amend the Court of Appeal Act, that this court in dealing with appeals shall be constituted with an odd number of judges on the bench. This would avoid the judges dividing evenly on a decision.

Mr. Pooley in moving the second reading, said the bill had been submitted to the Bar Association, and also to the Chief Justice as a matter of courtesy.

One of the points referred to was with respect to a majority judgment. The bill provided that an odd number of judges should sit on an appeal. This would do away with the uncertainty, following an even division of the judges when four sat on an appeal.

The bill followed the practice of the Canadian Supreme Court.

Mr. A. M. Manson felt it was hardly fair to require that one judge, when able to sit, should have to remain off the bench. He saw difficulty in deciding which judge was to remain off the bench in a case.

He thought the practice was not followed by any other province.

Mr. Pooley said that in the Supreme Court of Canada the rule was that four might sit, with the consent of all parties only.

The bill passed its second reading.

LEGAL PROFESSIONS

The bill to amend the Legal Professions Act was explained by the Attorney-General as having been submitted to the Benchers of the province.

Under the bill a member of the legal profession might submit his bill of charges in a lump sum, with the provision, however, that in case of dispute as to the bill, the details would have to be produced when taxing of the bill took place.

Mr. T. D. Pattullo felt that members of the legal profession when heard on a matter like this were all prejudiced witnesses.

He argued that every client should have the details of the bill. The taxing of the bill would mean more expense.

Mr. Pooley said the taxing would have to be without extra cost.

Mr. Manson argued that in a small bill the taxing costs would exceed the advantage to be gained. Moreover he felt that the conscientious solicitor would be a loser by not submitting the bill. He asked that the bill be withdrawn.

Mr. C. F. Davie asked if there was a general demand for this bill or was there some special reason for it.

Hon. J. Hinchliffe said that if the lawyer did not think it to his advantage to render his bill in a lump sum, it could be depended upon he would not so render the bill.

The answers from the Benchers' Society was that the opinion was unanimous in the matter. The practice in Ontario was practically the same as this.

On motion of Mr. W. O. Kennedy the debate was adjourned.

LAND SETTLEMENT

The amendment to the Land Settlement Act introduced by the Minister of Agriculture proposes to give the power to borrow money for relending to farmers so as to enable them to deal with such transactions as increasing the stock of cattle on the farm and also for the supplying of water on farms.

Hon. W. Atkinson explained that it was proposed to borrow money to be used in purchasing cattle for settlers. He said that his visit to the Peace River had influenced him in reaching this conclusion. There were not sufficient cows to fill the needs of the district. Under this amendment help could be given these farmers who would return the prices later. It was also provided that aid might similarly be given in the sinking of wells by providing the needed machinery.

Another section of the bill provided money for the putting in of a water supply to Camp Lister. Some thirty settlers had gone in since this water system was provided. The money would be returned to the Government. It was asked now to ratify the expenditure.

Dr. H. C. Wrinch moved the adjournment of the debate, which carried.

FIRE MARSHAL BILL

The Attorney-General, explaining the provisions of the bill to amend the Fire Marshal Act, on the second reading of the bill yesterday, pointed out that the main section of the Act called for better inspection of schools, hotels, theatres, skating rinks, etc., than had prevailed. The fire marshal in cities was required to make frequent inspections. Another provision made for supplying in buildings of more than one story adequate means of escape in case of fire.

A provision was in the bill, as a result of a regrettable fire in Vancouver, for making of regulations by the Governor-in-Council for seeing that proper control was kept over the construction and installation. The bill passed its second reading.

LAND ACT

Hon. F. P. Burden, on the second reading of the bill to amend the Land Act, explained that the bill concerned only a few scattered parts of the province. These were tracts that had been taken up by preemptors previous to the new regulations. It was found in some instances more than the statutory amount of timber was on the land to that allowed under preemption. These settlers felt that they should be allowed to sell the timber.

In reply to Mr. T. D. Pattullo the minister said there were only forty-two tracts involved, and in many instances these had been dealt with. It was deemed wise to remove the reservation and allow the timber to be used.

Mr. Pattullo said it was impossible for the department to keep tab on the areas taken up as preemptions in the days when there were thousands of these being taken up for speculation. In instances there were areas where the timber was cut off and sold, and the man then vacated the land.

The Leader of the Opposition said he felt the nummber of areas given was too low. He would agree with the minister to allow those who had remained on the land the privilege of taking advantage of this rule.

Mr. Pattullo said that he had understood that in the Prince George district, in spite of the fact that certain lands carried more timber than was allowed to be preempted under the preemption law, that persons were allowed to go ahead and preempt. Later a stumpage value was placed on this timber and collections made. Even if this were done by the Government to which he belonged, it was not fair and a refund should be made to these men. The bill passed its second reading.

IS MUCH BETTER

are seeking not means of successful aggression, but means of successful defence. Never in the past has there been an international conference dedicated with such single-mindedness to the sole question of security.

Italy, strictly speaking, was the one nation suspected of warlike intentions when this conference opened. Every other nation represented was satisfied with the status quo. Great Britain had all the territory she wanted. America wished to abandon rather than seize territory. Japan had no complaint to make about things on the mainland of Asia. France's colonial empire was all she cared to take on. But Italy was overcrowded. Italy needed more room. It was imagined that she might be preparing to fight for more room.

ITALY PACIFIC, TOO

But Italy, too, came to London in a pacific mood. She has been the one consistent champion of drastic naval reductions here. Some people smile cynically at her. They say she wants drastic naval reductions for the reason that she has no money to build warships. This is a mischievous point of view. It would be not only a European but a world misfortune if the great people of Italy were forced to the conclusion that armaments offered nations their only hope of decent consideration.

I have said that this is a conference in the spirit of the Briand-Kellogg pact. So it is. But for that pact it probably would not have been called, and if called it would have had relatively small chance to succeed. It is by no means strange, therefore, that the pact cannot be excluded from the official interchanges. So real it is even to the ultra-realistic French that they are insisting upon its being made one of the great practicalities of the conference—a thing as substantial in the balance of forces as battleships and cruisers themselves.

What answer the American delegation will give as the last word to the French, I do not know. What answer the American Senate finally would give, I am still further from knowing. But everyone knows that the body of American opinion, far from negligible, would acclaim prudent measures making the pact less easy of violation than it is now.

Political Clash At Buenos Aires Is Fatal to Two

(Associated Press)

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 14.—Two persons were killed and more than a score wounded, some seriously, in a clash last night between Conservatives and Radicals at Lincoln, Province of Buenos Aires, more than 400 shots being fired.

Among the seriously wounded are the Conservative Deputies Manuel Frisco and Vignart. One of the dead is a police sergeant. Several of those seriously wounded probably will die.

The clash occurred while the Conservatives, who recently have increased their political strength at the expense of the Radicals, were holding a meeting in the principal square of the city. They were fired upon by their opponents, who were hidden on the roofs of neighboring houses and behind motor cars.

STRENGTHENED BROKERS' LAW IS PROBABLE

conference. Because of the fact that each province will adopt quite the same number of recommendations, but in the end, practically all of Canada will operate under the same law.

During the five-day period, the whole brokerage situation, in all its ramifications, was discussed. Three committees were appointed, each to study one phase. They dealt with general amendments to the Security Frauds Prevention Act, regulations to be observed by stock exchanges and amendments to Dominion Acts, the Criminal Code and the Dominion Companies Act.

CONTENTIOUS POINTS

One of the most contentious points discussed was whether certain regulations were to be incorporated in the Security Acts or drafted into the constitutions of the exchanges. In the latter case, observance of the regulations would be demanded from the exchange on the part of each of the members. Only more rigid and exacting regulations were made part of the Security Act, the more elastic matters being referred to the exchanges.

Recommendations to be made to the Federal Government will include amendments to the Criminal Code on matters conflicting with the Provincial Security Acts and to the Dominion Companies Act. Under the latter act, there is an over-lapping of authority when a company, operating a Dominion charter, sells its stock within a province under provincial regulations. This overlapping of authority will be cleared up in recommendations.

Two Are Killed at Plant of Refinery

(Canadian Press)

SUDBURY, Ont., Feb. 13.—Joseph Piche and K. Saiktonen, both of this city, were killed today in an explosion at the Ontario Refinery Company, at Copper Cliff. One other man was injured.

The men were employed by the Fraser Brace Company and were working on the construction of the new refinery.

their speedy trials, also was counted a police victory. Others of more importance obtained continuances to enable them to meet the high bonds set in the gun-toting indictments, among them Jack McBurn, alleged lieutenant of Scareface Al. Capone, Tony Accado, his bodyguard.

One sentence for carrying a gun was meted out in municipal court. It went to a woman, Miss Marie Fletcher, who some weeks ago let a gun drop from her purse while she was being questioned about another matter. She was sentenced to thirty days in jail and fined $10. Among 124 arrests last night, swelling the total prisoners of the police drive to more than 3,000 to date, was that of John Neville, who was named by the dying William Healy as the man who shot him on February 4.

While police continued their hackling campaign against the hoodlums, the Association of Commerce approved a move designed, they said, to cause reorganization of the police department and possible elimination of many "swivel chair" jobs.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—An Italian, identified at the detective bureau as Tony Lombardo, thirty-five-year-old pickpocket, was shot to death in a west side alley tonight. The slaying was the first major crime on the anniversary of last Valentine Day's massacre of seven gangsters.

The Italian's body was found by residents attracted to the scene of the firing by several shots. The man apparently had been killed with a shotgun.

Another Tony Lombardo was shot to death on a crowded loop street one afternoon more than a year ago, but police said the two were not related. The man killed in 1928 was an ally of "Scarface Al" Capone and head of the Union Sicilian.

CAB STRIKERS BUSY

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 14.—Tear gas was used by police again to quell crowds which sought to attack strike-breaking cab drivers and cab guards. Two cabs were burned during the day and drivers and guards were stoned in different parts of the city, where cab operators have been on strike for more than a month.

The gas was released late today, police said, when persons gathered along sidewalks threatened to rush cabs.

One driver was said to have suffered a possible fractured skull when his cab was the target for stones and bricks. He was taken to hospital. Three other drivers and guards also were treated at hospitals for injuries suffered when their machines were attacked.

The brakes of a cab were released on a hillside street in the Oakland district and the car ran wild, overturned in a ravine and took fire. Another cab was set on fire, police said.

COMMUNISTS ACTIVE

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14. — A crowd of about 200 men and women marched on City Hall today and were halted in a skirmish with police on the north plaza of the building as several of them endeavored to force their way upstrais to the office of Mayor Harry A. Mackey.

In the clash a score of marchers, including several girls, were knocked down, several policemen were tripped, some lost buttons from their uniforms, one marcher was hurt and seventeen persons, including three women, were arrested on charges of initiating to riot.

Police said they had advance warning of the march. Patrolmen were assembled outside and inside the City Hall when the demonstrators began marching about five squares away. They arrived at the north plaza of the Municipal Building carrying placards protesting against unemployment and industrial conditions. As they marched they threw circulars which read:

"The Communist Party of the United States has called for unemployment demonstrations in every city in the country on Wednesday, February 26. Have all the unemployed join councils of the Trade Union League and join this demonstration at factory gates and civic centres."

LUMBERMAN IS DEAD

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14.—Hugh S. Y. Galbraith, fifty-two, pioneer Vancouver lumberman and head of Galbraith Lumber Co., was found dead in his office by his son, Dr. Beecher Galbraith, tonight. Death is thought to have been due to heart disease.

"From the appearance of the house and the extended violent struggle, one would expect to find Mrs. Robinson in a state of collapse, but during the same evening she attended a Scottish meeting and appeared in her usual high spirits," declared the chief.

The Robinson case was tabled until next week by the commission.

In connection with the Brougham affair, the chief reported that according to two detectives, Mr. Brougham, although bald, was unmarked on the top of his head, despite the fact that the alleged holdup man was said by the lawyer to have struck him on the head.

The report added that the detectives reported that "according to Mr. Brougham's demonstration of how he was held up—the holdup man covered his head with the lawyer's brief bag—it was impossible for him to give any description of the robber as he had done to two constables immediately after the holdup.

BAD SIGNED CONFESSIONS

Of the fifteen fake holdups reported by the chief, he said two-thirds of them were signed confessions. The one-third, he said were merely the results of investigations by his officers, which proved, he said, the reports were false.

"The report of a young woman that she was forced into a car, doped and kidnapped by a man," Chief Bingham revealed, "turned out to be the result of a wild drinking bout in an office. This woman had had too much to drink and, anxious to see her home, the man had forced her into his car against her will and taken her home. The woman said she made up the story as an explanation to her people at home.

"Another case where a woman was beaten, slugged, robbed and then tied up, proved to be the story of a young housemaid who on the day of the report, was tired and wanted to rest instead of work. This story was made up to fool her employers."

MR. BROUGHAM DENIES

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14.—Detectives whose reports were read at Friday's police commission meeting made incorrect reports of his account of the robbery, Mr. Wilfred Brougham, Vancouver lawyer, charged tonight.

Referring to newspaper reports of Friday's commission meeting, Mr. Brougham said: "Referring to the reports in the press tonight, I wish to say they are in part incorrect and so twisted about as to entirely change the reports I made to detectives. The police commission heard one side of the story only, and I wish an opportunity to present my version of the incident, either before the police commission or in court. In the meantime I decline to enter into any controversy whatever, either with the statements of detectives or reports in the press."

TWO MEMBERS CRITICAL OF TAX RELIEF

Messrs. L. A. Hanna and George S. Pearson Doubt Proposals for Relief as Being Too Limited

PROCESS CALLED "SLOT MACHINE"

Mr. L. A. Hanna yesterday afternoon, while speaking in the House on the second reading of the bill to amend the School Act, paid a compliment to the attainments of the Minister of Education and his high standing in an educational way. At the same time, Mr. Hanna felt that perhaps these attainments might have worked to the disadvantage of the educational work of the province.

The member for Alberni discounted the argument of the minister with regard to supplementary readers, and expressed the opinion that the children of this province were well grounded in loyalty, despite the criticisms expressed with respect to the readers.

He felt that the members of the Government, good business men as they were, were not the best qualified to pass upon the readers. He would have preferred to have left this to a committee, with the Minister of Education at the head, and a number of representative teachers.

SLOT MACHINE PROCESS

The public, he said, had been led to believe that there would be some definite form of relief in the matter of taxation for school purposes this session. The bill showed that farmers and owners of wild lands were the only ones to get any relief. This might be all right as far as it went, but he felt that the farmers were getting relief by a sort of "slot machine process." He put his money in the machine. Later he found that some relief was forthcoming. There was nothing definite about what he was to get. This matter as to the amount was left to the Council of Public Instruction. He feared that there might be favoritism shown and that one part might get more relief than others.

The minister asked Mr. Hanna if he thought that a farmer who paid one mill on the dollar should get the same relief as one who paid thirty mills.

Mr. Hanna would not give a direct answer.

Mr. George Pearson did not find fault, from a national standpoint, for the Council of Public Instruction exercising some kind of control over the books used. This was especially wise, he thought, in view of the fact that many teachers had not reached an age to give them the necessary discretion in such matters.

SAYS TEMPORIZING

The bill, he argued, was a miserable failure from the standpoint of straightening out the subject of taxation. While he did not say that the people who were to be relieved did not deserve it, the bill only relieved a certain type. It was temporizing in the matter. He felt that the subject should be left until a more real and general relief was to be afforded.

The debate was adjourned by Dr. J. J. Gillis.

No Commission Was Paid On Government Purchases

Properties Acquired Last Year to Safeguard Parliament Square Cost $125,562.50—Senior Member for City Elicits Information

The interesting fact was brought out in the Legislature that in the purchase, by the Government of the province of the property which faces two sides of Parliament Square, the sum of $125,562.50 was paid, and that the work was carried out without any commission being required. The revenue from the property is $377 a month, with an additional $50 a year from sign boards.

Mr. Hayward asked the Hon. the Minister of Finance the following questions:

1. What was the total mount of money paid for purchase of property in the City of Victoria during the year 1929, and the valuation of same?

2. What is the total revenue received monthly from the above property?

3. Were any commissions paid? If so, to whom? State amounts with particulars in each case.

The Hon. Mr. Lougheed replied as follows:

"1. $125,562.50; valuation, $125,562.50.

"2. $377 plus $50 per year for signboards.

Queen Charlotte Islands to Have Herd of Elk

The Attorney-General of the Province, Hon. R. H. Pooley, as the responsible minister connected with the Game Department, has accepted on behalf of the Province a gift of eight elk from the Dominion Parks Board. The gift has been made through Major J. B. Harkin, Dominion Parks Commissioner, and the elk have been assigned to Queen Charlotte Islands.

The C.N.R. Company generously consented to convey the elk to the islands.

The location is felt to be an excellent one for the animals. There is nothing on the islands in the form of predatory animals likely to interfere with the multiplying of the elk, and it is therefore the hope of the minister that before long there will be a considerable herd.

The deer that were placed there some years ago are reported to be doing well.

Complete Plans of Auditorium Required Before Canadian Pacific Is Approached

The city council has informed the Chamber of Commerce that while it is prepared to reserve from sale the lots suggested for the site of a new auditorium and skating arena, it cannot authorize the auditorium committee of the chamber to open negotiations with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company at the present time.

A letter from the City Clerk, which was read at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the directors of the Victoria Chamber, stated that the council, acting in accordance with the recommendations of the auditorium committee, had set aside six lots on the south side of Belleville Street, between Douglas and Blanshard for a period of six months. The council, however, felt that more definite plans should be forthcoming before the Canadian Pacific Railway was approached on the matter.

WILL REPRESENT LITHUANIAN CASE

Bethel Staveley Darcus, who is taking part on the programme of the model Assembly of the League of Nations at the High School tonight, was born in Canada in 1913. He comes from a well-known Irish family, and is grandson of Solomon Henry Darcus, of Gardenmore, County Antrim, and great grandson of Colonel Solomon Darcus, B.L., D.L., and great-grandnephew of Admiral Lucas, who in 1854 gained for himself and the Royal Navy the honor of winning the first Victoria Cross by throwing overboard the live shell which fell upon the deck of his ship, H.M.S. Hecla.

On his mother's side, Darcus is the grandson of the late Jones Hodder Staveley, B.A. one of Ireland's cleverest barristers-at-law, and great-grandson of Captain Robert Grier, a celebrated Peninsular and Waterloo veteran, and cousin of Colonel Sir Charles W. Dunbar Staveley, C.B. and A.D.C. to the Duke of Cambridge, and of Admiral Sturdee, who commanded the British squadron in the battle of the Falkland Islands in 1914, and later participated in the battle of Jutland.

Bethel's father and five uncles served in the Great War, four with the Canadian forces, and two with the Imperial army.

In the Model Assembly tonight he will represent Lithuania.

Solarium Patient Keen to Return There

A returned Canadian soldier living in Tacoma who sent his small daughter to the Queen Alexandra Solarium, Malahat Beach, for treatment, has written to the medical superintendent, Dr. Wace, an appreciative letter in which he also indicates something of the child's affection for the doctor, nurses, and playmates whom she met in the institution. She has now returned to her parents, very much improved in health, and the following is an extract from her father's letter:

"Her one ambition seems to be to get back to the solarium. I'll tell you she certainly boosts the treatment she got there. We were so glad to have her back here at Christmas, but she didn't think it was anything to the one she spent at the solarium."

HUGE NUMBER OF EGGS IS HANDLED

B.C. Pool Sells Vast Quantity, Valued at $1,897,716 in Less Than Ten Months

With the end of the first fiscal year of the British Columbia Egg Pool, which period only covers nine and a half months, owing to the pool having started to operate last April 15, no fewer than 5,463,275 dozen eggs, to the value of $1,897,716, were handled by the pool. It is estimated that a full year of operation would have brought the turnover to well above $2,000,000.

The final payment of the sixth period of the pool has now been made and 1,786 persons have received cheques totalling $48,000. The sixth period, which lasted from December 7 to January 31, showed that the pool had handled 1,007,009 dozen eggs with a gross value of $400,000.

The sixth pool showed a marked expansion in volume and an improvement on the grades. The proportion of extras was 43 per cent; firsts, 25 per cent; pullet extras, 27 per cent; seconds, .89 per cent; cracks, 2 per cent; peewees, .42 per cent; and rots, .9 per cent. The proportion of high grade eggs was more than usual.

Prices were well maintained during the sixth pool, as the usual Spring increasing in laying had not occurred to an extent that would reduce prices. The next pool, however, is expected to reflect this seasonal increase in production throughout the country. Prices being paid to the pool members are: Extras, 41 1-2 cents; firsts, 37 1-2 cents; pullet extras, 33 1-2 cents; seconds, 25 cents; peewees, 23 1-2 cents; cracks, 24 1-2 cents; rots, 13 cents.

The cost of handling the eggs for the sixth pool works out at 4.386 cents a dozen. In accordance with the policy of the pool a deducation of on cent a dozen has been made for the reserve fund. A total of $33,500 is now in reserve and operating fund of the pool.

The annual meeting of the organization will be held on March 6 in New Westminster.

CHURCHILL LANDS EXPROPRIATIONS

Action of Beech Family Against Government Now Being Heard in Exchequer Court

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—Argument, which lasted most of today, will be continued in the Exchequer Court tomorrow in the expropriation proceedings at Churchill. The Minister of Railways, then Hon. Charles Dunning, expropriated very considerable tracts of land at Churchill when it was decided to build an ocean port there. Some of this property was owned by Mr. Frank Beech, of Moose Jaw, and since he was unwilling to accept the Government's offer, application was made to the Supreme Court to fix what the remuneration should be.

Most of the evidence was submitted at previous hearings, the only witness today being Mr. Dunning, who put in formal evidence as to the expropriation proceedings. The Beech case is in the nature of a test, since it is expected the values of the lots by other owners will be based to a considerable extent on the prices fixed in the preasent proceedings.

LARGE PROPERTY

The Beech property was divided into 153 lots, and the Government offered an average of $11.50 per lot, whereas the owner asked some $52,000 for the entire property.

Mr. W. C. Hambleton, of Winnipeg, who, with Mr. Hugh Robson, represented the Crown, contended that the court would only allow the owner the actual value of the property at the time of expropriation, not what it would be worth should Churchill grow into an important railway port.

Mr. W. Manaman, of Winnipeg, and Mr. E. S. Wilson, of Humboldt, are acting for Mr. Beech. The case is being heard before President McLean. Altogether some 1,400 lots have been expropriated at the townsite.

"They've hired a new motorman over at the Broad Street carhouse."

"Oh, really?"

"No, O'Reilly."

Learned New Way To Stop Headache

Mr. Aston Miller, a native of Bull Bay, Ja., learned how to drive away Sick Headache. He also had pains in chest, felt tired and somewhat depressed. "I purchased three bottles of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Before two bottles were used I felt like a new man. Weariness passed away, headache disappeared, my system was well regulated, and I am now enjoying perfect health. I urge others who are not feeling well to tone their system by Dr. Hamilton's Pills; their tonic effect is splendid, and they make you feel good all over." All good dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills in 25c boxes. (Advt.)

MAY AMEND MARKETING ACT

Averaging of Pools Between Shippers Is Under Consideration

A proposal to amend the Produce Marketing Act to make effective the principle of the averaging of pools as between different shippers in respect of domestic markets, was considered by the agricultural committee of the Legislature yesterday.

Mr. F. M. Black, chairman of the Interior Committee of Direction, in discussing the proposed amendment, stated that the matter of compulsory pooling was a new principle and did not interfere with any provisions in the Produce Marketing Act. It would, however, confer additional powers upon the committee under the Act.

Mr. E. J. Chambers, president and manager of the Associated Growers, strongly supported the project. He said that the proposal of a pool would equalize markets as far as the producers and shippers were concerned in a practical manner. It would stimulate the export business and develop it to a maximum. The amendment was not a radical departure from the idea of the Act.

RESOLUTION FAVORED

The speaker said that a recent meeting of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association convention a resolution was passed, by a vote of 72 to 11, approving of the suggestion that power be given the Committee of Direction to provide for the establishment of pools for any or all of the products under its control in order that the burden of surplus tonnage may be shared on an equitable basis by all producers.

Mr. R. B. Staples, representing the Sales Service, Limited, said his organization had voted practically unanimously in favor of the amendment. He felt that the proposed legislation would enable the Committee of Direction to enforce its regulations 100 per cent.

Opposition to the amendment was voiced by Major M. MacGuire, who represented the Independent Shippers' Association. He felt that the proposal was not economically sound, and cited the experience on the Prairies as a precedent against a pooling system.

SHOULD TAKE PLEBISCITE

Major MacGuire said that as the pooling plan was an entirely new principle, he felt that before such a system were adopted a plebiscite as to the views of the growers should be taken. He further considered that it would be unbusinesslike and inadvisable to take action before the report of Mr. Sanford Evans, commissioner investigating the problems of the fruit industry in the Interior, was tabled or made public. The speaker favored the continuance of the Market Produce Act with the present powers given the Committee of Direction, but said he was unable to support the amendment, which he termed "nebulous, undefined and lacking in essential details."

The pooling plan will be given further consideration by the House agricultural committee at its next meeting on Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. W. F. Kennedy, Conservative, North Okanagan, presided as chairman at yesterday's committee session.

ESTIMATE MADE OF B.C.'S DEBT

Gross Funded Debt Is $116,000,000, and Floating Debt Is $4,500,000, Official Says

The gross funded debt of the province was, in round figures, $116,000,000, and the floating debt was about $4,500,000, said Mr. E. D. Johnson, Deputy Minister of Finance, yesterday, in replying to questions asked him in the Public Accounts Committee of the Legislature regarding the public debt.

The policy of setting up a fund to cover the $3,000,000 of various trust funds held by the Treasury Department had not yet been carried out, the committee learned. Mr. Johnson explained that the Government had borrowed the $3,000,000 to restore these funds, but was using most of the proceeds of the loan for general purposes. Not to use the remainder would be poor business finance, he said, because it would earn only 3 1-2 per cent at the bank, and the Government would have to pay back 5 per cent for other money borrowed to take care of its current needs.

Captain Ian Mackenzie, Liberal, North Vancouver, asked that Mr. A. A. Shaw, chief of the staff of Hellwell, Maclachlan, be examined on the report of the Government auditors. While agreeing to Mr. Shaw being called, Mr. H. Despard Twigg, Conservative, Victoria, chairman of the committee, said he would not permit him to be examined on a report which had not yet been presented to the Legislature.

The committee was informed that under the system of requisitioning liquor put into practice by Commissioner Hugh Davidson, of the Liquor Control Board, requisitions came from the warehousemen and after being initialed by the liquor commissioner, went to the purchasing agent for action. Purchasing Agent Victor Rollins said that under these conditions the purchases were based on the public demand as shown by the depletion of stock.

POLICE AND PUBLICITY

The Vancouver police force appears to adopt a "hush hush" policy where crimes are concerned. The policy of Vancouver is also, to some extent, pursued in this city, where only a few of the housebreaking thefts of recent months have come to the ears of the public. The policy of secrecy is adopted because the police maintain that publicity would warn the criminals and they would make their escape. Whatever justification there is for this viewpoint the fact remains that arrests are few and far between, and, because of lack of publicity about crime, insufficient precautions are taken by the public to guard against marauders.

Vancouver is earning an unenviable reputation for crimes, and often crimes with violence. In that city the citizens know what is going on because those who suffer tell the newspapers as well as the police, and the people are becoming more clamant all the time for action by their police force. It is no answer to the wave of crime which has marked the present Winter there to say that many reports given to the police of hold-ups are of the "fictitious" variety. The mentality of a police force which eschews publicity is of a character which fails to recognize the mentality of criminals. The latter fear publicity more than anything else because they know that where it prevails entire communities are arrayed against them and that all eyes are on the watch to bring them to justice. Where there is lack of publicity there is a lack of arrests. This has been illustrated both in Vancouver and Victoria in recent months. The police commissions of both cities have a definite responsibility to the people at large in seeing to it that the latter are put into possession of information which will enable them to safeguard themselves and their possessions. Publicity is a factor recognized by all efficient police forces as an essential in the detection of those responsible for crime.

CHINESE IN CANADA

China has swept away extraterritoriality clauses in her foreign treaties with a stroke of the pen, but has not given to aliens in her midst those privileges in return which are accorded to Chinese who go to other countries. Chinese in Canada, for instance, are far freer to come and go throughout the country than Canadians and Englishmen in China. In the latter country foreigners are only allowed in certain places and are practically on sufferance wherever they go. In other words, in return for sweeping away special privileges to foreigners, China has not given generalized privileges. The situation thus created gives an opportunity, unlikely to occur again in the same way, for negotiations with China for the return to her shores of the Chinese population in this country. That population is now enjoying privileges that are not being accorded to British residents and travelers in China. The Nationalist Government there is pursuing a policy of ridding China of foreigners. In the process it should be possible for reciprocal arangements to be made whereby a problem which has agitated this province for over two decades can be solved.

ACROSTICS

"The modern crossword puzzle, which depends for interest upon the fact that the initial letter of a word across forms the initial letter of a word down, is a development of a very old form of puzzle," writes Mr. Charles Lea in "Great Thoughts." "The first scribe who idly wrote down the name of his beloved and then made the letters from the first letters of the word in praise of that lady, was the unwitting inventor of a very crude crossword." A later development was what was called the "square word," in which a small word was taken and each letter formed the first letter of a word reading down, and the words across read the same as the words down. As time went on and men became more proficient in the art of mastering words, the acrostic as a form of entertainment, and even instruction, flourished. An acrostic in its simplest form is a series of lines of which the first letters in each line forms a word.

The invention of the acrostic is usually credited to an ancient named Porphyrius Optatianus, but the comedies of Platus are in the form of acrostics, and there are even acrostics in the original Hebrew of the Book of Psalms. The one hundred and nineteenth Psalm is the original split into sections, each letter beginning with a letter of the Hebrew alphabet, which is still preserved in the English versions. Parts of the Lamentations and the Book of Proverbs, are in the acrostic style. Addison declared that the revival of the acrostic after years of neglect was due to the fact that the monks, having so much time on their hands, were forced to find some harmless occupation, and chose the making of puzzles as the least sinful. One of the most famous of the acrostic makers was Sir John Davis, a courtier of the seventeenth century, who at the close of Elizabeth's long reign issued a series of twenty-six acrostics in honor of Elizabeth Regina. These "Hymns to Astraea" were loaded with praises of the Queen, and were on such subjects as Spring, the nightingale and the month of September. The acrostic on the month of September is a good sample of Davis' versifying, and as September was the birth month of the Queen, the poet seized his opportunity and dragged the Queen into it; not, of course, to Elizabeth's dismay, for she was a glutton for admiration, and loved those who lauded her, no matter how extravagantly.

Queen Victoria was the next British ruler to be interested in acrostics, and quite a number were written by her for the amusement of her children. She did not make hers in the form of rhymed verses, but merely wrote down the clues, and left single words to be found which would fit, much in the same manner as crosswords are set out today. Many society weeklies still print acrostics each week, and this is suggested to be the result of the example set by Queen Victoria in the 'fifties and 'sixties of last century. Dickens wrote of Mr. Slum, the verse writer, selling an acrostic which he had written for Warren's Blacking. So it is evident that the advertiser realized the popularity of this form of puzzle. Keats experimented with the acrostic more than once.

BRAIN POWER'S REWARD

The exploits of Primo Carnera, the Venetian carpenter, who is earning money while in the prize ring at a rate approximating $8,000 a minute, have raised anew the question of how far brains count in this world of ours. In comparison with sporting and athletic prowess they seem to count for little. The exercise of a keen mentality and of expert technical skill, which may be the result of many years of concentrated work and study, reaps trifling sums as compared with the rewards that can be earned in the prize ring, on the golf course, in baseball, in a variety of sports that are becoming professionalized more and more all the time.

The most striking inequality in the scheme of things is found in the world's recognition of physical as opposed to intellectual feats. Brains count in all the worth while functions of this work-a-day world, but they take a secondary place to sporting prowess where monetary rewards are concerned. In the same way they are subordinated in the relative earning power of a Prime Minister as compared with a motion picture actress, or an electrical genius such as Mr. Thomas Edison as compared with a prize fighter. It is intellectual power that makes the machinery of progress go but as a motive force it is regarded as merely incidental in the human category. Truly it is a topsy turvy world in its perspective of rewards that should be given for work accomplished.

The Melbourne Australasian describes Singapore as the Verdun of the Commonwealth. It would be the fortress of defence of Australia's inviolability if that country were ever threatened from the sea. The Australasian also sees in Singapore a base required for the defence of India and of the British possessions in Africa, of the East Indies and the China Seas and as a door to naval strength in the Pacific Ocean. It is this great gate of defence that Great Britain's Labor Government is willing should be sacrificed.

RETRIBUTION

The soul into itself withdraws, thinking of all
The gay, heroical ardours it forsook, the years
That were made over sweet with passion, the tears
Love wept, dying of its own fullness, and the fall
Into the deep where the seven unholy spirits conspire
Against Holy Ones, turning the sky-born fire
Unto infernal uses, feeding beauty to the beast.
Remembering the dark rapture that was born of the feast,
It dreads the everlasting fire, the torment of sense.
Oh, unhappy, the judge is not without thee but within,
Who shall condemn thee, as retribution for thy sin,
To the consuming fire of thine own penitence.

—G. W. Russell (AE) in The Irish Statesman.

THE PRODIGALS

This was our day, and now the day is over.
The last of all our splendid wealth of hours
Fades with the fading gold of the West—O lover
How we were spendthrift with this gold of ours!
We squandered it on joys too frail to cherish—
Spent song, forgotten laughter, roses sere,
And love that dies with the sun; and now they perish,
And we are beggars, and the night is here.

Oh, dawn on dawn will rise for us, but none
Processional with pageant and with splendor
Will summon back these hours of lost delight—
Never cold moon nor strange and alien sun
Will lose Time's hold, nor bid the night surrender
The spoil on which the gates swing closed tonight.

—Edgar McInnis in The Dalhousie Review.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

There is a tide in the affairs of men

We have been very discreet in our references to the Wheat Pool and its policy of orderly marketing of products. There was a time when we thought we knew a good deal about cultivation of the soil and the handling of the produce thereof, but that was a long time ago, when we were very young and every agriculturist was free and independent and conducted his business upon an individual basis. Agriculture is not what it was in those far-off and care-free days. It is organized, holds meetings and discussions and passes resolutions. It has gone on its progressive way and left us floundering in the rear of the procession.

Only once have we made a reference to the Wheat Pool and its policies. In that reference we compared the Canadian, or Prairie, Wheat Pool to the wheat, or corn, pool formed in Egypt thousands of years ago. The Egyptian wheat, or corn, pool was formed by Joseph, and it was a success because the conditions were favorable to its success. There was a famine in the land and there was no corn anywhere else but in Egypt, and all that corn was held or controlled by Joseph, who was a statesman as well as an economist.

There may have been plenty of corn in remote parts of the world, then unknown to the Egyptians and their neighbors, but the means of communication and transportation in those days of antiquity and tribulation were limited. There were no railways, neither were there any steamships, nor electric telegraphs, then. Some adventurous spirits had tried to fly through the air, but those daring ventures were not conspicuously successful. So Joseph had everything all his own way, and anyone who wanted corn had to buy it from him.

You of course remember the story about the famine-stricken peasants of France, when the conditions in respect of transportation and communication were not much better than they were in the days of the Pharaohs. When the Queen of France, who knew as much about the agricultural methods of her day as we do about agricultural methods of our present day, was told that her subjects were crying for bread and could not get it, she asked why they did not eat cake. Of course the Wheat Pool never thought that by withholding its products from the market it could reduce the people of Great Britain, whose staple food is bread, to the extremity of eating cake. The purpose of the Wheat Pool was plain enough and legitimate enough. The Pool knew to a fraction the cost of producing and marketing corn, and it hoped by its policy to exact from consumers in Britain a price for its product that would not be altogether unremunerative to the farmers for their time and their labor.

Unfortunately for the purposes of the Pool, the millers of Great Britain seem to have been better informed about the "visible supply" of wheat in other countries than the advisors of the Pool. At any rate, thus far the British millers have demonstrated that they are independent of Canadian sources of wheat supply. Other countries, upon learning that John Bull was hungry and apparently resentful because of a suspicion that there was a movement to "hold him up," proceeded to feed him with wheat that, if it was not just as good as Canadian wheat, was good enough for immediate purposes. Cargoes of wheat were landed at British ports from Australia, from Argentina and from an unexpected place, Germany (exported with a bounty on its head). It is even said that Russia has dumped a considerable quantity of wheat on the British market, although that report apparently, according to the managers of the Pool, was circulated for purposes of propaganda.

When the policy of the Pool was first announced, we pointed out that the immediate effect of the policy would not be good for Canada, but trusted that the ultimate effect would be for the benefit of the country, for there can be no permanent prosperity in Canada if the basic industry of agriculture is not prosperous. One immediate effect of the Wheat Pool policy was a tremendous reduction in the earnings of all transportation systems and the loss of employment by thousands of employees of those systems. Another and later effect was a strain in the relations between the people of the Mother Country and the people of Canada.

The policy of the Pool has "started something" which was probably not contemplated by the framers of that policy. It has united not only all Canada, but the continent of America, for the purpose of preventing its failure and assuring its success. The bankers of Canada are behind it, the Governments of three provinces are behind it, the Government of the United States is behind it, and the Government of the United States is backing it with an appropriation of millions of dollars. What chance has the effete law of supply and demand against such a force as that? The tide in the affairs of the Canadian Wheat Pool is at the flood, and if it does not lead to fortunes for the farmers, there appears to be little chance of its recession leaving them high and dry upon the rocks.

THE FEAR OF DISEASE

Sir,—Now-a-days one cannot pick up a book or a paper without some medical advice as to what we should do or otherwise. Even children in the schools are scared of microbes. Last week I heard a lecture where a doctor advised parents to have seven different serums of seven different diseases injected into each child they had. In Sunday's Colonist a medical man advises the washing of the hands before touching the face or head. If one puts on his thinking cap for a moment, probably he will realize that the face and head are touched by the hands at least one hundred times each day.

Are we to carry around a sponge, soap, towel and a bowl of water everywhere. Twenty years back, about one hundred beds in the two large hospitals were sufficient. Now, with not much larger population, there are nearly 1,000. What is the matter? Are people being scared into diseases?

GUARANTEES FOR HONESTY

Sir,—Reading my letter on "Guarantees for Honesty" in the Sunday Colonist, I see that I may have given a wrong impression.

I do not attack all lawyers. I grant that there are many excellent ones of high integrity. I have at the moment lawyers acting for me in my home country, on the prairies, and here locally, with regard to my financial affairs, and against none of these, now acting for me, have I any complaint nor do I wish to reflect on them.

What I do complain of is the difficulty of getting effective punishment given to the black sheep of the profession. It is true that actual stealing, or misappropriation, of funds is punished—if the victim can afford to bring his case to court.

But there are many things, short of actually criminal, that cause great difficulty and damage.

My letter was written as a spur to honest lawyers to tighten up on the protection of themselves, and the public, against the unscrupulous ones who drift in and put on a great show in order to attract unwary clients. Lots of people are of the mistaken opinion that the more a solicitor is bedecked with outward paraphernalia as seals of honesty, the higher his integrity; that the more he advertises, the more attractive is the service he represents. They forget that the honest lawyer does not need to advertise; his good work and reputation are enough; and he is not constantly in need of new clients—he keeps the ones he has got.

I fully realize there are many wrongs our present laws do not cover, and I honor the advice of those who, to their own financial loss, tell me that I would not—after lapse of time, and the services of other agents of mine—now have sufficient chance of satisfaction. These men are not the men I said were shielding the guilty.

I do, however, think there ought to be more protection for unwary and trusting people; many of whom are wronged but are too timid, or too poor, to protect themselves, and are naturally afraid to trust in another lawyer after their experience with the unscrupulous ones. And I do think that by passively allowing wrongdoers to exist in their midst the profession, as a whole, does itself harm, and I want it to wake up and set its house in order.

The great humane principle of English law, that one is not guilty until proven so, is most merciful for the unhappy and unfortunate; and it is most just.

But it can also serve as a cover for those unscrupulous ones who know fully how to take advantage of it; and who, in a privileged position of trust, and in the handling of other people's means, can very effectively exercise the principle of possession, and resist justice; if remedies are not found to protect the public.

EDUCATIONAL WORRIES

Sir,—In reply to the letter of Mrs. Balss in Thursday's Colonist, I must confess that I am absolutely ignorant when it comes to replying to her question, "Does not the taxpayer in British Columbia pay for the education at the public schools of children of Chinese who may have more than one wife." Well, I will say I don't believe the Chinese in British Columbia practice polygamy, and I have never heard of them having illegitimate children. I am almost sure that the Chinese and Japanese are in many cases taxpayers in this province and also have one or two private schools in this city. I am almost certain that they would be perfectly willing to pay a special tax for the education of their children, because they realize the value of a fairly good education more than a great many of our own race do.

The serious problem of the Chinese is not for us to fight; it is for those who were responsible for allowing them into British Columbia in the first place. If we can in any way suggest a remedy, why it is our duty to do so regarding education.

Now, to cut my story short, I wish to inform Mrs. Balss that at the convention of School Trustees, held in Victoria in 1925, three resolutions were submitted by the Ladysmith School Board. One of these resolutions read as follows, "That a special tax be placed on all Chinese and Japanese in the province, to be used for school purposes only." I must admit, that I was responsible for these resolutions. It had been previously arranged at a meeting that if any of us had any resolutions, we could send them to the secretary of the British Columbia Trustees' Association direct, because there was not then time for discussion. Having had these three pet resolutions in my own mind for some time, I decided to act for the good of the province. The chairman and myself were appointed as delegates. At the convention he told me he had not heard the arrangement, and he thought that it should come before the board. Consequently I withdrew my resolutions, but not before another trustee had asked me if I would kindly withdraw another resolution because it had to do with his city and should be coming from his board.

Well, a trustee from a Vancouver municipality gallantly stood up and stated I should not be allowed to withdraw my resolutions. The Oriental one was an excellent one and should be discussed. Naturally I explained the reason in as few words as possible.

In the report of the trustees' convention of 1925 will be found the three resolutions, but there is an error. I personally withdrew my own resolutions on the floor at this meeting, and not the chairman, as is stated.

They were given in good faith, as a trustee, and it is every trustee's duty to try to do the best he or she can for the people. Had I known as much as I know now I would not have withdrawn them.

NEW COURTHOUSE SITE

Sir,—For some time I have had a notion that the city should provide something to attract the tourist in addition to what nature has already endowed us with—a fine climate and scenic beauty. I venture, therefore, to make a suggestion with a view to drawing out the opinion of others with respect to its feasibility.

To begin with, we are about to have a new courthouse. I have heard no suggestion as to any particular site being favored. For myself, I think that no more imposing or suitable site could be had than that of the old cathedral, set well up, practically open all round, right in the city and yet removed from all the bustle and noise of city traffic, a thing so essential in a deliberation chamber. If this be conceded, while erecting a building of which the city would be proud, combining beauty with utility, why not a reproduction of the "Parthenon," the rocky foreground of the site recalling the stadium where Plato lectured his pupils. It is probable that such a building would attract thousands more tourists to cross the line, most of whom would have little notion of ever ploughing the seas of the Mediterranean to view the remains of the original. I may here state that Chicago has reproduced the "Erectheum," which is used as a museum. Until industrials mature, I think it would be wise to fill in the time adding "features."

Dominion Delegates At Col. Stimson's

(Canadian Press Cable)

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The delegates from the Dominions to the Naval Conference will be guests of Colonel Henry Stimson, chief United States delegate, at Stanmore on Sunday. Colonel Stimson has obtained a residence at Stanmore, just outside London, where he spends the weekends.

Orange Notes

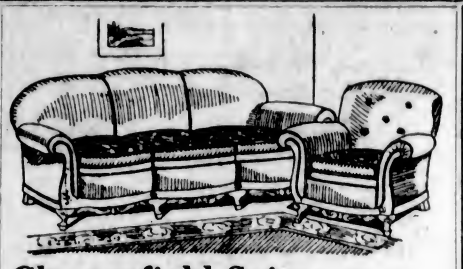

On Monday evening, February 10, Premier L.O.L., No. 1610, held its regular meeting in the Orange Hall, Courtney Street, Bro. Mayfield, W.M., in the chair, all other officers being in their respective stations. There was a good attendance of members and visitors. The lodge was addressed by several prominent members of the order. At its next regular meeting on February 24, this lodge will exemplify the Royal Blue and Royal Arch Purple degrees. All visiting brethren are welcome.

Sir Henry Wilson, L.O.L., No. 2922, held its regular meeting in the Orange Hall on Tuesday evening, February 11. Bro. James Dickson, W.M., in the chair. There was a good turnout of members and visitors. The lodge appointed three brothers to address the Young People's Society of C.E. of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Monday evening, February 17, on the "Aims and Objects of the L.O.L. and Protestantism." This lodge will hold a whist drive and dance in the Orange Hall on March 17. Tickets can be obtained from any of the members. The public is invited.

Britannia Lodge, L.O.B.A., No. 216, held its regular meeting in the Orange Hall on Tuesday evening, February 3. Sister Nichols, W.M., in the chair. There was a good attendance of members and visitors. Sister Ashworth gave an interesting talk regarding the juvenile lodge. Sister Gilson was appointed as a delegate to attend the Orange Grand Lodge session to be held at Harrison Hot Springs on February 18 and 19. Sister Wilson offered her home for the first sewing circle. Sister Hunter being appointed convener for same. All visitors are welcome to Britannia's next meeting in the Orange Hall, February 18.

On Saturday, February 8, the Juvenile Orange Lodge held its regular meeting in the Orange Hall. There was a good attendance of officers and members. One candidate was initiated. After lodge closed, Sister Hill, a visitor from Carnduff, Sask., gave a very interesting and instructive address, which was much appreciated by the girls. Several sisters of the L.O.B.A. also spoke. One brother offered to assist the members of the lodge to arrange programmes for concerts, the first of which will be held on February 21. Sisters Hunter and Ashworth, guardians, served refreshments, and all seemed to have a pleasant and profitable afternoon.

Queen of the Island L.O.B.A., No. 209, held its regular meeting in the Orange Hall on Wednesday evening, February 12. Sister Keating, W.M., presiding. Sister Graham in the deputy chair; all other officers being present, with a good turnout of members and visitors. The W.M. was appointed as delegate to the Provincial Grand Lodge meeting at Harrison Hot Springs, February 18 and 19. Sister Ashworth gave a strong invitation to the sisters to come and support the juvenile lodge concert to be held on February 21. Sister Baker invited all members to a daffodil tea at her home, 166 Joseph Street, on Monday, March 3, at 8 p.m.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any time, add 16.6 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Songhees drydock add 20 feet to the height of high water as above given.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis

THE PATIO

Fierce flows the noonday heat outside;
Its waves an angry, rising tide;
But here, beside the quiet pool;
The thick-walled patio is cool.
Like lace lie shadows of mesquite,
A fairy carpet for the feet.
Cast by a wide-spread, twisted tree
Along the ancient masonry.
A yucca flower lifts its spears
Against a cruel sky that sears
The prostrate Earrth, and by the gate
Two painted jugs of water wait;
Crude in their color and design,
Yet somewhere in each faulty line
A beauty dwells that satisfies
The thirst for all this hand denies.

TAKE HOLIDAY

WINNIPEG, Feb. 14.—Forty members of the North Dakota Bakers' Association, loafed around town yesterday as guests of Winnipeg bakers. They visited numerous points of interest in the city—including bakeries.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist, February 15, 1880)

The gale which prevailed from the southwest on Friday night was the most furious experienced here for several years. Ornamental trees and shrubs were uprooted in various parts of the city, much damage was done to roofs, and signboards swayed. At Esquimalt a shed on one of the wharves was blown down.

The subscriptions for the new hospital fund at Nanaimo total $806.50.

New Westminster has been proclaimed a port, with Mr James A. Halliday, of that city, as harbor master.

HEARING OF TWO SUITS ADJOURNED

Unfinished Trials in Supreme Court and County Court Are to Continue on Monday

Evidence for the defence was heard yesterday in the Supreme Court when hearing was continued of the trial of an action brought by H. J. Sceats and J. M. Murray against J. M. Young and the Glycerine-Pumice Soap Company, Limited, before Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald. At the conclusion of the sitting of the Court, adjournment was made until Monday for further hearing. Mr. Norman W. Whittaker is appearing for the plaintiffs and Mr. J. B. Clearihue for the defendants.

In the County Court, before Judge McIntosh, hearing was begun of a suit brought by V. M. Clarke against F. C. Marwood and G. H. Patton, in which the plaintiff claims for $390 and interest, on a promissory note. Not all the evidence was in when the Court rose, after Monday had been set for continuation of the hearing.

Mr. H. A. Maclean, K.C., and Mr. Gordon Cameron are appearing for the plaintiff, and Mr. C. L. Harrison and Mr. R. C. Lowe for the defendants.

HISTORY CLUB STAGES MODEL OF ASSEMBLY

League of Nations Delegates Depicted in Session by High School Students

RESOLUTIONS MADE IN MANY LANGUAGES

Happy was the idea which prompted the suggestion that the Modern History Club of Victoria High School might present, with advantage to history students and others interested, a model of the League of Nations' Asembly, with the delegates in session at Geneva.

From the finished manner in which the initial presentation was carried out last night in the gymnasium of the high school building, it was evident that a great deal of attention and care had been devoted to the proper detail by the instructors of the institution who were responsible for the representation of the famous assembly carrying on its activities for the benefit of mankind.

Splendidly conceived and admirably carried out, teachers and students are to be commended on the smoothness and lack of hesitation which characterized their combined interpretation of what transpired at the opening session of the Tenth Assembly at Geneva in 1929. The various speeches of leaders like Ramsay MacDonald, Aristide Briand, Herr Stresemann, Arthur Henderson and Dr. Nansen's secretary, were delivered with admirable diction and convincing force. Speaking on the signing of the Optional Clause, whereby signatory states bound themselves to accept the jurisdiction of the World Court in all legal disputes, representatives of fifteen nations stated their reasons with clearness and good enunciation, as did the delegates from the several countries who introduced proposals and resolutions to the assembly, a number of which necessitates interpretation, being spoken in the tongue of the national addressing the gathering.

Speaking immediately prior to the opening proceedings of the Model Assembly, Principal Dilworth told of the inception of the idea, and how it had been enthusiastically received by the members of the club. While it could not hope to be technically correct, the presentation would give some idea of the vastness of the work of the delegates who were working and thinking in terms of peace, which would eventually be accomplished as individuals became peace-minded. With the efforts to present the Model Assembly, Mr. Dilworth mentioned the names of Misses Shields and Walls, Mrs. Ramsdell, Messrs McFarlane, Dean and Goss.

LONDON BROKERS PAY ALL LOSSES

Five Million Dollars Are Raised to Settle Shares Sold by Hatry Group of Companies

(Canadian Press Cable)

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The Stock Exchange settlements in shares of the Hatry group of companies, held up since the crash last September, was effected yesterday. It was found yesterday that some of the Hatry interests had obtained payments from brokers for nonexistent shares, while other allied concerns bought the same securities, but were unable to take them up.

With a view to avoiding heavy losses, Stock Exchange failures and costly litigation an unofficial committee of the Stock Exchange was appointed to draw up a scheme providing for the formation of a fund of $5,000,000 from which all losses would be paid. All brokers and jobbers contributed $4,000,000 in fixed assessments, and the remainder was provided by stock exchanges and others who, while not directly involved, were anxious to preserve the "good name of the city," the financial section.

This fund is being paid out from yesterday by the trustees, the Royal Exchange Assurance.

MARINE SOCIETY ELECTS NEW HEAD

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 14.—Retiring from the presidency of the Shipping Federation of British Columbia, Mr. K. J. Burns, at the third annual dinner of the federation here tonight, relinquished his office to Mr. K. A. McLennan, president-elect.

Responding to the toast of the Federation, Mr. F. W. Peters, one of the pioneer shipping men of the province, recalled the stirring days which gave rise to the organization of the federation. He was followed by Captain E. Beetham, Captain E. Aikman, superintendent of ocean services for the Canadian Pacific; Mr. C. W. Tourtelotte, on behalf of Mr. B. C. Keeley, of the C.N.S.; Mr. E. J. Coyle, Mr. B. George Hansuld, Mr. A. N. Skill, Mr. B. W. Greer, Mr. J. H. Glendenning, Col. R. D. Williams and Mr. H. A. Stevenson were other speakers.

Robert Wattie to Face Witnesses on Monday

Hearing of the charges against Robert Wattie, which has several times been adjourned, was set definitely for next Tuesday by Magistrate George Jay in the city police court yesterday.

The formal charges against Wattie are for being unlawfully in possession of securities knowing them to be stolen. Wattie is the man who was recently arrested while endeavoring to cash a cheque said to be one stolen from the mails. A number of these cheques are officially reported to have been cashed in Victoria and Vancouver.

Ought Women to Stay at Home Is Topic of Debate

WINNIPEG, Feb. 14.—Two debaters of Wesley College, Winnipeg, and two others, chosen by the National Federation of Canadian University students, will attempt to place the fair sex in its place when they meet to debate the subject "Resolved, That This House Deplores the Emergence of Women From the Home."

The date for the debate has not yet been set.

Wild Rose to Be Floral Emblem of Alberta Province

EDMONTON, Feb. 14.—If proposals contained in a bill introduced by Hon. Perren Baker are agreed to by the Provincial Legislature, the wild rose will henceforth be the provincial floral emblem of the Province of Alberta. The bill has received first reading in the House.

Adoption of a floral emblem for the province will not change the provincial coat of arms.

Obituary

SIMSON—A quiet funeral service was held at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the presence of the family and a few friends for Mrs. Jessie Ada Simson. Rev. F. A. Ramsay officiated. The remains were forwarded later on in the day to Halifax, Nova Scotia, for interment.

REID—There passed away last evening, at her residence, 1271 Walnut Street, Mrs. Kate Reid, aged seventy-eight years, a native of Kitkatla, B.C., and a resident of Victoria for fifty years. She is survived by three stepsons, all of Victoria. The remains are resting at the Thomson Funeral Home, from where the funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

BOURKE—The funeral of Vincent Bourke, who passed away at the Jubilee Hospital on Wednesday evening, will take place this afternoon. Service will be held at the Thomson Funeral Home at 3 o'clock, Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick officiating. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery. The funeral will be under the auspices of Court Camosun, A.O.F.

CORCORAN—The death took place yesterday, at St. Joseph's Hospital, of John Corcoran, aged forty-seven years, born in Wales and a resident of this city for the past twenty years, his late residence being at 1624 Chambers Street. Mr. Corcoran is survived by two daughters, Margaret and Mary, at home, and a son in England. He was a member of Britannia Lodge No. 73, A.F. & A.M., and a member of the Eastern Star, also a member of the Canadian Legion and of the Army and Navy Veterans. The funeral will take place on Monday at 1 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Rev. Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe will officiate, and the remains will be laid at rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

SING—The death took place on Thursday, at the Chinese Hospital, of Chung Tim Sing, aged seventy-seven years, born in China and a resident of this city for the past forty years. For many years he has resided at 1629 Store Street. He is survived by his two sons, of this city. The funeral will take place on Sunday at 1 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel, and interment will be made in the Chinese Cemetery.

HOLLIDAY—The funeral of Mrs. Ann Holliday, who passed away at the family residence, 3243 Seaton Road, last Wednesday, will take place on Monday at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel, and the remains will be laid at rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

BROTHERSTON—Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Sands Funeral Chapel for Thomas Brotherston, twenty-one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brotherston, of Langford Station. Rev. A. L. Nixon will officiate and the remains will be laid at rest in Colwood Cemetery.

WESTGATE—Funeral services for Miss Winifred May Westgate took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Relatives and a very large gathering of friends were present, and the many beautiful flowers testified to the popularity in which the young lady was held by her many friends. Rev. F. W. McKinnon officiated and the hymns sung were "The Sands of Time Are Sinking" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Mrs. McKay sang the solo entitled, "My God, My Father, While I Stray." Messrs. R. Curtis, A. Evern, P. Huston, G. C. Dennis, F. Rodwell and G. Kelman acted as pallbearers, and the remains were laid at rest in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

NUM—Funeral services will be conducted on Sunday at 2:30 o'clock, at the Sands Funeral Chapel, for Chew Young Num, who passed away on February 8 at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. The cortege will proceed to the Chinese Cemetery, where the usual Chinese service will be conducted and the remains returned to the chapel and placed in the Sands vaults until some months later, when they will be forwarded to China for interment.

TOWNSEND—There passed away at the Royal Jubilee Hospital on Friday evening, Rebecca Townsend, aged sixty-seven years, of 381 Obed Avenue, formerly of Wilkinson Road, Saanich. Relict of the late William Townsend, Mrs. Townsend was born in England and had been a resident of Victoria and district for the last eight years. She is mourned by her sister, Mrs. George Billcock, of Prospect Lake; also a sister in Kroonstad, South Africa, and a brother in England. The remains are resting at McCall Bros.' Funeral Home. Announcement of the funeral will be made later.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 14.—The Toronto Telegram today predicts the appointment of Mr. W. E. N. Sinclair, leader of the Liberal party in Ontario, to the Senate.

DEMANDS OF FRENCH ARE BIG ISSUES

As Italy is also demanding parity with France, these ratios would finally be 5-5-3-3-3. It is unlikely, however, Japan would be content with such a new ratio, ranking her with France and Italy in cruiser strength.

TWO DIRECT PROBLEMS

The two immediate problems before the conference, therefore, arise from the French memorandum and are:

(1) Whether Great Britain, the United States and Japan will accept the doubling of the Washington ratio as applied to French cruiser strength.

(2) Restriction of the principle of transfer of tonnage from destroyer classes to the light cruiser class, and vice versa.

The latter point, while apparently only of a technical nature, is considered of great moment to the British position. France wants her tonnage of light cruisers and destroyers lumped in one category. Under this classification she could devote most of this tonnage to light cruisers, giving her further strength in this class of warcraft.

Britain, however, to meet the possible submarine menace, must maintain her destroyer strength.

BRITISH TENDENCY

The tendency in British circles, however, is to regard the French figures rather as bargaining figures than anything else. It is felt that with further negotiations the situation will be made easier. The French memorandum was under discussion between the British, American and French delegations today.

The whole situation again emphasizes that all naval strengths are relative. At least there is some satisfaction that the French have submitted concrete figures, which make a basis for discussion of actual naval strengths.

It is understood the delegates are hoping to conclude the conference by about March 15. The conference has just now come to the actual task of filling in the figures of total naval tonnages, after a month of preliminary discussion on the methods of limitation.

STRANGE ESCAPE OF YOUNG CHILD

Is Run Over by Locomotive and Six Freight Cars and Does Not Sustain Even Scratch

EDMONTON, Feb. 14.—Run over by a locomotive and six freight cars while laying between the ties on the railroad, two and a half miles west of Smithers, B.C., without receiving the slightest scratch, is the almost miraculous experience of Allen Forman, two-year-old child, who slipped away from his parents Sunday evening and toddled off along the track on an exploration trip. The story was brought to Edmonton today by A. Garfin, C.N.R. newsboy on the Smithers-Prince George run.

According to details which Garfin heard at Smithers, the child left home shortly before six p.m. Sunday. The parents noticed the child's absence and immediately commenced a search. Throughout the night the search continued with lanterns, dogs and fires, without any trace being found of the youngster. When an engineer of an eastbound freight rounded a sharp curve he noticed some object lying between the rails. Owing to the curve and speed the engineer was unable to bring the train to an immediate stop, but after passing over the object the heavy freight train was stopped. When the crew went back they found the little child lying unharmed between the rails in a slight depression which the warmth of his body had melted in the snow.

The child was immediately rushed to Smithers, where it was found that beyond having feet and hands slightly frozen he was uninjured.

two weeks. These troops, numbering over 50,000, are being sent up the Tientsin-Pukow Railroad, and are digging in around Hsuchow, in Kiangsu Province, in which Shanghai is also located.

FIVE RIVAL GENERALS

Central China, especially the region around Chengchow, which is the junction of the Lunghai and the Pelping-Hankow Railroads, remains a danger spot to China's peace, since the area nurses at least five generals, including the so-called Christian General Feng Yu-Hsiang, always an inscrutable factor in the Chinese scene. Each of these generals has personal ambitions, while loyalty of any to Nanking is more than questionable.

General Shih Yu-San, whose revolt at Pukow last December nearly wrecked the Nationalist Government, continues to be a threat to Nanking, and opinion is that a war against General Shih is necessary to get back the railroad equipment he seized. This included thirteen locomotives, ten of which, still unused, had arrived at Tsingtao from the United States on November 10, as well as other quantities of rolling stock.

TWO BROTHERS KILLED

JENA, La., Feb. 14.—Two brothers, Lamar Whatley and Gerady Whatley, were killed late today in an airplane crash near here. W. K. Davidson, pilot of the plane, was badly burned but is expected to recover.

SICILIAN QUAKES

SYRACUSE, Sicily, Feb. 14.—Two earth shocks, each lasting several seconds, wer felt here at 7:40 p.m. today. Similar shocks were noticed ten minutes later at Bengasi, Lybia, in Northern Africa.

SAN FRANCISCO HOT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—San Franciscans sought the shade today when the mercury, at 2 p.m., touched 76 degrees, the highest it has ascended on any February day since February 18, 1899, when it reached 80 degrees, the all-time record for the month.

"I'll go to work for You, Mother"

BRAVE words, bravely spoken. Boyish shoulders, braced to lift burden of responsibility beyond their strength.

It is a tragedy so common as to create but little comment . . . children starting out to fight life's battles, unequipped.

Have you thought of the story behind the little figure that urges you to buy a paper . . . that begs the chance to run an errand, for a few sorely-needed coppers? Have you imagined the plans that may have been made for his education—the hopes, held in happier days, for his future?

And have you considered what would be the fate of your boy . . . your girl . . . should you be taken away?

For the burden you drop must be carried on . . . on the frail shoulders of your children . . . .

No Decision Yet

No decision has been reached with regard to the award of a contract for the Kresge building, northwest corner of Fort and Douglas Streets, it was explained late last evening by Mr. M. J. Jacobson, representative of the S. S. Kresge Company Ltd., to whom tenders were submitted yesterday by several British Columbia contracting firms. The subject is receiving further consideration.

NURSES' HOME IS OPENED BY MRS. TOLMIE

Hundreds Attend Interesting Ceremony at Jubilee Hospital—Residence Greatly Admired

PREMIER RECALLS HOSPITAL HISTORY

In the presence of a crowd of a thousand or more people, whose interest seemed not a whit abated by the light drizzle of rain, Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, cut the ribbon across the entrance and opened the doors of the new nurses' home of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital.

"I now formally declare this building open, and hope it will have a long and useful history as the residence of the nurses of Jubilee Hospital," said Mrs. Tolmie in connection with the little rite, which concluded with a presentation to her of the silver scissors, with which she had cut the ribbon, and a handsome bouquet from the hospital. Doris Lancaster and Ruth Balcom, small daughters of two Jubilee Alumnae, made the presentation.

The home was immediately thrown open to the public, and for the remainder of the afternoon a continuous procession of visitors moved through the corridors on a tour of inspection of the spacious building which is to house the big nursing staff of the hospital from now on. Dr. E. M. Pearse, medical superintendent, and Miss Mitchell, director of nursing, acted as guides, assisted by the nurses who had formed the guard of honor at the entrance to the home earlier in the afternoon. Guests were warm in their encomiums of the commodious quarters which have been provided for the girls, and also expressed great admiration of the furnishings which various donors have given. The big recreation hall, where tea was served from a long buffet, beautifully arranged with red tulips and crimson tapers, was particularly admired.

Just after the doors were opened, inspection was briefly postponed while Premier S. F. Tolmie extended his congratulations to the board of directors on having at last realized a many years' inspiration. At the same time he gave a brief history of the Jubilee Hospital, and indicated how enormously hospital demands and facilities have developed since the foundation of Victoria's first institution of the kind in 1855. The completion of the new nurses' home was but another evidence of the progressive attitude which the community had in respect of its care of the sick, for it could not but be an advantage to the patients to have nurses who lived under comfortable conditions which made them fit to render the best services.

THE PREMIER'S ADDRESS

The Premier's address was as follows:

"When one attends on an occasion like this in this magnificent building, being for the accommodation of nurses alone, one gets an idea of the immense institution of which this is an annex. To one who has lived in Victoria all his life, he is inclined to reminisce and to compare conditions today with the past," said the Premier.

"He is reminded that the first hospital in the City of Victoria was established in a cottage on the corner of Yates and Broad Streets, about 1855 or '56, with a Mr. and Mrs. Seeley in charge. The accommodation was not nearly equal to the requirements, and in 1858 the Royal Hospital was established on the Indian Reserve. This was seventy-two years ago. Dr. Trimble, a gentleman whom I remember very well in my boyhood days, who had his office on Broad Street, near Yates, was the doctor placed in charge. No provision, however, was made for the accommodation of sick women—I suppose there were very few of them here in those days, and it was not until 1863 that women were admitted, and at that time a Female Aid Association was created, which is the foundation of our present Women's Auxiliary. This movement was headed by Mrs. Harris, wife of the famous old Mayor Harris, who is a long time gone, assisted by Mrs. Cridge, wife of the late Bishop Cridge. The Female Infirmary was located on Pandora Avenue, and placed in charge of a matron, described as of 'very superior character.'

"Now I have reached the point where I want to call something to the attention of the nurses present, and I am not going to say what I propose with any feelings that might be prompted in the mind of an Aberdonian, but I would like to call the attention of the nurses to the fact that this woman of very superior character was to receive the remuneration of $25 a month when there were patients in the hospital, and nothing at all when there were no patients.

ON PRESENT SITE

"In 1890, after three years of campaigning, the hospital was established on the present site; the work of the Royal Hospital was taken over, and the name of the Provincial Royal Jubilee was given. The site was a gift from the late Joseph Despard Pemberton, whose descendants today are very prominent citizens of Victoria.

"A training School for Nurses was commenced in 1891, the late Dr. J. S. Helmcken giving the inaugural address on December 16. This was the first training school for nurses established in the province.

"In 1909, the Nurses' Home was opened, with accommodation for twenty-five. In 1918, accommodation for twenty-five more was added and ever since it has been one continual complaint of the crowded accommodation.

"Today sees the completion of a building to take care of the nursing staff for the next few years, and the building has been constructed so that accommodation can be increased at a minimum cost.

"Beginning with six pupil nurses, the training school has steadily increased until today provision is necessary for 200. This magnificent home has cost $200,000, and contains 134 bedroom with 211 beds, with ample provision for demonstration rooms, dietetic and biological laboratories, also with comfortable sitting-rooms and recreation hall, which I presume will provide the young ladies of the establishment with an opportunity of meeting some of their gentlemen friends, because they might not always want a nurse.

RELIEF TO HOSPITAL

"Owing to the fact that a number of nurses are at present occupying rooms that were formerly occupied by sixty-five patients, when they are moved to this establishment, there will be room for sixty-five more patients in the hospital, which is most urgently needed.

"The hospital has been constructed by contributions from the Provincial Government, the ratepayers of the city of Victoria, and the balance has been raised by the directors, but a substantial subscription by the late Mr. David Dolg has placed the directors in the position where they are able to complete the buildings at the present time. I am sure this must be most satisfactory to them.

"I think the hospital directors and those who have so ably assisted are to be highly commended for the excellent high-class institution which they are operating. They are also to be highly commended for the construction of the Nurses' Home, placing these young ladies in comfortable quarters, where they can secure proper rest and relaxation and in this way vastly increasing their efficiency, making them satisfied with their surroundings and enabling them, after proper rest, to be ready for their work.

THE PROFESSION

"The profession of nursing is a noble one, the work is strenuous, and is taken up by serious-minded young women, who are not attracted by any glamor and fascination possessed by other lines of activity. It is hard, serious work, where application to duty, close attention to detail and close co-operation with the medical men in charge, as well as a sympathetic, warm, genial disposition plays an important part in its effectiveness.

"We are very fortunate in Victoria in possessing a fine lot of young women engaged in the nursing profession. We are also fortunate in the possession of well-trained, high class men in the medical profession. They are rendering a great service to the community.

"In closing, let me extend to them my very best wishes for more and greater accomplishments in the future, and in this connection I wish to specially mention the medical staff and the nursing staff of the Royal Jubilee Hospital."

TEA ARRANGEMENTS

The Women's Auxiliary, under the presidency of Mrs. Collison; the Junior W.A., of which Miss Margaret Campbell is president, and the Alumnae Association, Mrs. Chambers president, had charge of the tea arrangements, the conveners of this detail being Mrs. E. H. Griffiths, Mrs. R. J. Robertson and Mrs. McEwan.

In the course of the afternoon, the Graduate Nurses' Association made a presentation to the new home when Miss Franks, the president, gave Miss Mitchell a beautiful oil painting by R. F. Leslie, which depicts a local coast scene. Accompanying the gift, which is to be hung in the big recreation hall, Miss Mitchell received a great sheaf of yellow chrysanthemums.

The book shower, organized by the Alumnae Association on behalf of the home, resulted in a collection of about five hundred works of fiction being added to the meagrely-supplied shelves.

The big recreation hall will have its initiation as an entertainment centre on Monday evening next, when the postponed Christmas dance for the nurses will be held there.

Among special guests present at the opening were: The Hon. J. A. Macdonald, Chief Justice of British Columbia, official administrator of the Province in the absence of the Lieutenant-Governor, with Mrs. Macdonald and Miss Helen Macdonald; Premier and Mrs. Tolmie, Mayor and Mrs. Anscomb, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hayward, Dr. Gordon Kenning, president of the Victoria Medical Society; Mrs. Kenning, Dr. and Mrs. T. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. Felton, Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Price, Dr. and Mrs. Allen Fraser, Colonel Lorne Drum, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Hudson, Miss Randall, R.N. (Vancouver), Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., Rev. A. E. de L. Nunns, Rev. F. L. Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. John Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. James Adams, Mr. and Mrs. E. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Peden, Mrs. E. M. Pearse, Mrs. Shandley and Mrs. T. Tomalin.

These were welcomed by Dr. E. M. Pearse, medical superintendent; Miss Mitchell, director of nursing, and the members of the board of directors, Mr. George McGregor, chairman; Mr. Herbert Shandley, chairman of the building committee; Mr. Vaughan Roberts, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Rhodes, Mr. D. J. Angus, Mr. S. J. Drake, Mr. D. A. Macdonald, Mr. J. A. Worthington, Major Cuthbert Holmes, Mr. Rowland Powell, Mr. James Forman, Mr. H. S. Heisterman, Mr. E. Tomalin and Mr. Macdonald.

City & District

Snohomish Here—Carrying members of the Victoria Shrine Band, the United States coastguard cutter, Snohomish, arrived at Ogden Point docks from Port Angeles at 2:30 o'clock this morning.

To Arrive Today—Mr. H. F. Matthews, general manager of Canadian Pacific Railway Western hotels, is expected here today in connection with the Empress midwinter golf tournament.

C.N.R. Party Due—Mr. W. G. Manders, assistant freight traffic manager, Canadian National Railways, Winnipeg, is expected in the city today with a party of company officials.

Official on Visit—Mr. W. M. Neal, general manager of Western lines, Canadian Pacific Railway, is registered at the Empress Hotel. Mrs. Neal accompanies him. Mr. Fred J. Anderson, of Winnipeg, president of the British Empire Grain Company, and Mrs. Anderson, are included in the party.

Passed Second Reading—The bill to amend the Department of Public Works Act passed its second reading yesterday in the House after Mr. George Walkem, who had adjourned the debate, had expressed his satisfaction with the measure.

Egg Marks Act—When the Egg Marks Bill was up, Hon. W. Atkinson, in explanation for the bringing in of the bill, told the House yesterday that there were found to be eggs coming into the Upper Country from the United States and being sold as British Columbia eggs. The bill passed the committee stage.

Bridge Nears Completion—Motorists who are experienced in north and south travel on the Pacific Coast will be interested to learn that on Thursday the sections of the Longview-Rainier bridge, which is the largest cantilever bridge in the United States, came together safely, placing the first girder in position to bridge the twenty-eight-foot gap in the centre of the bridge. Contrary to the plan adopted in the building of the great cantilever bridge across the St. Lawrence near Quebec, when the span was lifted from the water, the entire construction has been put in place piece by piece by means of giant derricks.

Knights of Khorassan—The annual meeting of Tel El Mahuta Temple, No. 155, Dramatic Order Knights of Khorassan, was held in Temple Hall, North Park Street, there being a large attendance of members. Installation of officers for the ensuing term was made by the deputy imperial prince, William J. Webb, assisted by other imperial representatives. The following officers were installed for the year 1930: Royal vizier, A. A. Hockley; grand emir, George Wragg; mahadi, Loren Guptill; secretary, D. B. Gregson; treasurer, A. G. H. Harding; satrap, J. Trenchard Clark; sahib, M. R. Woodburn. It was arranged to hold a frolic and dance on April 17; a committee was struck to make the necessary arrangements. After the meeting all adjourned to the banquet hall for light refreshments.

DIFFERENCES OVER NATIONAL ANTHEM ARE ADJUSTED

By A. R. DECKER

(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)

VIENNA, Austria, Feb. 14.—For ten years the Austrians have been arguing which hymn to adopt as the national anthem, as there have been seven in vogue, one for each political party, but this little war now seems to have reached the armistice stage, for the Socialist school inspector of Vienna has ordered use of the Joseph Haydn melody, which is the anthem generally recognized in other parts of Austria.

The Socialists wanted a more decidedly republican hymn, with words by the leading Socialist, former Chancellor Renner. Recently Mayor Seitz of Vienna declined to rise when the Haydn melody was played, but with its acceptance in the schools the Socialists seem to have withdrawn their opposition and the national anthem war is over. However, the Socialists say that they will continue to sing the Renner text.

Saskatchewan Is Ready to Share Education Move

REGINA, Feb. 14.—Saskatchewan is ready to join an interprovincial conference on educational methods, Hon. J. T. M. Anderson, Premier and Minister of Education for the province, said at midnight that he had not been advised of the move started by Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education in British Columbia. The suggestion, however, appealed to him, and his Government would join in any such conference.

APPENDICITIS IN CHILDREN

(Health Service of the Canadian Medical Association)

It is generall known that appendicitis is a comparatively common disease. It is not so generally known, however, that appendicitis is responsible for between 1,300 and 1,400 deaths each year in Canada. Particularly is it not known that it is a condition occurring among children. During one year, of the 1,321 deaths due to this cause, 470 were those of children under fifteen years of age.

We have secured recently from the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, some information regarding appendicitis, containing statements which are of great public importance. The experience of this institution shows that appendicitis is a common ailment of children at all ages. When the condition is recognized early and is properly treated, the results are most satisfactory. If, however, there is delay in securing proper treatment, and the condition is allowed to progress until the appendix ruptures, the not infrequent result is the death of the child despite all efforts to save him.

The condition calls for a repetition of what we have so often stated—early proper treatment is necessary if the patient is to be given a fair chance for recovery through the benefit of medical science. The physician cannot help those who do not come for his advice. The cause of delay in securing treatment generally rests with the parents who are unaware of the dangers that may accompany severe abdominal pain. The "pain in the stomach" is thought but little of, and the child is frequently given a dose of castor oil or some other purgative which sets the digestive tract in motion just at the time when nature wishes it to be at rest.

When appendicitis occurs there is pain. Older children say it is cramp-like and usually point it out as being in the region of the umbilicus. Younger children just point to the abdomen when asked where the pain is, and cry as if in pain. Usually there is nausea and vomiting. There is only one sensible thing to be done for the child with abdominal pain, and that is to call the doctor and refrain from giving any household remedies. This may seem a needless amount of fuss and bother, and we are not suggesting that every stomachache is appendicitis, but we do say that unless abdominal pain is always regarded seriously, cases of appendicitis will be neglected and children will continue to be sacrificed to procrastination.

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

Persecutions of Religionists in Russia Scored

(Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The National Council of Evangelical Free Churches today joined the Church of England in formally protesting Soviet Russian persecution of religion.

A resolution adopted expresses "utmost horror and reprobation" at the persecution, and calls on all British free churches to unite with other churches in prayer in behalf of the victims. It also urges the Government to utilize all available means to remedy the situation.

Next Sunday at the evening service at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, at 7 o'clock, Mrs. Burritt, of San Francisco, will sing the solo.

Stiff Fights as Food Riots Make Work for Police

(Associated Press)

MADRID, Feb. 14.—Food riots broke out here today, with groups of unemployed workers in the poorer residential districts, on the outskirts of Madrid, breaking into grocery stores and smashing shop windows to get food.

Police and civil guards suppressed the disorders. Several persons were injured and numerous arrests were made.

The Government in a statement today said that elements opposed to the present regime were inspiring the workers to disturbances.

Prairies Expect To Have Relief From Cold Spell

WINNIPEG, Feb. 14.—The Prairies looked for relief tonight from a brief but bitter spell of Winter's frigidity and found hopeful the forecasts for the week-end. Temperature levels in the West dropped as low as 40 degrees under the zero line and many points recorded readings of between 13 and 36 below.

Early tonight, however, temperatures had turned upward sharply and promised to even slide above the zero line tomorrow.

Bridge Party Held

Mrs. J. D. Kissinger, Fairfield Road, was hostess to St. Louis College Welfare Association and friends at a bridge and five hundred party on Wednesday evening, when twenty-one tables were in play and the bridge prizes were won by Mr. H. Hartnell and Miss de Trafford, making the highest scores, and Mr. George Hartnell and Mrs. Harris the lowest. At five hundred, Miss Steiner and Mr. Regan were the highest with Mr. and Mrs. Maclellan. The evening was convened by Mrs. Kissinger, Mrs. Blair Reid, Mrs. M. MacDonald, and Mrs. J. L. Thompson, and the funds of the association will benefit through the success of their efforts.

Women's Work and Institutes

Clubs and Societies

Metchosin W.A.

The Women's Auxiliary of St. Mary's, Metchosin, met on Thursday afternoon at the vicarage. The president, Miss Blythe, opened the meeting with prayers, and a reading from the Scripture. Eleven members responded to the roll call, and one guest was welcomed. The treasurer reported a balance on hand of $20.74. The literary secretary has ordered the study books which have not yet been received. The superintendent of juniors took six members to the meeting in Victoria on January 25. Miss Chegwin, who was a delegate to the Diocesan annual meeting, gave a spendid report. Twenty dollars was voted to the Dorcas secretary to purchase material for the bale which will again be sent to the Indian school at Alert Bay. A letter was read from the prayer partner and in this connection it was decided to ask Miss Simcox if she would address the next meeting in this branch of the work. Mrs. Weir is lending her house for a party to be given on Thursday evening, February 27, for the benefit of the Women's Auxiliary. There will be an informal musical programme and everyone is welcome. It was brought to the attention of the members that the taxes on the vicarage need to be paid, also the insurance is due this year. After the meeting adjourned, tea was served by Mesdames Cann and F. Reid.

Allies Chapter, I.O.D.E.

The annual meeting of the North Saanich Branch of the Allies Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held on Thursday afternoon with a large attendance of members. The regent occupied the chair and conducted the meeting, and the secretary, Mrs. W. McLean, read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were adopted. Reports from the various committees were presented, showing the chapter to have had a very busy and active year. A very fine report was given by Miss H. Pearkes for the work done for the Solarium. Mrs. A. B. Cook was chosen as counsellor to the National Chapter. The election of officers for the ensuing year took place, resulting as follows: Regent, Mrs. Grasse; first vice-regent, Mrs. H. C. Layard; second vice-regent, Mrs. G. E. Goddard; secretary, Mrs. William McLean; treasurer, Mrs. Cruickshank; educational secretary, Mrs. Ramsay; Echoes secretary, Miss Pearkes, and standard bearer, Miss Ahier. A pleasing ceremony occurred when the retiring regent, Mrs. H. C. Layard, on behalf of the members, presented a life membership in the Allies Chapter to Mrs. Belson. The meeting adjourned for tea, which was served by Mrs. Rankin, Sr., assisted by Mrs. Rankin, Jr.

St. John's, Colwood, W.A.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.A. of St. John's Church was held in the Colwood Hall on Wednesday afternoon. Correspondence was read from the secretary of Langford Guild of St. Matthew's regarding the vicarage fund, and from Mrs. Christie, of Victoria, Dorcas secretary-treasurer, asking assistance from the branch in making outfits for the Indian children at the Mission School. The branch undertook to assist in the work. Final arrangements were made for the card party to be held in the hall on February 26 to assist W.A. and church funds. An interesting paper was read by Mrs. R. W. Robinson, who attended the diocesan annual W.A. meeting as delegate from the branch. At the conclusion of the meeting tea was served by Mrs. C. Matheson and Mrs. C. Carnegie.

Colwood Community Club

The community card party was held in the Colwood Hall on Wednesday evening. There were seven tables of progressive five hundred. Prizes for the highest score made during the month were presented to Mrs. F. Hughes and Mr. H. Gunneson and prizes for highest score for the evening to Miss J. Erskine and Mr. R. W. Robinson. The consolation prizes went to Mrs. H. Parker and Mr. D. Kenway. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the committee.

Somenos W.A.

St. Mary's W.A. held a meeting at the home of Mrs. A. S. Thompson, Norcross Road, on Wednesday afternoon. There was a small attendance due to the ill-health of members and the inclemency of the weather. Mrs. G. A. Tisdall gave a very interesting talk on "Missions in China." A bridge party was planned for Wednesday, February 26, in the Somenos schoolhouse.

CHILDREN REFLECT CREDIT ON MRS. ORD

Victoria School of Expression Gives Outstanding Exhibition of Histrionic Art

The Victoria School of Expression on Saturday evening last, at the New Thought Temple, gave an excellent exhibition of recitation, singing, acting and dancing. It was marvelous to see children, a few of them in the primary stage, express themselves so cleverly in all their performances, that the audience, which filled the hall, listened and watched with rapt attention and delight.

One young singer, Miss Valiant, whose voice was remarkable for purity, smoothness and flexibility, gives promise to making a name for herself.

Beading Revives as Trimming

A REVIEW of fashions of the past shows that always in the Winter season beading appears in some form or other on evening and afternoon frocks. The new beading trimmings contribute much more charm to the formal gown than similar decorations of other seasons. At the mention of a beaded dress one is prone to picture a tunic with this embellishment or an all-over effect of the common garden variety.

Black paillettes cover gowns that are smartly reminiscent of the gay nineties, while crystal beading is used on sheer crepes of soft pastel colorings. Flesh marquisette adorned with diagonally posed bands of tiny crystals, as at the left, is a chic example of the beaded gown of the hour.

A more rare use of beads is the yoke of the bright green flat crepe dress at the right, the beads matching the color of the gown.

STUDENTS DISPLAY MUSICAL TALENT IN PROGRAMME

A pianoforte recital and distribution of diplomas of the Associated Board of the Royal Academy of Music and the Royal College of Music took place at the home of Mrs. G. M. Hick, L.A.B., 1409 Hillside Avenue, on Wednesday evening, the recipients of the diplomas being successful pupils of Mrs. Hick.

The programme gave evidence of considerable musical ability on the part of the students, the performers being as follows: Helen Woodward, Doris Anderson, Alberta Robertson, Phyllis Hick, Doris McBain, Annie Andrews, Muriel Harrison, Florence Robertson, Muriel Anderson, Keith Sedgman, John Fawcett, Peggy Sedgman, Miss Florence Simpson, Jack Trace, Miss Doris Gilbert, Miss Isabel Vimpany, Miss Irene Rust and Miss Mary Silk. Two pupils of Miss Doris Gilbert, viz., Gordon Smith and Albert Renfrew, and Hedley Rowell and Margaret Pienderleith, pupils of Miss Florence Simpson, also took part.

The diplomas were presented by Rev. J. B. Rowell to the following:

Primary—Distinction, Keith Sedgman; honors, Alberta Robertson, Doris McBain, Hedley Rowell, John Fawcett; pass, Muriel Harrison, Helen Woodward.

Elementary — Distinction, Peggy Sedgman; pass, Florence Robertson.

Lower division—Honors, Florence Simpson, Jack Trace; pass, Rita Norris.

Higher division — Pass, Florence Simpson, Kathleen Martin, Dorothy Carter.

Intermediate — Honors, Dorothea Curtis, Doris Gilbert.

Grammar of music, Division I—Keith Sedgman, Peggy Sedgman, Florence Robertson, Margaret Pienderleith, Dolina Mackinnon, Catriona Mackinnon.

Division II — Kathleen Martin, Vivian Martin, Jack Trace, Herbert Hipwood.

Division III—Florence Simpson, Dorothy Carter, Annie Andrews, Elsie Bridges.

Rudiments—Doris Gilbert.

Lower harmony—Honors, Mary Silk.

Special prizes were awarded by Mrs. Hick to twelve of her pupils for attaining high marks in their respective grades.

VICTORIAN ORDER HAS BUSY MONTH

At the monthly meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses, Miss Thornley, the supervising nurse, reported a total of 1,125 visits paid during January, of which 665 were free, and 215 on behalf of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. There were 156 nursing bedside visits. Four well-baby clinics were attended, and thirteen classes held. Thanks were given to the following ladies for various donations.

Miss Henslowe, Mrs. Greville Jones, Ready-to-Help Circle, Kings Daughters, Mrs. Fox, Miss Alice Carr, Mrs. Bremner, Mrs. Cameron, Miss McKay, Mrs. Stewart, Miss Duke, and Mrs. Brown.

CANADIAN CLUB TO MEET TUESDAY

The next meeting of the Women's Canadian Club will be on Tuesday, February 18, when the speaker will be Countess de Turcrynowice, author of "When the Prussians Came to Poland." Countess de Turcrynowice is a Canadian by birth, her native town being St. Catherines, Ontario, but she has traveled widely and has an authoritative knowledge of European questions. The meeting will begin at 2:45 o'clock.

PROGRESS MADE IN MISSION WORK

Officers Elected at Final Session of Presbyterial — Large Sum Raised During Year

At the closing session of the sixteenth annual meeting of the British Columbia Provincial Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, held yesterday afternoon at St. Andrew's Church, the work of the mission workers among the Chinese in the province was given earnest consideration.

Miss Sybil Crawford, one of the young teachers from the Chinese Mission in Vancouver, told of the strides being made among the Oriental people in that city, which has the largest Chinese community in Canada. The work of the various departments was outlined, and special attention was given in the report of those branches devoted to the activities of the young people. Night school classes were making progress, the visiting of the homes of the kindergarten children and the religious and social sides of the work all showed marked progress. There was a crying need for a better headquarters building, a lack of which had its effect upon the amount of work accomplished.

Mrs. E. Macqueen told of the work among the Chinese in Victoria, and laid special emphasis upon the value of the early training of pre-school age children, who later attended the local public schools.

Under the direction of Miss Scott, ten little Chinese girls were grouped on the steps of the platform and sang several delightful little songs in English. This feature made a great appeal to the delegates attending the conference.

Mrs. W. L. Clay read an interesting report of the Pan-American conference held in Boston in June, which she attended as delegate from the four Western Provinces.

Mrs. Thomas Wilson, of Vancouver, read a full and very comprehensive report as corresponding secretary, telling of the progress made in the work throughout the Interior of the province. Mrs. W. J. White was in charge of the question box, and several small points of routine matters were dealt with.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Honorary presidents, Mrs. Donald McRae and Mrs. A. Harold Gordon; president, Mrs. G. W. Ledingham; first vice-president, Mrs. W. J. White; second vice-president, Mrs. W. L. Clay; third vice-president, Mrs. J. W. Dow; fourth vice-president, Mrs. D. B. Johnstone; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Thomas Wilson; recording secretary, Mrs. Robb Sutherland; treasurer, Mrs. M. Robson; Y.W. Auxiliary, Mrs. J. K. McLennan; C.G.I.T., Mrs. H. J. Barry; Mission Band, Mrs. D. Campbell; welcome and welfare, Mrs. W. H. McInnis; home helpers, Mrs. J. E. MacKenzie; supply, Mrs. R. B. McGill; library, Mrs. Harry White; literature and Glad Tidings, Mrs. H. H. Urquhart; lantern, Mrs. George Ellis; costume, Mrs. Agnew; exchange, Mrs. David Smith; life membership, Mrs. Sinclair Smith; press, Mrs. D. A. Fowle. The new office of students' secretary was placed in the hands of Mrs. J. A. Wilson, who holds the office for the first time.

Mrs. Ledingham thanked the members for their co-operation during the past year and expressed her appreciation of the confidence placed in her. Mrs. Worden, of the Kootenay Presbyterial, led in prayer, and Mrs. J. S. Paterson, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Jaffray, sang "Face to Face."

Miss MacMurchy, of Toronto, addressed the gathering on the subject of finance, and brought with her a message of deep thanks from the council executive for the splendid way in which the allocation had been met, the sum of $185,000 having being raised during the past year.

At the close of the session, Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell pronounced the benediction.

AUTHORS LISTEN TO BRIEF TALKS

A pot-pourri of material of interest to authors was collected in the course of the programme arranged by Mrs. W. I. Fraser, for the February meeting of the Victoria and Island branch of the Canadian Authors' Association. Among the speakers were Mme. Sanderson-Mongin, who gave a delightful resume of art and literature in France in the thirties of last century, comparing these with the free and exploratory conditions of the present day. The effect of the wave of romanticism on a period bound by the rules and restrictions of a severe classical school was illustrated by reference to works of Victor Hugo, Lamartine, Gautier, and others. Mrs. G. Bjornafelt gave a paper on "How Travel Helps One to Write," in the course of which she touched on the work of Selma Lagerlof, the great Swedish novelist, and some of her outstanding works, notably "Marbacha" and "Jerusalem." Mr. Henslowe explained the value of atmosphere and local color in story writing, and indicated some of the traditions which Canada offered her writers to give warmth and color to character portayal. Mr. A. T. Coddington read an essay dealing with the differences between romanticism and classicism in poetry.

Of special interest were the reminiscences of Mr. Arnup, who had the great privilege, as a child, of meeting Charles Dickens. His description of some of the old Dickens haunts in the London of fifty years ago, many of which have entirely disappeared, made a fascinating interlude.

Others who took part on the evening's programme were Mrs. J. R. Angus, secretary of the group; Mrs. C. D'A. Henderson, librarian, and Miss P. Clayton. The president, Mr. A. Carmichael, was in the chair, and at the close of the programme refreshments were served.

Women's Institutes of Vancouver Island

WEST SAANICH

The West Saanich Women's Institute held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. W. O. Wallace, in the chair. About twenty members were present. The minutes and correspondence were read by the secretary, and a resolution from the Strawberry Vale Women's Institute regarding the employment of married women was indorsed. A letter of thanks for the use of the hall for church purposes was read from the Rev. J. S. A. Bastin. Following the meeting a Valentine social was held.

Dancer's Technique Necessary to Art

Art in dancing is the ability of the dancer to express ideas through rhythmic motion of the body. Technique is the knowledge of motion that enables the dancer to interpret to the fullest expression, although it is the dancer's personality which, in the last analysis, makes this expression interesting or otherwise to the onlooker.

Miss Jose Farrington, who has had a dancing studio here for some years, and is now teaching at the Crystal Gardens, is particularly interested in her children's classes, having an intuitive perception of children's personality and working toward the expression of this in their dancing. She teaches dancing of every type, and parents are invited to come and watch the pupils in their ballet, interpretive, toe, character, acrobatic, musical comedy and pantimime work. She has recently added classes for girls who are in offices during the daytime and has had much success in teaching these both fancy and ballroom steps.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society will be held in the council chamber of the City Hall on Thursday, February 20, at 8 o'clock. The business will include the report of the officers for the past year, as well as a report by the resident matron. The meeting is open to the public and all interested in the work of the home are invited to be present.

CRIDGE MEMORIAL CORNERSTONE TO BE LAID TODAY

The cornerstone of the Bishop Cridge Memorial Hall, which is being erected to commemorate the work of one of Victoria's pioneer clergymen, will be formally laid at 3 o'clock this afternoon, in the presence of a notable gathering.

The ceremony will be in two sections, the first taking place inside the Church of Our Lord, and the second on the site of the new Memorial Hall. At the latter, Premier Tolmie will address the gathering. Rev. A. de B. Owen, present minister of the Church of Our Lord, will conduct the church service, assisted by six other clergy.

Members of the Legislature, the Mayor and Aldermen of Victoria, and other representative bodies will be present.

All scholars with their parents, also teachers and officers of the Sunday school, are asked to meet at the church at 2:45 p.m., in order that special seats may be reserved for them.

VALENTINE SOCIAL HELD BY CHAPTER

The members of the Robert Burns McMicking Chapter, I.O.D.E., held an enjoyable "get-together", Valentine social on Tuesday evening at the home of the Misses Gladys and Winnie Sheret, which was kindly loaned for the occasion. Miss Hilda Margetts, assisted by Misses Kay Knapton, Winnie Sheret, Claire Allan and Marjorie Watson was responsible for the entertainment of the evening, which was spent in music, games and contests. The prize winners for the evening were Mrs. Doris Davey, Mrs. Mona Fraser, Miss Winnie Warburton and Miss Mabel Gilliland. On behalf of herself and the members of her chapter, Mrs. H. G. Bolt, regent, presented Mrs. Sheret with a beautiful flowering plant as a small token of appreciation of Mrs. Sheret's kindness to the Robert Burns McMicking Chapter.

Eye Strain is Nerve Strain

You may feel unduly tired after a shopping tour or a moving picture show or as the result of reading or sewing.

It is possible that you may need glasses but the chances are about 100 to 1 that your nervous system is run down and that the greatest benefit will result from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Eye strain is a frequent cause of nervous trouble. It often brings on nervous headache. Sleeplessness results and feelings of fatigue and depression.

There is nothing which so quickly restores an exhausted condition of the nervous system as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This has been proven in so many thousands of cases that it is now recognized as the standard and most effective treatment for this condition. Put it to the test and your friends will soon tell you how well you are looking.

Yacht Club Dance Largely Attended

Under the festoons of signal flags, interspersed with bunches of balloons, which stretched from corner to corner of the main room in the clubhouse of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club last night, upwards of two hundred dancers celebrated the evening of St. Valentine's Day. The committee in charge of the arrangements was the same as that which made such a success of the New Year's Eve ball, six weeks ago, and was composed of Mr. Clifford Adams, chairman; Mrs. J. Harper, Mrs. W. M. Hotham, Miss Isabel Sherman, Commodore J. F. Dick, Mr. H. Golby and Mr. T. Golby.

The walls of the room were decorated with sprays of cedar, and the soft light which shone through the overhead shades decorated with the club's burgee, mingled with the blaze of the open log fire and showed off the dresses of the dancers to the fullest advantage.

The supper-room was gay with bunting; long red and white strips of material stretched from the walls to a peak in the centre of the ceiling, and the flowers on the table were read and white carnations. Supper was served under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. George Cooney, and dancing was continued until a late hour.

Recent Bride Is Guest of Honor At Shower

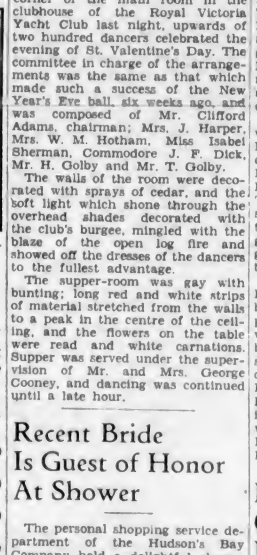

The personal shopping service department of the Hudson's Bay Company held a delightful shower Thursday evening at the home of Miss Jennie Galloway, 743 Market Street, in honor of Mrs. E. Lane (nee King). The evening was spent in music and games, and later a buffet supper was served. The decorations were carried out in Valentine colors. The invited guests were: Mrs. King, Mrs. Carswell, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Galloway, Mrs. George, Misses Margaret Switzer, Hilda Fox, Muriel Langley, Agnes Rogers, Irene McAdams, Iva Leetham, Ila Winkel, Doris Johnstone, Helen Galley, Ena Hastings, Christine Bradford, Annie Foster, Mary Warren, Hazel Cross, Rosemary King, Beth Schofield, Juanita Pearson, Isabella Carswell, Jennie Galloway, Beatrice Peacock and A. Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

Shades of our grandmothers! The evening wrap has gone and joined the ranks of the new old-fashioned mode! And with stunning effect, if you ask me!

We've seen so many magnificent specimens of this particular branch of fashion, that the shy charm of a wrap, simply designed, is a relief.

The straight three-quarter length wrap shown is of emerald green velvet, distinguished by a long panel at back, shirred to a yoke which is cut with the sleeves. The collar of the same material is shirred at centre back in butterfly fashion.

Looks exactly like the wrap you'd think your grandmother wore to hear Patti, but it certainly does possess charm and chic.

Cabaret Proves Great Success

Eclipsing all other dances of a similar nature arranged by the Commodore Broughton Chapter, I.O.D.E., the St. Valentine cabaret supper-dance, held last night at the Empress Hotel, proved an outstanding success. The members of the chapter are to be congratulated upon the marked degree of finish which characterized last night's affair, and the "turns" which were given at intervals during the dance programme were particularly effective. The ballroom, with its throng of two hundred dancers, was very beautifully arranged with St. Valentine decorations, the huge chandelier being covered with red and white paper shades, surmounted by crimson hearts and arrows. The tables were decorated with red tulips and daffodils, and a special supper was served, which introduced Valentine symbols.

The programme, under the direction of Mrs. Edward McQuade, was much enjoyed, the opening number being a solo by Miss Merle North, who possesses a voice of great beauty. Her number, "Love," brought forth repeated encores, and her costume, a beautiful Slavic dress of white satin, with shimmering silver headdress, was particularly lovely. The second number was a "Doll Dance" selection, sung by Miss Betty Savannah, assisted by Miss Margaret Jancowski and Miss Jean Moody as "Painted Dolls" in quaint red and white gingham frocks, red and white socks, and tousled rag doll hair.

One of the most popular numbers was "Sweeter Than Sweet," sung by Mr. Alan King, assisted by a chorus comprising Miss Jean MacLachlan, Miss Bea McMillan, Miss Bernice Penzer and Miss Norma Pendray. The costumes of shimmering white satin and deep flounces of white tulle were very striking, and the general effect was a delight to the guests. This number called forth three encores.

As a toe dancer, Miss Gertrude Partridge, in a smart black tulle ballet costume, proved one of the popular soloists, and this "turn" was followed by a very quaint number, "Tip-Toe Through the Tulips," sung by Mrs. S. Sehl, with a chorus comprising Miss Bea McMillan, Miss Bernice Penzer, Miss Jean MacLachlan and Miss Norma Pendray, in Dutch costumes. All the dresses were designed and made by Miss Elsa Michaelis and Miss Norma Pendray.

Now Principal Of Noted School In Leeds

An event in which many Victorians will be interested because of the part played in it by Miss A. B. Juniper, one-time supervisor of the domestic science course in the Victoria schools, took place recently at the Yorkshire Training College of Housecraft, Leeds, of which Miss Juniper has been principal for the last four or five years. The event was the annual distribution of diplomas to the students, when the Duchess of Atholl made the presentations in the presence of a distinguished gathering.

The Yorkshire Training College of Housecraft is one of eleven colleges of the kind in England and Wales, and has to serve the whole of Yorkshire. In her annual report, read in connection with the presentation of diplomas, Miss Juniper recorded that it had 143 full-time students, of whom eighty-three were training for teaching, and sixty for home or professional use in other spheres than teaching. Each Thursday public demonstrations are held, and these were so largely attended that the doors had to be closed because of lack of further accommodation.

In the address which she gave in connection with the diploma presentations, the Duchess of Atholl made an appeal, through the Board of Education president, for more adequate premises for the college.

A few days after this event Miss Juniper officiated at the distribution of prizes at the Thornes House Girls' Secondary School in Wakefield.

Debutantes Prepare For Social Whirl

By JOAN LITTLEFIELD

Staff Correspondent of The Colonist and the North American Newspaper Alliance.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Although the London season is still some months ahead, "coming out" dances for this year's debutantes are already being planned.

The daughters of many illustrious and ancient families are to be presented. Among them are Lady Katherine Howard, sister of the young Duke of Norfolk, who is England's premier duke and hereditary Earl Marshal; the Hon. Mary Elizabeth Elphinstone, niece of the Duchess of York, whom she greatly resembles; Miss Diane Chamberlain, tall, fair daughter of Sir Austen and Lady Chamberlain, and Lady Patricia Moore, who cut off her long plaits after a recent visit to America and who has already written a book about Mexico, where she spent a good deal of her childhood. She illustrated it herself.

One of the first of this year's debutante dances takes place February 25, at the Grafton Galleries. Three young ladies are to be presented on this occasion, one of them General Clive's daughter, Mary. There will be a somewhat unusual cabaret during supper. This is to consist of some "good" music provided by Miss Jelly D'Aranyi, violinist, and Miss Gabrielle Joachim, singer, to be followed by a roller skating turn.

The big trouble today is that many automobile drivers believe that the right of way belongs to the one who gets there first.

Churches and Their World-Wide Work

DR. SIPPRELL WILL TALK ON 'BLOT ON B.C.'

Rev. J. Hood and Pastor Will Speak at Metropolitan on Campaign for Sobriety

MUSICAL RECITAL AT THREE O'CLOCK

In connection with a province-wide campaign of temperance education, to be carried on through churches and temperance organizations, beginning on Sunday, Dr. Sipprell will speak at the morning service in Metropolitan Church on "The Blot on British Columbia." The desire of the proposed campaign is to acquaint the public with the urgent need of a rigid survey of the terrible ravages the liquor traffic is working in British Columbia and in Canada. At the evening service Rev. James Hood will speak in connection with the proposed campaign.

On Wednesday evening, February 19, a mass meeting will be held in Metropolitan Church, to be addressed by Mr. Charles E. Vaughan, an eloquent speaker, an editor of a daily paper and member of the Legislature of Washington. This meeting is also a part of the proposed campaign.

At 3 o'clock Sunday Dr. Sipprell will conduct the Bible class in a study of "The Indignation of Jesus." At 4 o'clock the third musical recital will be given in the Metropolitan Church, the choir on this occasion being the Fairfield Festival Choir. The public is cordially invited to all these services.

Boys and Girls Raising Budget For Their Work

TWENTY-SEVEN vacation schools attended by 1,820 children, the activities of 360 C.G.I.T. groups with an enrolment of 3,881 girls, of whom 100 belong to the pioneer section, many conferences and camps, 327 students enrolled in standard training courses and another successful Boys' Parliament are some items in the recently issued survey of the work of the Religious Education Council of British Columbia.

For the support of this work the 7,000 boys and girls of the Tuxis and Trail Rangers clubs and the C.G.I.T. groups are undertaking to raise during the ten days ending February 20 the sum of $7,100 by means of subscriptions of fifty cents and upwards given in the form of a share in this character-building concern. Last year the young people of Victoria raised $665.15. This year they have taken $775 as their objective.

The Victoria Boys' Work Board is under the chairmanship of Mr. W. C. Thomson and Alderman W. T. Straith is a member of the provincial organization, while Mrs. H. Nixon and Mrs. Maude Hammond are actively identified with the campaign among girls.

TO POINT WAY TO SOBRIETY

Dr. Wilson Will Discuss at First United the Next Step in Temperance Campaign

REV. G. PRINGLE AT EVENING SERVICE

Preaching at the morning service at First United Church on "The Campaign for a Life of Sobriety," Dr. Wilson will deal with the question: "Are we on the right track, and, if not, what is the next move, and who should make it?"

The evening preacher is Rev. G. C. F. Pringle, B.A., who is well known as an interesting and informing speaker, who draws from a wide experience and illustrates from life in the Yukon, on the European war front and the marine mission.

CAMPAIGN FOR SOBRIETY SET

MINISTERS JOIN MOVEMENT FOR TEMPERANCE EDUCATION

Question to Be Presented in Pulpits —Victoria to Raise the Sum of $1,500

A number of the ministers of the city, some in their own pulpits and some by way of exchange in neighboring churches, will tomorrow give addresses on the subject of temperance as part of a provincial movement under the auspices of the British Columbia Prohibition Association, which is aimed at increased education upon this question.

Exchanges will take place at the evening service between Dr. Sipprell, of the Metropolitan and Rev. James Hood of Belmont Avenue, Rev. Dr. Wilson of First Church and Rev. George Pringle of Centennial, Rev. Henry Knox of Emmanuel and Rev. Thomas Keyworth of James Bay, Rev. S. T. Galbraith of St. Aidan's and Rev. F. W. McKinnon of Douglas Street Baptist, Rev. W. A. Guy of Oak Bay and Rev. H. J. Armitage of Victoria West. Dr. Davies and Revs. A. J. Vincent, J. S. Patterson and Hugh Nixon will present the matter to their respective congregations.

The local committee consists of Messrs. R. S. Anderson, Chave and Goldie, Mesdames Wilkinson, Hall and Collis, and Revs. H. Knox, H. Nixon and Drs. Wilson and Sipprell. Of the total budget for the educational campaign of $10,000, some $1,500 is allocated to Victoria. The W.C.T.U. is co-operating in the effort, which is expected to enlist the aid of Sunday schools and young people's societies.

In connection with the campaign, Mr. Charles E. Vaughan, a member of the Legislature of the State of Washington, will address a mass meeting at Metropolitan Church on Wednesday evening.

PRESBYTERY TO MEET FEB. 25

Vancouver Island Pastors and Delegates Will Review Church Business

Ministers and lay delegates of the thirty-five or more pastoral charges of the Victoria Presbytery of the United Church of Canada will assemble for the Winter meeting of the Presbytery on Tuesday morning, February 25, at 9 o'clock at First United Church. The chairman for the year, Rev. James Hood, will preside, and Rev. Thomas Keyworth will be secretary.

Rev. George A. Wilson, of Vancouver, home missionary superintendent, will attend and assist in a review of the home mission work on Vancouver Island which is expected to result in adjustment in several of the congregations. Foreign missions, social service and evangelism, college interests and the missionary and maintenance fund will be reported upon. Two ministers who were not on the active list have passed away since the September meeting, Rev. R. Aylward and Rev. E. G. Taylor. The sessions will likely conclude on Wednesday evening.

Topic Named For Christian Science: "Soul"

All churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., will have the subject of "Soul" for their lesson-sermon on Sunday with the following golden text from Leviticus xxvi, 11-12, "I will set My Tabernacle among you, and My soul shall not abhor you. And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be My people."

Sunday morning services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Victoria, are held at 11 o'clock. Evening services are at 7:30 o'clock. Wednesday evening services, which include testimonies of healing, are held at 8 o'clock. A free reading-room for the public is maintained in the Sayward Building.

To Test Food Cooked With Modern Ideas

Dr. A. F. Barton will occupy the pulpit at the Progressive Thought Temple at both services tomorrow. In the morning at 11, he will take for his theme "Seek and Ye Shall Find." In the evening at 7:30 he will give another lecture lesson on applied psychology under the title "The Law of Suggestion." These sermons are increasing in popularity.

On Thursday a banquet will be held in the Amphion Hall, Yates Street, in which a cooked dinner consisting of meat, vegetables, and fruit will be cooked the new way, and demonstrated. Following the dinner a talk on foods and their cooking will be given by a food expert who is touring Canada. Music, games, etc., will also form a part of the evening's entertainment. Reservations may be made for a limited number. Dinner will be served at 6.30 o'clock.

REV. T. KEYWORTH AT EMMANUEL

Visitor Will Preach on "The Price of Exorcism"—Pastor in Evening

Rev. Thomas Keyworth, of James Bay United Church, will be the preacher at the evening service at Emmanuel Baptist Church tomorrow. His sermon on the subject, "The Price of Exorcism," will be delivered in connection with the British Columbia temperance education campaign.

At the morning service Rev. Henry Knox will be in charge and will preach on the theme, "Stumbling Blocks." The anthems for these services will be "The Sun Shall Be No More Thy Light By Day" (Woodward), and "The Radiant Morn" (Woodward).

MR. T. HUMPHRIES TO BE SPEAKER

In St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Henry Street, Victoria West, on Sunday, at the evening service at 7:30 o'clock, Mr. Thomas Humphries, a leading business man of the city, a prominent layman, a conspicuous Presbyterian elder and a great temperance reformer and enthusiastic prohibitionist, will discuss the temperance situation. Mr. Petch, a brother of the famous Victor Edmunds, will render a solo.

The minister, Rev. J. S. Patterson, will take the devotions at night and will preach in the morning at 11 o'clock. There will be special music by the choir.

Church Briefs

The Society for Psychic Research has again been able to secure the services of Mrs. Rumble, of Vancouver, who has chosen for her subject "Eastbound." After the lecture there will be messages and clairvoyance. There will be a circle on Monday at 7:30 o'clock, when Mrs. Rumble will answer written questions.

The pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Tabernacle, Yates Street, Rev. Daniel Walker, will preach at the Sunday morning service at 11 o'clock on "The Master Passion That Dwelt in the Heart of the Lord Jesus to Accomplish the Father's Will," and in the evening service at 7:30 on "A Saviour that can give rest to the weary, peace to those who are troubled, deliverance to those who are in distress; a Saviour who can satisfy the deepest longings of the human heart and heal body, soul and spirit."

The services tomorrow at St. Paul's Garrison Church, Esquimalt, include the military parade service at 10:30 o'clock, to which the public is invited. Other services are: Holy Communion at 8 and 11:30 o'clock and Evensong at 7.

The pastor's theme in the morning at Wilkinson Road and at Garden City in the afternoon will be "The Last Prayer in the New Testament" (Rev. xxii, 20). In the evening the series on "Religious Problems" will be continued, the special subject being "The After-Life." The Young People's Club will meet on Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock.

The following services will be held at St. Mark's Church, Cloverdale, tomorrow: Holy Communion at 8 o'clock, Holy Communion and sermon at 11, and Evensong at 7 o'clock. Rev. O. L. Jull, vicar of the parish, will preach in the morning, his sermon subject to be "Laborers in the Vineyard," and at Evensong Mr. Jull will take for his text "What Think Ye of Christ?"

Services will be conducted at the Douglas Street Baptist Church, Cloverdale, tomorrow at 11 o'clock and in the evening at 7:30. Rev. P. W. McKinnon, the pastor, will take for his subject in the morning, "What Shall We Do With the Liquor Traffic?" to be followed by the children's sermonette. In the evening Mr. McKinnon's sermon subject will be "Believers' Baptism." The sacrament of baptism will be administered at the close of the evening service. Prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday evening and the B.Y.P.U. on Friday at 8 o'clock.

PRAISE SERVICE AT ST. JOHN'S

Congregational Song in Evening—Rector to Speak on "Church Beginnings in B.C."

The services at St. John's Church will consist of Holy Communion at 8 o'clock, Morning Prayer at 11 and Evensong at 7:30.

The rector, Rev. Canon Chadwick, will preach at the morning service, continuing his short series on "The Old Church in the New Dominion." This will be the concluding address of the series and will refer to the establishment of the church in the Province of British Columbia.

In the evening there will be a service of praise, when, after the regular service of Evening Prayer, instead of the sermon, there will be the congregational singing of a number of the old and well-known hymns interspersed with the singing of several sacred songs and anthems by the choir. These services have been introduced at St. John's Church mainly with the object of increasing the quality and quantity of congregational singing, and considerable interest has been taken in the movement.

During the service of praise the anthem, "How Lovely Are the Messengers," from Mendelssohn's "St. Paul," will be rendered by the choir. The solos will include "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say," by Rathbun, sung by Mrs. Batchelor; "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," by Mozart, sung by Mr. A. W. Palmer, and solos by Miss Moore and Miss Ada Fox.

An organ recital will be given by Mr. G. J. Burnett immediately before the service, commencing at 7:10 o'clock.

The Sunday school will assemble at 2:30 o'clock in the schoolroom, Mason Street, and the Anglican Young People's Bible Class will meet in the church vestry at the same hour.

REV. BRUCE GRAY AT CENTENNIAL

Minister Will Preach on Second Commandment—Choir to Sing Spirituals

"Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image"—the Second Commandment—will furnish the theme for Mr. Pringle in continuing his series on the Decalogue at the morning service in Centennial.

In the evening, following arrangements made by a special committee, First United and Centennial will exchange ministers whose duty it will be to present the case against the liquor trade. Rev. Bruce Gray will represent First United at Centennial. Mr. Gray is one of the most brilliant of the younger ministers in the United Church.

The service of praise will be of exceptional appeal. Miss Eileen Foster will sing Del Reigo's solo, "O Loving Father," in the morning. In the evening the choir will feature negro "spirituals"—the weird and lovely Christian hymns which originated during the fervor of camp meetings in the Southern States. The two choir selections will be Burleigh's "Go Down, Moses," and "Were You There?" "Steal Away" (Frey) will be sung as a solo by Mr. Frank L. Tupman.

A banquet will be given for the men of the congregation at 6:30 o'clock, Tuesday, February 18, at which Mr. B. C. Nicholas, editor of the Victoria Times, will be the speaker.

Divine service will be conducted at the Gorge Presbyterian Church, Tillicum Road, tomorrow at 11 o'clock and at Erskine Presbyterian Church, corner of Harriett and Lurline Roads at 7. Rev. A. O. Thomson, B.D., the minister, will conduct the services at both churches, his sermon subject to be "A Springtime Message." The sermonette for the children will be "Noah, the Model Worker." Mr. J. Boulter will sing at the Gorge in the morning. Prayer meeting will be held at the Gorge on Tuesday and at Erskine Church on Thursday.

'PRODIGAL SON' WILL BE GIVEN AT CITY TEMPLE

Famous Parable Will Be Theme of Religious Drama to Be Given at Evening Service

PASTOR TO ACT FATHER'S PART

The profound and enthusiastic interest displayed in the religious dramas being presented at the City Temple on Sunday nights and attracting large congregations, has caused their continuance, and on Sunday evening the immortal parable of Jesus, "The Prodigal Son," will be produced in three acts. The story has been modernized into a present-day setting and takes place in a Victoria home. The cast will enact a modern version of this story, and will doubtless find an appeal to the hearts of young and old alike. The father, Mr. Anderton, will be taken by Dr. Clem Davies, the mother by Maude Hammond; the elder son by Nelson Goodwin and the prodigal by Harold B. Whitfield. Judge Jeffery's role will be undertaken by George M. Durham. The incidental solos will be sung by Mr. Frank H. Partridge. Other evening soloists will be Mrs. Styles Sehl and Mrs. Edward Parsons. The evening anthem will be "Hear My Prayer" (Mendelssohn).

Dr. Davies' morning theme will be "Why Men Quit Religion," the morning anthem being "Teach Me Thy Way, O Lord" (Attwood). Symphonic organ and orchestral music will be rendered at the evening service.

Prospective attendants are warned to be in good time to secure a seat, and those who are inclined to be hard of hearing should come early to secure the front seats.

TO LECTURE ON HEALING

Rev. Dr. F. N. Riale, Presbyterian Divine, Will Give Address in St. Andrew's Church

Victoria is to have the privilege of hearing a series of four addresses to be given by Rev. Frank N. Raile, Ph.D., D.D., on "The Healing Ministry of Jesus." Dr. Raile will give his opening address on Sunday evening, February 16, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Douglas Street, and will continue his lectures on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock in St. Andrew's Church under the auspices of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Guild of Health.

Dr. Raile is a Williams Fellow of Harvard University and a well-known Presbyterian divine. His pastorates have been in Cleveland, Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati. From his last parish he was called to the Presbyterian Board of Education, New York City, which position he held with great acceptance for five years. He has for years been intensely interested in trying to make the church at large realize the most blessed and vital importance of the place of "the gift of healing" in the full and everlasting Evangel of Jesus to the extent that he has given up all other work to writing and giving community addresses along this line.

Dr. Raile's healing messages are receiving the warmest words of appreciation from such outstanding men as Dr. E. Stanley Jones, author of "The Christ of the Indian Road," Rev. Dr. Joseph Fort Newton, well-known preacher and author, and scores of other religious leaders and editors on both sides of the sea. His books are being most enthusiastically read the world over.

Rev. Kenneth Mackenzie, D.D. one of the best-known ministers of the Protestant Episcopal Church, has given a lengthy and most sympathetic review of Dr. Raile's last book, "The Healing Ministry of Jesus."

Dr. Raile will take as his subject for the first of these addresses, "The Glory of the Forward Look," continuing on Monday with "How the Light Came and the Fire Fell." Tuesday's and Wednesday's subjects will be announced from the pulpit. A hearty invitation is extended to all and it is hoped that every church throughout the city will be well represented. The series will extend from Sunday evening, February 16, to Wednesday evening, February 19, inclusive.

DR. S. HOWARD TO BE EVENING PREACHER FAIRFIELD UNITED

The pastor of Fairfield United Church, Rev. Hugh Nixon, will preach in the morning on "An Old Evil in a New Civilization," dealing with the question, Is man to be master or victim of the civilization he has created? In the evening the pastor will be assisted by Rev. Dr. S. Howard, who will speak on "The Present Generation and Its Greatest Need." Dr. Howard is a thoughtful and forceful speaker and Fairfield friends should avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing him.

The morning music will consist of a mixed quartette, consisting of Miss Grace Platt and Mrs. Warren and Messrs. Knight and Jones, and an anthem by the choir. In the evening Mr. Frank Sherwood will sing and a selection will be given by the choir.

Rev. W. A. Guy to Give Sermon on "The Drink Evil"

The minister, Rev. W. A. Guy, will conduct the morning service at Oak Bay United Church. The day is being observed as temperance education Sunday. The juniors will hear a sermonette on "The Quality of Hardness—Are You a Sponge or a Flint?" The topic to be discussed with the adult people will be "The Drink Evil, a Complex and Challenging Problem; the Responsibility of the Christian Community." Rev. H. J. Armitage will deal with similar matters at the evening service.

British-Israel Lecture on "Sign Of His Coming"

The subject of this week's address at the British-Israel Association by Mr. W. H. Blackaller is "The Sign of His Coming," to be given on Monday at 8 o'clock, February 17, in the Gordon Block, 739 Yates Street. Visitors are welcome.

COMMEMORATIVE OF MODERATOR

St. Andrew's to Have Devotions on Late Dr. Perrie—Evening, "Healing Ministry of Jesus"

The pulpit of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Douglas Street, will be occupied by the minister, Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, at the morning services tomorrow, when the death of the Rt. Rev. David Perrie, D.D., moderator of the general assembly, will be commemorated by a special prayer and hymn and the "Dead March" in Saul. The sermon will be appropriate to temperance Sunday: "St. Paul on Stimulants," Eph. 5:18.

In the evening the minister will conduct the service and the sermon will be preached by Rev. Frank Riale, Ph.D., D.D., on the subject, "The Healing Ministry of Jesus." Dr. Riale is a Presbyterian minister of Wooster, Ohio, and is the author of several books on spiritual healing. He is coming to Victoria under the auspices of the Victoria Guild of Health and will give a series of addresses in St. Andrew's Church on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings next week. Dr. Riale has a message which should be heard by every Christian in Victoria.

GENESIS TO BE DEAN'S THEME

Bible Story of Creation in Light of Modern Thought Will Be Reviewed at Cathedral

DEANERY TO HOLD OPEN CONFERENCE

Services in Christ Church Cathedral tomorrow, Septuagesima, or the third Sunday before Lent, include three celebrations of Holy Communion, at 8 and 8 o'clock and after Morning Prayer at 11 o'clock. As the first lesson at Morning Prayer is taken from the opening chapters of Genesis, the Dean will preach at that service on the subject, "The Genesis Story of Creation and the Modern Man."

The preacher at choral Evensong at 7:30 o'clock will be the Rev. E. W. P. Carter, who will also give the address at a service for children at 3 o'clock in the cathedral.

On Monday evening the rural deanery conference of the Deanery of Victoria will meet in the Memorial Hall at 8 o'clock. The evening's programme includes an address by Mr. A. R. Merrix on "The Challenge That Religious Education Makes to the Church Today." At the request of the Rural Dean, Rev. Canon Chadwick, the conference is open to all who are interested in the subject, as well as to official delegates from parishes in the deanery.

Salmon Industry Is Declared to Be In Serious State

Situation Blamed Upon Policy of Permitting Unlimited Number of Licences for Both Plants and Fishing — Important Statement by Mr. Richard Gosse on Behalf of Canners

Gives Strong Support to Hon. S. L. Howe's Proposals

STRONG approval of the fishing proposals of Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Commissioner of Fisheries, was voiced by Mr. Richard Gosse, general manager of the British Columbia Packers, Limited, yesterday when he appeared before the fisheries committee of the House at the Parliament Buildings.

Mr. Gosse told the committee that a memorandum with respect to the salmon industry of the province had been presented to the Provincial Cabinet with the full endorsement of the Canners' Association, by Messrs. Richard Bell-Irving, A. L. Hager, J. L. Beckwith, Charles Todd, T. McPherson and himself.

Quoting from the memorandum, Mr. Gosse said that the question might be asked why do some companies not operate all their canneries? The explanation was that those companies realize, he declared, that there were already far too many canneries in certain areas, and that it was more economical and efficient to consolidate operations, although a great portion of the initial investment in those canneries lying idle was lost. The statement showed that although the total number of canneries in British Columbia in 1929 was eighty-three, there were only seventy-five operated, of which sixty-four were in Northern waters.

Mr. Gosse claimed that if it was unprofitable to operators to keep in operation all their canneries, it must be contrary to public interests to allow new canneries to be established.

To substantiate that opinion, Mr. Gosse referred the committee to the following extract of the Sanford Evans-H. B. Thomson report (1917):

"There are cases in which two or more canneries in a fishing district are owned and operated by one company. It would often be in the interest of efficiency to consolidate the business in one cannery, but the expense is now incurred of operating all the canneries in order to retain the boat rating and leave less apparent excuse for the issuing of licences to new canneries.

"We are of the opinion that temporary or permanent consolidation of this kind, for sound reasons, should rather be encouraged, and on this principle, we advocate the public interest would be served. In such cases, we do not think new licences should be issued."

Mr. Gosse contended that if the commission so recommended in 1917, surely it was all the more imperative at the present time.

PRECARIOUS CONDITION

The speaker said that the salmon industry of British Columbia was in a precarious condition, its capital investment insecure due to the uncertainty of profits and serious losses at times, and the returns to its workmen and employees also in a state of uncertainty. The larger the number of plants the less would be the supply of fish for each plant, although fixed operating expenses at each plant remained about the same.

"The fishermen and the canners are dependent upon each other for their prosperity, as an adequate return on their labor in the case of fishermen or on the investment to the canners is essential to both," he claimed.

Mr. Gosse recalled that since the Federal policy of issuing an unlimited number of cannery licences and the policy of 1920 of an unlimited number of fishing licences, there had been a gradual increase of both, culminating in the disaster of 1927, when the industry lost $2,000,000 due to intensive, unprofitable and reckless competition. It may be said that the canners are themselves to blame for such a deplorable situation, but in fact they are helpless under such conditions. The situation was forced upon them by the inevitable outcome of the above policies of permitting an unlimited number of licences for both plants and fishing.

"We must get down to a more economical operation of the fishing industries if the companies are going to keep their heads above water," declared Mr. Gosse.

The speaker felt that if the proposals of Mr. Howe were adopted, the earnings of the fishermen would be increased.

INDEPENDENT FISHERMEN

Mr. Gosse explained that there were two classes of fishermen, namely, those who do not own a boat or net, and those known as the independent fishermen, who own either a boat or net, or both. He considered that the independent fishermen were the best on the British Columbia coast. "Ninety per cent of the fishermen had been made independent through the actions of the companies."

Mr. W. R. Rutledge, Conservative, Burnaby, inquired as to what percentage of the fishermen were independents.

"There were 9,515 fishing licences issued last year," Mr. Gosse said. "I would think about one-third of that number were independents."

In reply to a question asked by Mr. H. Despard Twigg, Conservative, Victoria, Mr. Gosse stated that most of the independent fishermen made their living from fishing, although some of them had pre-emptions or farms, and others built boats during the Winter. There was only about three months during the year that they were not engaged in some sort of fishing in these waters.

"Our own company advocates that all fishermen be independents. The independent fishermen take a keener interest when they own their own boat, and gear, and they look after their gear better," he asserted.

Mr. Gosse expressed the view that there were too many fishermen both for conservation and catching fish, to keep up an adequate earning for the fishermen.

Colonel Nelson Spencer, Conservative, Vancouver, chairman of the House committee, asked Mr. Gosse whether the existing fishing regulations were observed by the fishermen.

CONSERVATION NECESSARY

In reply, Mr. Gosse said that the fishermen and canners today realized that they must conserve fish. There were not at the present time 10 per cent of the infractions of the fishing regulations as there were five years ago. "Fishermen are trying to observe the regulations. There have been instances where the rules have been broken, but such action was not done with the consent of responsible persons."

Mr. Gosse discussed at some length competition with Japan and the United States. Summarizing the situation, he said that Canada had the most expensive fish and labor. The United States had cheap fish and the labor was "equal to our own costs, with the exception that their pack per cannery was 75,000 cases as against Canada's pack of 20,000 cases per cannery during the past year. Japan has the cheapest fish and labor.

"Canada exports 75 per cent of her production, amounting to 1,000,000 cases, the United States exports 15 per cent, amounting to 1,000,000 cases, and Japan exports 100 per cent, amounting to 1,600,000 cases. And we have to face that competition in sixty-two countries of the world."

The speaker pointed out that the United States export salmon was practically dumped on the market in competition with Canadian salmon. Japan, with the least expensive methods of fishing, was able to sell cheaply and had a preferential market in France. Canada had a preferential market in Australia, but was forced to compete with the United States dumping there.

The committee decided to meet again at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, when Mr. Gosse will be further examined.

Crew of Small Craft Saved in Ontario Waters

(Canadian Press)

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Feb. 14.—Storm-tossed for three days on Lake Ontario in a thirty-foot motorboat whose engine was disabled, Messrs. Robert Hampton and Lawrence Smith, of Port Colborne, were rescued yesterday by the United States coastguard cutter No. 211. Near starvation, but otherwise little the worse for their experience, the men were brought to Port Dalhousie. The first thing they asked for was a "square meal."

The men left Port Dalhousie on Tuesday last with a cargo of 150 cases of export ale and 150 cases of whisky for a foreign port, after making the necessary customs clearance. Seven miles out the engine of their craft gave out and efforts to repair it proved fruitless.

CANADA SAILS THIS EVENING

EMPRESS LINER EXPECTED AT RITHET PIERS AT 5:30 O'CLOCK

Is Carrying 547 Passengers for Honolulu and Ports of Orient

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14.—Under command of Captain A. J. Hatley, R.N.R., the Canadian Pacific liner, Epress of Canada will leave here at noon Saturday on her second outward voyage since being re-engined. She will dock at Victoria about 5:30 o'clock.

This voyage is a fair indication of the favorable reception created by the inauguration of the Honolulu port of call, in the fact that fifty first class passengers are bound for that port, while fifty more will embark here for the Orient. Beside the 150 saloon passengers, the Empress is carrying forty-seven second, fifty third and about 300 steerage, making 547 passengers of all classes.

Amount prominent passengers for the Orient are Captain A. J. L. White, secretary to Sir Cecil Clementi, Governor of Hong Kong; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Downey and Master Downey, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. De Forest Grant, of New York; Jun Ke Choy and Mrs. Jun Ke Choy, and T. C. Chen, special representative of the China Ministry of Railways; Mr. F. D. Lundy and Mr. P. A. Anderson, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Andrews, Seattle; and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dence, of Vancouver.

Included among the moderate cargo, are eighteen cases of frozen strawberries, initiating a new freight commodity to the Orient from this port via Canadian Pacific steamships.

Military Flyers Seek New Record To Buenos Aires

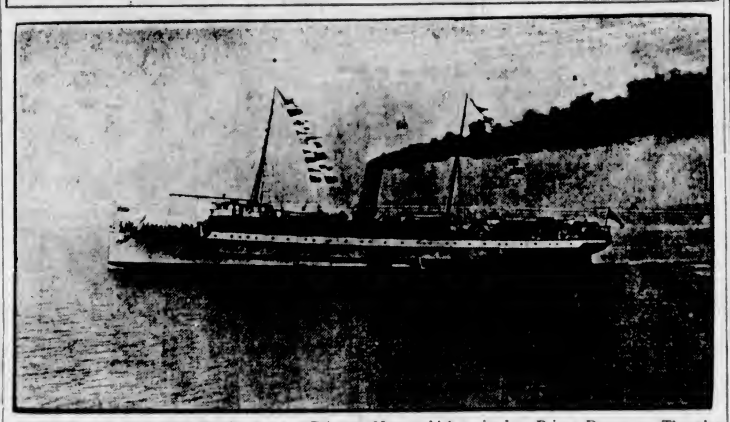

NEWARK, N.J., Feb. 14.—Lieutenants Will W. White and Clement McMillen took off at 7:30 a.m. today from the municipal airport for Miami, on the first leg of a flight to Buenos Aires. The flyers, both army pilots, are attempting to set a new speed record.

SNOW SLIDES IN PROVINCE BLOCK RAILWAY ROUTES

NELSON, Feb. 14.—After a tie-up of some weeks, railway service through the Kaslo-Nakusp Railway line, blocked by snow slides, has been resumed.

Today service over the Lower Arrow Lakes, tied up for weeks, through ice conditions, was resumed. Likewise service over the Slocan Lake, similiarly blocked since the recent cold spell, opened again.

Princess Mary Handicapped by Thick Ice

ABOVE is the Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Mary, which arrived at Prince Rupert on Thursday evening, delayed twenty-four hours on her voyage from Skagway by rough weather. The Mary was completely coated with ice and a deckload of lumber was frozen fast to the ship. Zero weather off Alaska prevented the crew from clearing the vessel.

MAN SHIPS DUE AT PORT ALBERNI

Yoshin Maru Today Leads Procession of Vessels in for Lumber

PORT ALBERNI, Feb. 14.—The Yoshin Maru, of the Yamashita Shipping Company, is due in this port on Saturday, to load lumber for points on the Atlantic Coast.

The steamship, Shelton, of the Tacoma-Oriental, line, is due here on Sunday, to take on a cargo of lumber for Japan and China.

The Shunten Maru is due for a further consignment for Japan on February 20, on which date the General Sherman is also due to commence loading lumber for Atlantic coast ports.

These vessels will be followed by the Canadian National steamship, Canadian Planter, which will load cargo for Eastern Canada.

There is a considerable quantity of dried herring now packed at the Barclay Sound plant and this will be shipped shortly to the Orient by vessels not yet named.

Moveria in Today

From Glasgow and Liverpool, the Donaldson Line freighter Moveria is expected at Race Rocks at 11 o'clock this morning, according to Rithet Consolidated Ltd. The ship is expected to dock by 1 o'clock in the afternoon to discharge about sixty tons of cargo.

FRENCH LINE SAILINGS

Bound for Havre, the new French Line motorship Wisconsin will leave Vancouver on April 7 and the Ms. Winnipeg on May 7, according to the Milwaukee Railway office. The first-named ship carries forty-nine first class passengers and the second, one hundred.

Equipped with Welin-Maclachlan patent davits, radio compasses and gyro compasses, the vessels are each driven by two sets of six-cylinder Diesel engines developing 5,200 horsepower. All berths aboard contain beds instead of bunks.

Shark Stomach Gives Up Bones Of Lost Seaman

(Associated Press)

TAMPICO, Mexico, Feb. 14.—What are believed to be the bones of one of the crew of the fishing schooner Jose Luis, which foundered off the mouth of the Panuco, January 22, were recovered in the stomach of a shark which was caught near the scene of the wreck.

Parts of the man's clothing also were found, and it was hoped to identify the victim through these. Four of the Jose Luis' crew have been missing since the ship was wrecked.

NORTHERN ICE HINDERS MARY

C.P.R. Steamer Docks at Prince Rupert Day Late From Effects of Cold Weather

LUMBER IS FROZEN TO VESSEL'S DECK

PRINCE RUPERT, Feb. 14.—The Ss. Princess Mary, which arrived from Skagway, Alaska, Thursday night, was a day late owing to weather conditions. The steamer was completely coated with ice, there being a solid mass between pilot house and two forward lifeboats.

A deck shipment of lumber from Vancouver to be discharged at Skagway is being taken back to Vancouver, it being impossible to dislodge it. The whole lot was frozen to the deck. The crew were kept busy trying to chop away the obstructions, but rough seas and zero conditions in Alaskan waters made efforts futile.

CORBEIL SINKS IN SHIP CRASH

SHIPPING BOARD FREIGHTER SS. WEST CELINA IS UNDAMAGED

Avonmouth Pilot Cutter Rescues Crew of British Gravel Craft

(Associated Press)

BRISTOL, England, Feb. 14.—The United States Shipping Board's steamer West Celina, 3,839 tons, collided in a fog tonight with the small Bristol steamer Corbell, off Avonmouth.

The Corbell sank but her crew of five was rescued by the Avonmouth pilot cutter. The West Celina was not damaged.

Built at Portland, Ore., for the United States Shipping Board in 1919, the West Celina is 409.8 feet long, 54.2 feet in beam, 27.2 feet deep, 6,187 tons gross and 3,838 tons net. She is oil fired and is driven by geared steam turbines.

Owned by the Bristol Sand & Gravel Company, the Corbell was built at North Shields in 1890. She is ninety-six feet long, 20.1 feet in beam, 8.1 feet deep, 149 tons gross and seventy-six tons net.

WISCONSIN PILES UP NEAR ASTORIA

States Line Freighter Fails to Make Longview for Lumber Cargo

(Associated Press)

LONGVIEW, Wash., Feb. 14.—The States Line freighter Wisconsin, which was scheduled to start loading lumber here today, was aground in the Columbia River, near Astoria, Ore., shipping officials were informed.

Definite information concerning the grounding of the vessel was not given, although it was said she would be refloated at high tide late today.

Norah Returns To Service in Northern Route

On February 20, the Princess Norah will return to the Skagway service, and on the following day the Princess Maquinna will take up the West Coast service. Announcement to this effect was made at the B.C. Coast Steamship offices yesterday.

It is proposed to keep the Norah in this service until April 6, when the Princess Alice will be moved into the northern route.

The Princess Adelaide is now in port to undergo cleaning and painting.

After the lady had wailed about a lot of trivial complaints, the doctor said: "You should see an optimist. What you have is trouble."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

FLYERS ESCAPE FLAMING PLANE

Naval Aircraft Off Honolulu Becomes Mass of Fire 1,000 Feet Up in Clouds

PILOT'S HEROISM SAVES COMPANIONS

(Associated Press)

HONOLULU, Feb. 14.—Bursting into flames a thousand feet above the ocean off here today, a naval airplane plunged beneath the waves, but its three occupants were saved by other planes which flew to their aid.

Mr. James D. Myers, chief aviation pilot of the Naval Air Station at Pearl Harbor, stuck to his controls although severely burned about the hands. As he brought the torpedo-carrying airplane to the ocean's surface two miles seaward of Diamond Head, he and two others leaped into the water.

TWO GIVE LIVES IN PLANE CRASH

Pilot and Airport Head Perish in Curtiss Machine at Tampa

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 14.—Mr. Percy C. Henry, Jr., pilot of a Curtiss Wright aeroplane service ship, was killed and a passenger, Mr. W. C. Glose, said to have been vice-president of the Philadelphia Airport Development and Construction Company, was fatally injured in the crash of their plane near here today.

Increase in Travel By Ships Forecast

WINNIPEG, Feb. 14.—A large increase in tourist travel and a better steamship service between Pacific Coast ports, made possible by the addition of three new steamships to the Canadian National fleet, will bring a large amount of business to Western Canada and Pacific Coast ports, in the opinion of Mr. A. A. Gardiner, assistant general passenger traffic manager, Canadian National Railways, who is in Winnipeg today, en route to Montreal from a trip to the Pacific Coast.

"We are looking forward to a much-increased passenger business this Summer, and by present indications there will be more and larger special party movements than ever before," said Mr. Gardiner. "There will also be a number of special parties from Great Britain and the Continent," continued Mr. Gardiner, "among which the British Medical Association will be the largest."

The addition of three new ships to the Pacific Coast fleet will introduce an excellent service between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle and the Northern ports. This and the increased accommodation at Jasper Park Lodge will attract a large amount of Summer traffic to Western Canada and the Pacific Coast, he declared.

Railway to Manage Air Transport Line

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—The Pennsylvania Railway has taken over management of the Transcontinental Air Transport, better known as "T.A.T."

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson will have charge of installation of new radio equipment for the trimotored planes used in flying operations and ninety-five ground weather observation stations will be more closely linked by telegraph and telephone and later by radio communication to provide a complete system of meteorological reports for the operating department of the line.

At The Playhouses

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Although "dog pictures" are practically "out" in filmdom since the rising of talking pictures and Movietone, "Ranger," a clever canine trained to play "mad dog" and stampede a city crowd, has a very important role in "The Girl From Havana," all-talking Fox-Movietone feature now showing at the Playhouse Theatre.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Joseph Gerard, supporting Tom Mix in his William Fox production, "Soft Boiled," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, was also seen with Tom in his thriller, "Three Jumps Ahead." Gerard, who plays the role of the ranch owner in this new Mix exciter, is a serious, sincere actor, who was on the stage many years before entering pictures.

CAPITOL THEATRE Roland West had the co-operation of metropolitan police departments in producing and directing "Alibi," the United Artists mystery drama now playing at the Capitol Theatre. The story, adapted by C. Gardner Sullivan from a stage play, "Nightstick," deals with love and thrills in the underworld, but the police are the heroes and the criminals stripped of all romance.

DOMINION THEATRE Douglas Fairbanks appears as a co-star with Mary Pickford for the first time in "Taming of the Shrew," the rollicking talking farce now at the Dominion Theatre. This big United Artists attraction gives Doug .his second speaking role on the screen. "Taming of the Shrew," the all-talking comedy film, presents the bouyant star as the irrepressible Petruchio, barnstorming Romeo, who explodes a bomb-shell of high spirits in the home of his father-in-law-to-be to woo and tame the fair but shrewish Katherine, played by Mary Pickford.

VARIETY THEATRE "Teddy," three brilliant acts of 100 per cent comedy, will be presented at the Variety Theatre for the last time this afternoon and tonight by the popular Toby Leitch Players, with an all-star cast. This most mirthful of modern farce-comedies has proved an outstanding success. Variety audiences have greeted it with enthusiasm all the week. Raymond Toby Leitch offers his finest brand of hilarious comedy, and the talented Leone Weber is cast in a part well suited to her powers as a truly artistic comedienne.

ROYAL THEATRE Today is the last opportunity to see the amusing comedy "Hay Fever," played at the Royal Theatre by the Gordon McLeod Players. This brilliant little play has captivated the large audiences who have seen it by its quaint humor and splendid acting. So if you have not been to the Royal this week, do not miss the matinee or the evening performance. On Monday and for the week, the fine play, "Interference" will be presented. This is one of the cleverest and most enthralling dramas produced during many years. Originally played in London at the St. James Theatre, it was an enormous success. Since then it has been played in many countries; and has also been seen on the screen.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Stage

Royal—The Gordon McLeod Players offer "Hay Fever."

Variety—Toby Leitch Players present "Teddy."

Crystal Garden — Swimming and Dancing.

On the Screen

Capitol—"Alibi," with an all-star cast.

Columbia—"Soft Boiled," featuring Tom Mix.

Dominion—Mary Pickford in "Taming of the Shrew."

Playhouse—"The Girl From Havana," with Lola Lane.

"Sally" Blooms In Radiance of Natural Color

"Sally," Marilyn Miller's first motion picture, which comes to the Capital Theatre, Monday, is made entirely in technicolor showing the natural colors of costumes, settings and other spectacular effects.

The picture has been adapted from Miss Miller's greatest stage success, and is an all-dialogue production with singing and dancing on the most lavish scale ever attempted on the screen. An all-star supporting cast is seen with Miss Miller. Pert Kelton, who played in Ziegfeld's "Rio Rita," is the ingenue lead and Alexander Gray, the musical comedy favorite who sang in "The Desert Song," appears in the romantic lead. Joe E. Brown, Ford Sterling and T. Roy Barnes are the chief comedians in the gay and rollicking story of a grand duke who becomes a waiter and a humble waitress who becomes a stage star.

"The Love Parade" Cosmopolitan In Character

"The Love Parade," the screen's first original talking-musical romance is an international affair.

The story is of an Hungarian.
The libretto is by an American.
The lyrics are by an Englishman.
A Frenchman is starred.
A German is director.

The cast includes an Italian, a Welshman, a Czecho-slovakian, a daughter of Spain and a Canadian.

"The Love Parade," a modern musical extravaganza, coming to the Dominion Theatre for six days starting Monday, includes in the cast fourteen American-born players in leading supporting roles.

Thus, the talent of the world is assembled by Paramount to make "The Love Parade" one of the outstanding successes of the current season.

LUMBER OUTPUT AGAIN ON RISE

Sharp Increase Is Reported by Lumbermen's Association During Past Few Days

SEATTLE, Feb. 14.—Lumber production which dropped rapidly during January because of adverse weather conditions, increased sharply during the week ending February 8, reports issued today by the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, revealed.

Two hundred and twelve mills in the Douglas fir region of Washington, Oregon and British Columbia, reported that production during the week was 40 per cent greater than the previous week, although orders increased but 8 per cent.

Orders revelved by the mills, however, exceeded the output by 16 per cent during the past four weeks.

Production reported by 297 mills during the first six weeks of the year was about 20 per cent under the cut for the corresponding period of last year. The cut was 823,167,393 feet this year, and 1,923,263,925 feet in 1929.

ALLEGE POLITICAL ACTION

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 14.—Premier G. H. Ferguson informed the Ontario Legislature today that an investigation had been commenced into charges that Magistrate P. H. Burgess, of Port Credit, had taken an active part in the last provincial election.

GOES TO DENMARK

OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—Dr. J. A. Ruddick, dairy and cold storage commissioner, will represent Canada at the International Dairy Congress at Copenhagen, Denmark, in 1931.

(SYNOPSIS)

Lambert Colfax, who married Stella, a burlesque actress of the eighties, deserts her and their child Missie. Stella has another daughter, Ellen, whose father is reputed to be dead.

The house settled down after Lambert's departure, into a grim routine of supply and demand. Ellen took a clerical position, and every morning at six Missie went downstairs and lighted the fire, for those were the days of early openings, and Ellen had to be at work at 7:30. She cooked the breakfast, got Ellen off, and went to school. At nine or thereabouts, Stella came down, drank some coffee and then made the beds. She seemed to have no plans, no hopes. Sometimes, but not often, she went to the market. She carried a basket on her arm, and the touch of rouge under her veil was increasingly evident.

But the trips to market were disquieting to the girls. She spent too much, for one thing, and also there was something vaguely mysterious about them. She had never marketed in the old days. One day Ellen's office was closed, and she followed Stella at a distance. She saw her do her buying, and then take up her position at the curb as though waiting for something or sohebody.

Ellen waited, and Stella stood there until an ancient carriage drew up, driven by a negro coachman, and there descended a tall thin old woman in a jet dolman and a high black bonnet. A boy ran out to hold the horses. The coachman descended with a market basket and followed his mistress inside. Stella was about to follow her when Ellen touched her on the arm.

"What are you waiting for mom?" Stella started.

"I'm not waiting for anything," she said sharply. "What are you doing here?"

She went home very quietly, Ellen carrying the basket, but inside the door she called for Missie and caught her to her in a storm of tears. Ellen never told Missie about that incident, or that the old woman was her grandmother, Mrs. William Colfax.

No letters came from Lambert. He had left the city. That was all they knew, and his promises had been as unreliable as always. For three or four months a lawyer in town named MacDonald paid the rent. Then he notified Stella that the funds in his hands were exhausted, and pending the receipt of others the paymenta would cease. Stella made an elaborate toilet—corset, rouge and all—and went to see him. But he could do nothing. He was a gray-haired man who had lost an arm in the war, and he lived not far away. He was a Scot, and every April, on his birthday or perhaps on some national holiday in his native land, he employed a piper in the MacDonald plaid, to walk up and down the pavement in front of his house, bare knees and all, and to wail deliriously for an hour or so.

One of Missie's earliest memories was of that piper.

But his sentiment was apparently limited to the bagpipes. He disapproved of Stella, of her reputed history, of her emphasized figure, of her unfortunate attempt to charm him. He sat fingering the safety pin which fastened his empty sleeve above his breast.

"You are a strong woman. Can't you find anything to do? Why let your child support you?"

"Why shouldn't my husband do that? He is my husband, you know."

"I don't even know where he is."

"They know."

"Possibly. They have not confided in me."

"And they'll do nothing?"

"They have very little. Yes, I know," he said, as Stella made a scornful gesture. "They keep a carriage and all that. But they have a certain position to keep up."

And then Stella forgot herself.

"Position," she said. "Look at my position. I'm likely to be turned out on the streets!"

"I don't know much about these matters, but with what is still an excellent figure . . ."

"I'm too old," said Stella, thinking of the theatres. "Even with stage make-up on my face—"

"My dear lady!" he said. "I was alluding to a store. Don't they have women of—er—good figure in certain departments? Cloaks and so on. It seems to me—I could give you a letter possibly."

To give him his due, he did give her a letter. What else could he do? There was no vast eleemosynary machinery yet devised to help dependent women, not even an aroused public conscience to recognize them. They lived their narrow despairing lives, died and passed on, unremembered and ungrieved.

Stella walked out with her letter in her hand, but she did not go home at once. She walked, in her tight stays, to an old and handsome part of the town. Here, each within its own property, shut off from the vulgar by an iron fence, lived the aristocracy of the city; their brick or stone houses lineal descendents of the log cabins of their grandfathers. At such a property Stella went in. Her head was high, her eyes dangerous. She jerked the bell viciously.

"I would like to see Mrs. Colfax."

The same colored man who had driven the carriage had opened the door. He stood gazing at her; he knew her and she knew he knew her.

"Mrs. Colfax is not receiving, ma'am."

"She'll receive me, or I'll know why. Tell her Mrs. Lambert Colfax is here."

He wavered, turned, leaving her to stand in the vestibule. But Stella was aroused; she stepped inside and slammed the front door. When he came down again she was at the foot of the stairs.

"Mrs. Colfax can't see you."

"Then I'll see her. Stand out of my way, you — nigger."

But old Ishmael had the bottom step of the stairs and he held his position.

"I'm going up, I tell you."

"Beg pardon, but you're not, ma'am. The ladies aren't receiving."

"They'll receive plenty from me when I see them," shouted Stella. But once more she knew she was beaten, and once more there was a certain dignity in her retreat. She went down the steps, along the drive and out of the gates, quietly and without looking back, although she knew that cold and hostile eyes were staring at her from the window behind her.

Stella kept her letter for a week. Then Mr. Elliott becoming urgent, she decided to present it. It was Missie who stood over her while she dressed for that visit. Missie who suggested the black dress, and who hid the rouge pot before Stella could get to it.

"You look fine, mom. Quiet and nice."

Stella eyed her, but she said nothing.

She secured the position. There were no mannequins then, slim bits of girls delicately made up, on whom even ordinary garments reflected a part of the glamour of youth. "Fine" women were in demand, full-figured, not too young. They both sold their wares and exhibited them.

Missie soon left school. She was not sorry to leave. Her clothes had been shabby for a long time; her spring-heeled shoes were worn. And with the frank cruelty of youth the other pupils had increasingly left her alone. She felt timid and shy with them, self-conscious. When, on Decoration Day, each child took a plant to decorate the soldier's graves in the cemetery on the hill, her plant was always the smallest and cheapest. Yet the lines of veterans in procession never failed to bring tears to her eyes, while the other girls giggled and laughed.

She did not know why she wept. The war to her meant only a series of dreary dates in a dreary history book. Yet the sound of the fifes and drums, the sight of the men who had fought for those tattered flags, affected her profoundly. The tears rolled down her cheeks. She knew nothing of America, its hopes and aspirations, its enormous potentialities; later on she was to learn, to suffer and almost die in the learning, and out of that, as out of all pain, something fine was to come. But not then. Not until until years had gone by.

She was alone all day, after that. Sometimes she sat, after her work was done, and tried to puzzle things out. They seemed to have no meaning for her. Men were hard and cruel, and yet they fought wars and died for their country. Strange inconsistency. Children were born, in pain and sometimes they died. Then why have to suffer and bear a child? To what end? Women loved men, bore their children, did the best they knew how, and lost them anyway. Why should that be?

She would never marry. She would look after Stella the rest of her life, make up to her, if she could. A wave of love for her mother, of resentment for what life had done to her, would fairly shake her.

GERMANY HAS SALOON LAW

REICHSTAG WOULD LIMIT PLACES AVAILABLE FOR SELLING OF LIQUOR

Restrictions of Licences May Go Far to Put Halt to Great Outlay for Liquor

By EDGAR ANSEL MOWRER
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

BERLIN, Germany, Feb. 14.—Germany spends each year on alcohol and tobacco enough money to pay the total of her reparations payments due to the Allies. Nevertheless, the antialcohol movement has not made much progress until recently. Yet Germany, the land of wine and beer, has a fairly strong antialcohol movement, which is strongest among the very numerous members of the so-called Youth movement.

One of the leaders of the war on alcohol is the Socialist deputy, Wilhelm Sollmann, who has agitated against the demon rum for twenty-seven years. He has just been instrumental in having accepted by a Reichstag committee the so-called Saloon Law, in German the Schankstaetten Gesetz. Asked to define this bill, he replied as follows:

TO DIMINISH SALOONS

"This law will diminish the number of saloons and places where alcohol is sold, will discipline the sale of intoxicating liquor and, if possible, raise the level of the saloon keepers. We tried to have a number of licensed places reduced to one for each 400 inhabitants, but there is small chance of realizing this yet.

"We hope for improvements in three directions. First, by the new law no new concessions can be granted for three years; second, protection of minors shall be completed so that no beer may be sold to children under sixteen years of age and no spirits to those under eighteen; third, the closing law will be revised to make the time limit of sales earlier.

"Our next aim is local option, but today there is no majority in the Reichstag to enable us to get this.

"The movement against alcohol grows steadily in Germany. When I began the campaign I was considered mad, while today virtually all the parties outside the vested interests agree that the consumption of alcohol must be diminished.

"Our success is chiefly due to four reasons: 1, Female suffrage; 2, the Youth movement; 3, the Socialist campaign among the workers, and, 4, the churches. My personal opposition to alcohol is based on its effects on the workers, for both economic and hygienic reasons. The workers should not waste their already low wages by spending money for drink. The workers must eat and live better. Moreover, through the use of alcohol the workers are so stupefied physically and morally that they become indifferent to their political duties."

FILIPINOS AND JAPANESE PLACE IN PACIFIC WATERS

By WALTER ROBB
(Copyright, 1930, By The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

MANILA, P.I., Feb. 13.—Filipino leaders are urged to protest to Washington against the use of the Philippines as an international football in the London Naval Conference, and the reported plan of the American delegation possibly to abandon fortification of the islands and thereby influence the Japanese to pare down their demands, in a leading editorial in The Philippine Herald, organ of Manuel Quezon, President of the Insular Senate.

Japan's object, says the article, is to prevent fortification of the islands. She forced the United States to agree not to fortify the Philippines as a condition to accepting a 5-5-3 ratio in the Washington treaties of 1922. Japan has a similar objective in insisting on a 10-10-7 ratio for cruisers and lesser vessels now.

The Herald says that if the Philippines are to be free, the United States should not subscribe to agreements to keep them unfortified. The paper declares: "We are unable to prepare for independent statehood because such agreements would be binding upon the Philippines as upon America while the United States remains in control here. We should protest against America's trading with the welfare and safety of 13,000,000 Filipinos."

ORANGUTANG BABY BORN IN CAPTIVITY

By WILLIAM H. STONEMAN
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

ROME, Italy, Feb. 14.—Perhaps it was because they had been reading Fascist propaganda urging the population of Italy to rear larger families for the glorification of "La Patria"—or perhaps it just happened

At any rate Sahib and Sahiba, well known citizens of the Rome Zoo, presented their overjoyed keepers yesterday with a baby orangutang, the first ever to be born in the Eternal City and one of the first which ever first glimpsed the light of day while its parents were in captivity.

Sahib, who apparently does not appreciate the importance of fatherhood, snarled fiercely when he first saw the child, while Sahiba, who is more philosophical about the matter, sat in a corner and grinned.

Man Injured in Back; Shoulder Was Hurt

"That stablike pain hit me in the back one day, and I knew I had strained my back," writes S. E. Couture from Colon. "At Espinosa's drug store they urged me to use Nerviline. I am glad I did so, because with Nerviline I rubbed all the soreness out of my back and shoulder joint." There is wonderful relief for muscular pain in Nerviline. It drives away rheumatism, takes the stiffness out of sore joints. It's fine for strains, sprains and stiffness. For coughs, hoarseness and sore chest Nerviline is a boon to the entire family. Get a 35c bottle from your druggist today. (Advt.)

CASE OF APPEALS

That the right of appellants to take appeals from the Municipal Courts of Revision to either the County or Supreme Courts should not be curtailed, was the opinion expressed by Mr. L. A. Hanna, Liberal, Alberni, when the Municipal Committee of the House received a request from the Unio nof British Columbia Municipalities to amend Section 228 of the Municipal Act to provide that all such appeals be to a judge of the County Court having jurisdiction within the municipality.

The reason for the proposal of the union was to avoid the expense of Supreme Court trials over trifling assessment appeals. Mr. Hanna considered that if it was a question of costs, that the act could be amended dealing with costs only.

The union's request will receive the consideration of the Municipal Committee.

SOUND AUCTION and CONTRACT

Duplicate matches, in which each deal is bid and played not only at the table where originally dealt but at every other table competing in the match provide the only practical means at our disposal to observe to what extent the actualities of the game confirm or deny the soundness of this or that theory. It was Herbert Spencer, I believe, who stated that when a theory is contradicted by a fact, the theory must be wrong.

Let us enumerate some of the actualities of the above deal and observe by the results how best to handle similar situations. First, at two tables the deal was passed out because South refused to open the bidding with his holding. The psychology that actuated such pass is almost laughable, as the player who will refuse to open the bidding with one Spade with South's hand would have no hesitancy in so doing if holding, say a vastly inferior holding from the standpoint of fitting with partner's possible holding. Second, at three tables the deal was played at three Spades; in two such instances by South and in one by North. In the first two instances, South opened the bidding with one Spade. East passing, North bid three Spades, concluding the bidding. The trouble here was, no doubt, that South either did not read North's message clearly, such message being "partner go to four Spades even though holding a four card suit if, side strength will warrant, or lacking the courage, with two doubletons of doubtful trick value and a side suit but Q-J high, to accept North's clear invitation to go to a game bid. But is the failure to arrive at a game contract wholly South's fault? In my opinion, North was more to blame. North, with six Spades to the King and a singleton Ace, should have jumped South's bid of one Spade to four. Not only do his supporting values, for the most part distributional, warrant such jump assist, but the number of cards held of partner's suit should warrant the presumption that the original bid was with a suit of but four cards, with which the initial bidder, lacking the King, might be in doubt about advancing to a contract of four if holding little beyond the minimum side strength required for the original bid. In fact, North could visualize that there could be, in all probability, four odd in Spades even though South held but the bare minimum, as would be the case had South held, instead of his actual holding, the following:

♠ A Q J 2 ♥ K 9 ♦ 3 2 ♣ 9 8 7 5 4

With this holding South could have no justification to advance a jump assist of three Spades to four, yet it is obvious that four Spades is as equally feasible with this holding as with the actual holding.

SALIENT POINTS OF THE BIDDING

Auction: South, with a semi-two-suiter, opens the bidding with one Spade, the higher ranking of his two suits. West passing, North, with six Spades to the King and a singleton Club, jumps the bid to three Spades to shut out, if possible, an embarrassing or possibly dangerous bid by fourth hand. It should be manifest that not only is North's holding of little or no defensive value against an adverse suit bid, but the length held in partner's suit can well mean that partner is almost equally defenceless; consequently on this basis alone North should jump partner's bid to at least three Spades and possibly to four, as if the partnership cannot make four Spades, then they could not possibly save game against an adverse bid, say, of the other Major, if permitted by a pass.

Contract: The bidding at Contract is the same as that given above at Auction, except that North should jump South's one Spade bid to four Spades, for the reasons heretofore stated in the preamble and in the above Auction bidding.

THE PLAY

West opens the three of Hearts. The Dummy going down, East wins with the Ace and returns the King of Diamonds, followed by the Ace and a small Diamond. South trumps the third Diamond lead with the Ace of Spades, following which he leads two rounds of Spades to exhaust the adverse trumps, enters the Dummy hand with the Ace of Clubs, and trumps the remaining losing Diamond in Dummy, concluding the play, as the Dummy hand is now established.

Megaphone Is Cause of Eruption as Lions and Eskimos Battle to Draw

Fan Defies Referee And Police for 20 Minutes at Seattle

Ion Booed and Showered by Irate Fans for Checking Use of Noise Maker—Bucks Increase Lead by Whipping Cubs, 4-0

SEATTLE, Feb. 14. — After a twenty-minute interruption while Referee Mickey Ion, policemen and officials of the Seattle club argued with a spectator over the use of a megaphone, the Eskimos played a scoreless overtime tie with the Vancouver Lions here tonight, to continue their undefeated record in their last eight starts. Ion refused to start the overtime period until the fan gave up two megaphones he and his wife were using.

During the short rest period between the third and the extra periods, the referee spotted the two spectators cheering with the megaphones. Contending that the hockey rule book prohibits the cheer instruments at such games, he ordered the Seattle officials to take them away from the fans. They refused, and three policemen were called. When the two megaphone-holders threatened to sue the Seattle club if the instruments were forcibly taken away from them, the officials went back and tried to persuade Referee Ion to go on with the game. He declined and announced that the contest would not continue until the megaphones were given up or the two fans left the arena.

Nate Druxman, business manager of the Seattle club, and a friend of the two spectators finally presuaded them to give him the cheer horns by telling them that the referee would give Vancouver the game.

ION GIVEN RAZZ

The 5,000 fans cheered the two megaphone rooters when they first refused to give up the instruments, and booed and showered the referee with paper and peanuts.

The game was exceptionally fast, both goalies, Jackson of Vancouver, and Winkler of Seattle, starring in the nets. The Eskimos had a little the best of the play in the first part of the battle, while the Lions finished strong, but neither sextette could put the little rubber past the gate keepers.

Both teams played with five men a large part of the time, as seventeen penalties were called.

Ralph Blyth, young forward recently acquired by the Lions, suffered a broken collarbone in the third period, when he collided during a torrid scrimmage.

The Line-Ups

Seattle		Vancouver
Winkler	Goal	Jackson
Benson	Defence	J. Jerwa
Daly	Defence	Brennan
Anderson	Wing	Sanderson
Walker	Centre	Beattie
Sutherland	Wing	McAdam

Seattle subs.—Townsend, Browne, Harris, Savage, Reinikka.

Vancouver subs.—Arnott, Blyth, F. Jerwa, Dunn.

Referee—"Mickey" Ion.

Summary

First period—No score.
Second period—No score.
Third period—No score.
Overtime period—No score.

Penalties

First period—Brenhan and Benson.

Second period—Beattie, Brennan, Harris (2), Daly, F. Jerwa, Sutherland and J. Jerwa.

Third period—Browne, Sutherland, McAdams and J. Jerwa.

Overtime period—Brennan, Benson and McAdam.

CUBS DROP ANOTHER

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14.—The homeless Victoria Cubs suffered their third successive shutout in a Pacific Coast Hockey League game when they dropped a 4-0 decision to the Portland Buckaroos here tonight. The league's utility goalie, Red Hardaker, replaced Earl Robertson in the Cubs' net tonight. Robertson is under suspension for indifferent playing.

The Bucks played determined hockey tonight and deserved their victory. The Cubs, however, did not get a break. They skated fast and worked hard throughout but they couldn't get a goal.

Bobby Rowe's prize recruit, Ronald Lyon, took a large share of the evening's glory by scoring two unassisted goals. They were both of the fortunate variety, however, his first slipping by Hardaker in the first period after it hit the post and the goalie thought it had gone by. Early in the second period he made it 2 to 0 for his team when he batted one in from a scrimmage in front of the Victoria net. Less than two minutes later Pratt added another for the Bucks. Armstrong brought the scoring to a close late in the final session when he beat the Cub custodian on a lone rush.

Thirteen penalties were meted out during the fray, which failed to produce anything out of the ordinary other than a major penalty to Lou Coupes, Portland sub. He drew his ten-minute banishment following a short jabbing bout with Herman Runge, Victoria defence man, in the third period. Runge got a minor penalty for his part in the affair. It was Runge's fourth minor enforced rest during the game, the other three penalties being meted out to him in the middle frame.

The Lineups

Portland		Victoria
Aitkenhead	Goal	Hardaker
McGoldrick	Defence	Kenny
Pratt	Defence	H. Runge
Conn	Wing	P. Runge
Downie	Centre	Kelly
Lyon	Wing	Evans

Portland subs—Armstrong, Teel, Coupez and Huffman.

Victoria subs—Williamson, Lowe, Osmundson and Leacock.

Referee—Gordon Meeking.

Summary

First Period—1, Portland, Lyon, 8:56. Penalties: Kenny.

Second Period—2, Portland, Lyon, 4:08; 3, Portland, Pratt, 1:06. Penalties: H. Runge (3), P. Runge (2), Downie, Armstrong, Pratt.

Third Period—4, Portland, Armstrong, 18:41. Penalties: H. Runge, Coupez, Kenny (3 mins.), Coupez (10 mins.).

Sand Has Lot to Do With Shots

By SOL METZGER

When Ted Ray led the last British Ryder Cup team to America, the big fellow did not fare well in Oakmont's sand during the 1927 United States Open. Up till then he had been sand's master. Asked why the furrowed traps of this Pittsburgh course bothered him, Ted replied, "I didn't have time to taste it."

Ted always jokes. Once when asked why his pitches were so high he answered, "There are no b—— bunkers up there." So, you see, the stars like to avoid sand. But they do have to know it, even if not by taste.

They follow this general rule: When the sand is heavy or packed they drive their niblicks into it about an inch short of the ball to explode. When light they take as much as three or four inches. Another thing they do is to keep the right hand as much underneath the shaft in hitting through as possible. Same as in pitching. The idea, of course, is to prevent the toe of the niblick turning in and smothering itself in sand. It's a cut shot, you see, and in cut shots the blade is laid open and kept that way.

NANAIMO GIRLS WIN CAGE TITLE

Mid-Island Championship Goes to Coal City by 15-10 Victory Over Felixes in Exciting Game

NANAIMO, Feb. 14.—Nanaimo Senior Girls, formerly the Rinkey Dinks, won the senior "B" championship of the Mid-Island district here last night when they defeated the Felixes by 15-10, in a fast and hard game, after being on the low end of the half-time score of 8-5.

The game was exciting throughout, and spectators were highly enthusiastic over every play. The third quarter ended 10-10, and for the first four minutes of that period no score was made, so tight did each defence set in. The Seniors started long shots, one of which entered to give them the lead, and a converted penalty gave them three points over the Felixes, which they held until the last minute. The Felixes, tiring then, weakened on their defence, and the Seniors sunk their last counter to end the game, 15-10.

In the preliminary, a junior play-off game, the Junior High School defeated the less experienced Wideawakes by 14 to 5. Scorers and players follow:

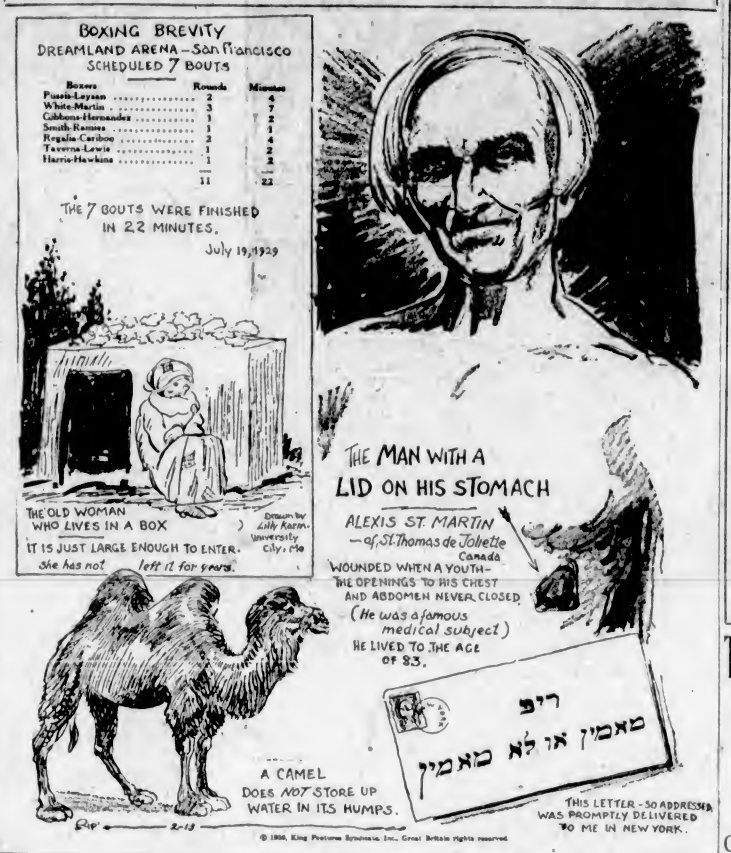

Seniors—Dora Robinson (8), Aggie Richardson (3), Grace Mosdell (2), Dorothy Haddow (2), Dcreen Tessini and Ethel Malone.

Felixes—Lizzie Main (4), Lottie Volmers (3), Jean Sutherland (1), Olive Hughes, Ethel Bell, Elsie Walton (2).

B.C. Girls' Hoop Team May Make Tour of Europe

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14.—Secretary George Winter, of the British Columbia Basketball Association, has been offered the opportunity, through President W. A. Aldritt, of the Canadian body, of sending a British Columbia senior girls' team to a big world tourney at Prague this Summer. Mr. Winter and other officials of the association are very much in support of the idea, and ways and means are being discussed of sending a representative quintette to Europe. In the opinion of officials, it is all a question of finance, and if support is forthcoming a team will be sent. The Grads, of Edmonton, are unable to go. A team of about ten players, a chaperone and a manager would make the trip.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT . . . . . By Ripley

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

Albanians Shake Their Heads for "Yes" and Nod for "No"—Anyone who has spent even a short time in Albania can verify this statement. Leonie N. Brooke, 839 Clackamus Street, Portland, Ore., has spent many years in Albania, and says that the Albanian says "po po" for "yes," but shakes the head as for "no." He says "jo jo" for "no," but nods his head, as we do to denote affirmation.

CUP TIES WILL HOLD INTEREST IN O.C. TODAY

Fifth Round of English and Third Round of Scottish Cup Scheduled to Be Played

FAVORITES EXPECTED TO ADVANCE EN MASS

(Canadian Press Cable)

LONDON, Feb. 14. — Tomorrow's major football events in England and Scotland will consist of cup ties. In England the fifth round of the Football Association competition will have been reached, while in Scotland they will be playing the third.

The English ties will be:

Newcastle United vs. Brighton and Hove.

Huddcrafield Town vs. Bradford City.

West Ham United vs. Millwall.

Manchester City vs. Hull City.

Sunderland vs. Notts Forest.

Middlesbrough vs. Arsenal.

Sheffield Wednesday vs. Bradford.

The games will be played on the grounds of the first named clubs.

With the exception of the Middlesbrough fixture it looks as if the home clubs should win in each tie. London will have a "Derby" at Upton Park and it will likely be Millwall's adieu to the competition for this season. Brighton and Hove, the surprise team of the year, deserved a better fate than being compelled to make the long journey to Newcastle. They will probably put up a stern fight and may win, as Newcastle's glories have temporarily departed. "The" team of the year—Sheffield Wednesday—league champions and present leaders, receive due reward in the draw after their brilliant success against Oldham Athletic and doubtless Bradford's visit to Hillsborough will be so much wasted effort. Huddersfield Town should also take the measure of the other Bradford team still in the competition. Aston Villa have the toughest task in Blackburn Rovers. Both have fine cup-fighting records and their encounter is obviously the outstanding match of the series. Arsenal are conceded a fine chance to beat Middlesbrough, who have played rather erratically so far in the competition, while Hull City should make their last bow as a cup contender against Manchester City.

Hamilton Academicals vs. King's Park.

Partick Thistle vs. Aberdeen.

Hibernians vs. Hearts.

Dundee vs. Ardrieonians.

Celtic vs. St. Mirren.

Falkirk vs. Leith Athletic.

Albion Rovers vs. Montrose.

Motherwell vs. Rangers.

Home clubs are first named.

By long odds the visit of Rangers to Motherwell is the great game of the eight ties. Rangers have not done so wonderfully in the series so far. They just scraped through in the first round against Queen's Park, while they only eliminated Cowdenbeath after a replay in the second. The match is an even money affair. All Edinburgh will be on hand to see the local teams, Hibernians and Hearts, battle. Another splendid attraction will be the match between Partick Thistle and Aberdeen. Hamilton Academicals, who eliminated Kilmarnock, the cupholders, in the last round, now find the fine second division club, King's Park, in their path to further advancement.

Shikat Defends Wrestling Title Against Judson

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14.—Richard Shikat, Philadelphia, recognized in New York and Philadelphia as the world's champion wrestler, successfully defended his title in a battle with Frank Judson, of Boston, here tonight. The Philadelphian threw the challenger with a body slam after 1 hour, 7 minutes, 33 seconds of grappling.

CARPET BOWLING

An executive meeting of the Capital City and District Carpet Bowling League will be held on Friday, February 21, at 8 p.m., at the Civil Service clubrooms, Menzies Street. Entries for the open doubles, championship singles and novice singles should be filed with the secretary on or before the above date.

Further results of league matches follow:

DIVISION I

Esquimalt "A" 22, Willows "B" 12.
St. Mark's "A" 9, Willows "C" 21.
Lake Hill "A" 18, Willows Park 16.
Willows Park 18, Esquimalt "A" 16.
Willows "B" 17, Lake Hill "A" 10.
Willows "D" 13, St. Mark's "A" 14.

DIVISION II

Section "A"

Lake Hill "D" 18, A.O.F. "A" 13.
Esquimalt "B" 19, St. John's "B" 13.
A.O.F. "D" 7, A.O.F. "A" 28.
Crystal Garden "A" 19, St. Martin's 11.

Section "B"

H.B. "A" 26, L.O.A. "B" 13.
James Bay 19, A. & N. "A" 10.
Willows Oaks won from H.B. "A" by default.

FOOTBALL LINE-UPS

Victoria West, Division II, line-up for today's game with the Maple Leafs at Beacon Hill, upper ground, at 1:15 o'clock was announced last night by Manager Okell as follows: Price; Hazzard, Burnett; Thompson, Levy, Lorandi; Wilkerson, Okell, Miller (capt.), Warswick and J. Hay. Reserve, H. Hay.

Esquimalt Juniors—Barker; Anderson and Warder; Brien, B. Hicks and Mitchell; Stewart, S. Hicks, Evans, Clarke and McLean. Reserves, Wright, Lennox and McKechnie.

Annual Meeting Falls in Line With British Body in Deciding Against Change

HAMILTON GIVEN CANADIAN OPEN

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, Feb. 14.—Recommendation that the Canadian open championship to be held at the Hamilton Golf and Country Club and the Canadian amateur championship at the London Hunt Club was contained in the report of President C. E. Harvey, of Winnipeg, and the executive committee presented at the thirty-first annual meeting of the Royal Canadian Golf Association today. The interprovincial match for the Willingdon trophy will be played at a place and on a date to be announced later.

Vice-President Alfred Collyet, of Montreal, was chosen by the nominating committee to succeed Mr. Harvey. The first vice-president and secretary-treasurer will be elected by the new executive committee, which follows: British Columbia, W. E. Hodges; Alberta, H. Milton Martin; Saskatchewan, N. C. Byers; Manitoba, C. W. Jackson; Ontario, N. H. Piant, A. W. White and L. M. Wood; Quebec, G. H. Porster, Adelard Raymond and N. M. Scott; Maritime Provinces, Senator G. W. Robinson.

The executive considered it would not be wise at this stage to adopt the new ball, which will be adopted by the United States Golf Association in the year 1931. The new ball is 1.69 in size and 1.55 in weight. In declining to follow the United States body, the Canadian Association is adhering to the decision of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club.

SEVEN N.Y. GIANTS STILL HOLDING OUT

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The advance guard of the New York Giants leaves today for San Antonio, Texas, training grounds. The party consists of Frank Hogan, burly catcher; Johnny Hensel, right-handed pitcher; Francis Healey, recruit catcher; Coach Tom Clark and Eddie Brannick, assistant secretary.

Fifteen more members of the team will join the party at St. Louis tomorrow. Seven Giants remain unsigned—Larry Benton and Jack Scott, pitchers; Bob O'Farrell, catcher; Bill Terry, Travis Jackson and Freddie Lindstrom, infielders, and Ed. Roush, outfielder.

TYPOS JUMP TO TOP BERTH IN FIVEPIN LOOP

Colonist Trundlers Win Trio of Games From Jokers on Arcade Alleys to Go to Front

NIGHT OWLS TAKE TWO IN CITY LOOP

Bill Poole and his Colonist Typos threw a bumbshell into the second-half championship aspirations of the Jokers, first-half monarchs, last night on the Arcade Alleys, when they rolled consistently to capture all three games from the much-touted trundlers in the fivepin loop. The trio of wins put the Typos sitting pretty on top of the league, with the Huskies second and the Jokers in third position.

From the start Les Colton's Jokers went up in the air and when they returned to earth they found out they had been ousted from first place to third by losing three games.

Jimmy Hough, anchor man for the Typos, paved the way to victory by rolling three fine games to walk off with the individual and aggregate honors with scores of 267 and 715, respectively. Bill Dunn also rolled a fine total with 661 opposite his name, while Art Harness was the only bowler on the Jokers with over 600 to his credit. The scores:

Colonist Typos

A. Anderson	232	212	136—580
R. Begg	143	238	179—560

NIGHT OWLS TAKE TWO

Colonist Night Owls, who have set a terrific pace all season, kept right on going towards the City League title by taking the odd game from their friendly rivals, Colonist, last night on the Arcade Alleys. Although the Owls failed to chalk up any high or record scores, their superior teamwork has put them where they are today, safely perched in first place.

Herb Pickup, of the Colonist, annexed high aggregate with a total of 822. Charlie Chislett and Albert Hawkins, both teammates, tied for individual honors with 200 pins apiece. The scores:

Packed House Watches Former Champ Defeat Kruse in Great Battle

Portland Matman Unable to Answer Bell in Last Round—McLeod Throws Ken Jones, Seattle—Card Well Received

Weak and groggy from the results of a double wristlock in the seventh round, Bob Kruse, youthful Portland matman, was unable to answer the gong in the last round at the Armories last night in his eight-round wrestling bout with Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world's champion, and Fred Richardson, the third man in the ring, awarded the decision to Lewis. In the semi-wind-up Gordon McLeod, Vancouver grappler, gained two falls on Ken Jones, Seattle butcher boy, after four rounds of grappling. The other two scheduled preliminaries were not staged.

GREAT BATTLE

The Lewis-Kruse match saw a youngster, outweighed by approximately forty pounds, put up a great battle against a member of the old school, drilled in the bitter roads of experience and a master mind of the grappling racket. For the better part of seven rounds Kruse about held his own with the bulky Lewis, but after two minutes and ten seconds of wrestling in the seventh round, when Lewis had a double wristlock on his right wrist, the referee conceded the first fall of a great match to the former champion. Kruse, his hand almost white and his facial expressions showing signs of agony, was helped to his corner by his seconds. When the gong sounded for the last round, the Portlander was unable to continue.

Lewis, master mind that he is, sauntered to the ropes when in difficulty, and he was in such a predicament many times during the struggle. When the former champion sought such protection the fans gave him the "razz," but that's nothing new to the "Strangler." Kruse, game, aggressive grappler, gave Lewis plenty of worry and more than once caused the "Strangler" to take a heavy amount of punishment.

Using the flying tackle, the offensive used by "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg in taking the title from the brow of Lewis, Kruse had the former heavyweight champion somewhat annoyed, much to the delight of the fans.

The "Strangler" tried his headlock quite frequently on his speedier opponent, but when it failed to get the expected results he finally resorted to a double wristlock. Kruse showed that he is also an exponent of this hold, also the body scissors, which he used on several occasions.

McLEOD WINS

The combined body scissors and wristlock executed by Gordon McLeod, Vancouver grappler, pinned Ken Jones, Seattle butcher boy, to the mat in the third round of the semi-wind-up, and a flying tackle, followed by another body scissors gave the Mainland wrestler the second fall and the bout in the next round. Like the Lewis-Kruse battle, it was a humdinger while it lasted and kept the packed house on its feet all the way.

Two exhibition boxing bouts were thrown in for good measure. Dave Barr and Bill Lewis mixed as catchweights, while Danny Pastroe and Tim Keist fought as lightweights.

Judging by the interest shown and the number of fans in attendance last night, the mat game appears due for a great revival here. The Tillicum Athletic Club, which promoted the show, is to be congratulated on the card which sent 2,000 fans away satisfied.

Previous to the commencement of the show, Ken Stuart, radio sports announcer from KJR, Settle, was introduced to the fans, who gave him a reception fit for a champion. Ed Musgrave, Seattle wrestling promoter, who, in conjunction with the Seattle radio station and the Tillicum Athletic Club was partially responsible for the staging of the show, was also introduced.

Izzy Kaplan Always at Training Camps

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

No Spring training trip would be complete without Izzy Kaplan, the pudgy little New York photographer and an institution in that city.

One Spring one of the Yankees had won several ducks in a shooting meet and hit on a perfect place to park them, namely, Izzy's bathroom.

Through some subterfuge, he obtained Kaplan's key, and the live ducks were placed in his bathtub.

When Izzy returned to his room later he heard strange noises coming from the bathroom and rushed down to the desk for a bodyguard to investigate.

Just before the United States entered the World War, and Count von Bernstein, the German Ambassador, was recalled by his Government, Izzy was assigned to get a good picture of him the day he sailed. It was a very serious undertaking, but nothing daunts Kaplan's audacity.

The Count had a very serious, grim look on his face, which didn't suit Izzy.

"Hey, Bernstein," he yelled at the astounded Ambassador, "push your hat back and smile, will ya?"

Primo Carnera to Fight Big Negro At Philadelphia

(Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14.—Peter Tyrell, matchmaker, announced today that he had matched Primo Carnera, the giant Italian, and Ace Clark, 235-pound, six-foot-seven-inch negro, for a ten-round bout here on March 3. Clark has knocked out within the past year "Big Boy" Peterson and Elzear Rioux, the first two victims of Carnera's American tour.

Tyrell said he made the match after a telephone talk with Leon See and Billy Duffy, Carnera's mangers, who are at Hot Springs, Ark.

JACK SHEA WINS SKATING TITLE

LAKE PLACID, N.Y., Feb. 14.—Jake Shea, of Lake Placid, is champion of the amateur speed skaters. He clinched the title to the crown for the second year here today by winning two of the final events in the North American amateur outdoor speed skating championships to run his score for the four-day meet to 120 points, forty points better than Irving Jaffee, of New York, who had placed second. Ross Robinson, of Toronto, finished third with seventy points.

WALKER DECISIVELY OUTPOINTS LOMSKI

Aberdeen Light-Heavy No Match for Champ Of Middle Division

Walker Wins Seven of Ten Rounds in First Invasion of Heavier Class—Westerner Barely Survives "Bulldog's" Vicious Attack

OLYMPIA STADIUM, DETROIT, Feb. 14.—Mickey Walker, middleweight champion of the world, made a successful invasion of the light-heavyweight ranks tonight by decisively defeating Leo Lomski, the Aberdeen, Wash., assassin, in a ten-round battle in the Olympia Arena. Walker, conceding nine and three-quarter pounds, gave the Western contender a one-sided lacing, easily winning seven of the ten rounds by a wide margin. Lomski could offer no defence for Walker's righthand blasts to the chin and vicious left hooks to the head and body. He was in apparent distress in the ninth and tenth rounds and continually wrapped his arms around Mickey's body in an effort to stop his assault.

The match drew a record-breaking crowd for the Olympia Arena, attracting in excess of 17,000 spectators, with receipts in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Walker weighed 163 1-2 at 3 o'clock this afternoon, while Lomski tipped the beam at 173 1-4.

Walker displayed no fear of his taller and heavier opponent. He assumed the offensive from the start and by the time the concluding rounds were finished Lomski was so weary from the battering he received that all the fight had been knocked out of him. It appeared to be questionable whether he might be able to survive Mickey's well-directed shots to the jaw and heavy blows to the body.

Walker began to move convincingly into the lead in the fifth round and from then on the result was never in doubt.

Lomski began to retreat in the sixth and in the seventh was knocked staggering into a corner when Mickey connected heavily with a smashing right and left to the head and body.

Walker opened up an old gash over Lomski's left eye in the fourth round and kept hammering at it incessantly thereafter. By the time the tenth was finished Lomski was bleeding also from a wound over his right eye.

Lomski at no time appeared dangerous and did not come near winning a round unless it was the third, in which he managed to keep the New Jersey bulldog at a safe distance with a long left jab to the face.

Walker appeared to have the edge in the first two rounds on his aggressiveness and sharper punching. He backed Lomski into the ropes in the first under a hard right to the head and left hooks to the head and body. Lomski missed often with Walker carrying the fight to him, and scoring frequently with lefts to the body and head.

WESTERNER STAGGERS

Walker kept up his heavy assault in the sixth and seventh with a barrage of lefts and rights to the head and body. He forced Lomski to break ground in the sixth and in the seventh knocked the Westerner staggering into the ropes with a right and left to the head.

Walker, setting the pace in the eighth round, had Lomski in distress in the ninth when he battered him all over the ring under a blistering attack to the head and body. Lomski evidently was tired and could offer no defence for Mickey's righthand blasts that shook him to the heels.

In the opening bout, Gene McCue, of New York, was given a six-round decision over Tony Cancelo, of Detroit. McCue weighed 171 1-4; Cancelo 173. The decision was greeted with loud cheering of approval.

Harry Dublinsky, of Chicago, pounded Dick Landig, of Wales, around the ring for a popular six-round decision. Each weighed 132 1-2 pounds.

Charley Retzdaff, of Duluth, knocked out Tony Talarico, of Walla Walla, Wash., in the second round of a scheduled six-round bout. Retzdaff weighed 193 1-2; Talarico 195 1-4. Talarico was floored six times in the first round and twice in the second.

MICKEY WALKER

Mandell-McLarnin Bout Now Set for Chicago, March 1

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—The Chicago Stadium Corporation today bowed to the will of the Illinois State Athletic Commission by agreeing to hold the Sammy Mandell-Jimmy McLarnin match on March 1. The decision to agree was made by the Stadium directors, some of whom had considered injunction proceedings to enable them to go through with the original date, February 24, which was denied by the commission.

CARNERA SCORES ANOTHER KAYO

Giant Italian Heavyweight Stops Sigman in First Round at Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 14.—Primo Carnera, huge Italian battler, knocked out big Jim Sigman, of South Carolina, in the first round of their eight-round bout here tonight.

The fight was as one-sided as have been all of Carnera's previous matches in this country. Sigman went down and out in 1 minute and 35 seconds of the first round, after taking eight or nine heavy rights and lefts to the body and face. He landed only two blows, neither of sufficient force to hurt the mammoth Italian.

FIDEL LA BARBA WINS BY KNOCKOUT

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 14.—Fidel La Barba, former flyweight champion, knocked out Charley Sullivan, Bakersfield featherweight, in the fifth round of a scheduled ten-round bout here tonight. Fidel entered the ring at 123 1-4 pounds.

Scott With His Manager

THE above picture gives some idea of the gladiatorial build of the mammoth Britisher, also of his sartorial perfection. Scott is shown along with his manager, Charlie Rose, and Frank Bruen, who is promoting the bout for the Madison Square Garden Corporation.

Rain Halts Cricket

(Canadian Press Cable)

AUCKLAND, N.Z., Feb. 14.—Rain prevented the start of the third and final cricket test match between England and New Zealand here today.

Rosenbloom Proves Too Good for Ace Hudkins

New York Fighter Tames Nebraska Wildcat in Decisive Style Before 17,000 Fans at Madison Square Garden—Lenhart Wins Semi-Final

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska Wildcat, collieded with the cuffing paws of Maxey Rosenbloom in Madison Square Garden tonight and wound up at the end of ten rounds looking like a bedraggled but very tame tabby cat.

Slapsey Maxie, just as wild as the cat and as unorthodox as a ring full of southpaws, slammed and mauled at Hudkins; clouted him from every angle, and brought roars of delight from a packed house of 17,000 that saw as rough a shindig as ever was staged in the big battle pen. There was not a murmur of disapproval at the unanimous decision of the judges and referee in Rosenbloom's favor.

The Harlem Harlequin, taking Hudkins as his final prep for a light-heavyweight title battle with Jimmy Slattery and in his own naive fashion, training for the struggle on a shave and a haircut, made the ferocious Ace appear ridiculous at times. He filled Hudkins with left jabs, led with right-hand punches that rarely missed, pulled tugged and hauled the Ace dizzy, and at the close was bouncing around like a circus clown.

Hudkins, making his light-heavyweight debut in New York, fresh from a knockout victory over Arthur Flynn, in Boston, strove mightily to slug the issue out at close quarters, but Maxey clamped him into submission. The Ace swung, hooked, jabbed and tried everything in the fistic book, but Rosenbloom refused to stay where the "Wildcat" aimed and insisted on slugging back from the most outlandish positions.

The Ace, fresh and confident, managed to win the first round by chasing Rosenbloom all over the ring and slugging whatever part of Maxey's anatomy was available. He won the second by a shade with the same tactics, but Rosenbloom, warmed to his task, turned in the third with his bewildering attack and Hudkins' period of dominance was over.

He tried everything he had but as Maxey continued to slap him about the ring, Hudkins wilted. At the end his bedraggled expression, plus the water that dropped from his blonde hair, left him bristling still like a wildcat, but rather like one that had just been tossed into a river.

Freddy Lenhart, Spokane, light-heavyweight, punched out a ten-round decision over Rosey Rosales, of Cleveland, in a gruelling semi-final. The crowd booed the decision lustily. Lenhart weighed 177½ and Rosales 170.

NET STARS OPPOSE CHANGE IN RULES

Tilden, Borotra, Marjorie Morrill and Betty Nuthall Object to Any Alterations in Code

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Big Bill Tilden is opposed to any change in the rules of tennis.

Answering questions propounded by the magazine, Tennis, Tilden, from France, where he is playing on the Rivera, declared he was opposed to suggested rule changes that would allow only one ball on service instead of two, and that would allow the playing over of all net cord shots which occur during rallies. Tilden pronounced himself indifferent as to whether the word "love" be left out of the scoring system.

Joan Borotra, of France; Marjorie Morrill, of Dedham, Mass., and Betty Nuthall, of England, also are opposed to changes in the rules, although Miss Morrill added in a communication to the magazine that she was opposed to the rest between sets. These tennis luminaries join Helen Wills Moody, world's women's champion, whose replies to the same questions were published several weeks ago, in opposing any change.

Henry Austin, ranking player of England, and Frank Shields, of New York, would limit the service to one ball, and Mrs. L. A. Harper, of Oakland, California, No. 8 in the national ranking, would have all "nets" played over and also would favor revision of the scoring system.

GONE are "GASPERS"

says WAR VETERAN

War veterans remember "gaspers" . . . the so-called Virginia cigarettes handed out with the rations . . . that made billets like gas-filled dugouts . . . that set the army coughing from Flanders to the Somme.

After the war came Buckinghams . . . the blended cigarette that revolutionized all previous smoking values and set new standards of pleasure and enjoyment. Veterans found at last a cigarette cool, smooth and soothing.

Read what R. L. Condy, noted sports writer, says about Buckingham Cigarettes:

"Being slightly gassed overseas, I am compelled to exercise care in smoking. When I returned to Canada, I tried brand after brand of cigarettes, but found none suitable. Then I tried Buckinghams. I can truthfully say that Buckingham Cigarettes are the only cigarettes I can smoke in absolute comfort."

R. L. Condy.

Trading at New York Very Uneven Though Some Rises Appear In Certain Lines

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The stock market continued to make uneven progress today. Several leading industrials and rails were bid up 2 to 12 points to new high levels for the recovery, but the market was filled with cross currents, and a wide sprinkling of shares closed lower. There was little change in the pace of trading, total shares exceeding 3,500,000 shares.

An unexpected firming of call money in the early afternoon encouraged the bear element, and the market sold off substantially for a time, but speculators for the rise regained control of the movement before the close.

The call loan rate rose from 4 to 4½ per cent.

The steel shares displayed outstanding strength with United States Steel rising more than 4 points to a new high for the year at 189¼.

Buoyant feature was Eastman Kodak, which sold up 12 points to 205, a new peak for 1930, but about 60 points below the 1929 top.

Foreign exchanges eased moderately, sterling cables being quoted at $4.86 3-16, off 1-16, and the lowest in weeks.

Communication Company bonds played leading roles in today's market. Aside from those issues and a couple of convertible rails, the list had little depth and net changes in seasoned obligations were minor fractions.

The Magic of Interest

A young man of, say, twenty, who could set aside $50.00 a month until he reached fifty years of age, if he allowed his interest to accumulate and be compounded at 6%, would have $49,772. Of that, his own actual savings would be but $18,000. The balance materializes out of the magic of interest.

To retire then he would have an income of $3,000 a year, which would go on for ever.

Write for Booklet P, which gives you all the details of how to obtain bond interest on small savings.

CALMONT OILS, LTD.

Pick up your stock. Have them registered in your name. It is important.

Interesting disclosures are being made as the drilling bits penetrate deeper. Calmont No. 1 will soon be in the producing limestone with the new Rotary Drill and production is reasonably expected within a comparatively short time.

Well No. 2 looks very encouraging indeed. It penetrated the limestone on February 2 and is located in the Home area, where four wells are producing the heaviest in the Valley. The crew from No. 2 will be transferred to No. 4, as a special crew will go on with the Diamond Drill.

We Advise the purchase of Calmont Oils

BULLISH TONE IS MAINTAINED

Session, However, Interspersed With Reactionary Movements in New York

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The session today, while interspersed with reactionary movements, especially upon the increased call rate to 4 1-2 per cent, has maintained, nevertheless, a bullish tone, although activities of that nature seemed to converge mostly on the steel issues. U.S. Steel closed with a net gain of about 3 1-2 points and Bethlehem about 1 point. The increase of $48,000,000 in brokers' loans was not regarded as excessive.

The activity in steel was accompanied in the forenoon by strength in Consolidated Gas, American Can and Westinghouse Electric. Of the latter three, the close found Gas with a net gain of 2 points, Can with a net loss of about 2, and Westinghouse with a net gain of nearly 2 points.

The remainder of the list was somewhat mixed. Westinghouse's strength of the last couple of days found further justification with the announcement of a record amount of unfilled orders for recent years. Aside from its effect upon the stock itself, this piece of news was an interesting and significant commentary on the trend of general business. To this may be added the estimate of 10 per cent increase in construction by utilities for the current quarter of 1930 over the corresponding period of 1929 and the prediction by the Department of Labor that the employment situation will be normal within ninety days. In view of the constructive views regarding the business situation emanating from official quarters, we continue to feel that bullish activities in the market are the logical ones to pursue for the present.

WHEAT PRICES GO DOWNWARD

Market at Winnipeg Very Weak—No Trace of Export Business in Any Grade

NOT MUCH DOING IN THE COARSE GRAINS

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, Feb. 14. — Wheat prices continued their downward trend today, the local market being very weak, with prices on the bottom more than 3c under the close last night in the old crop months, while the October was a little firmer. Opening prices were little changed, but scattered local selling was quickly in evidence, which was followed by some concentrated selling that was credited to the pool, and this was again followed by rather heavy selling that was said to be for New York account. The offerings were very liberal at times and entirely swamped the local bulls, who were inclined to support the market, but actually the buying was very thin with little doing outside of buying against daily bids, the market going through them for more than one cent.

Not a trace of any export business could be found in any grades. Direct exporters could not confirm any sales over night, and local shippers reporte da very dull situation. Demand for flour was equally dull, world shipments this week outside of North America are 5,765,000 bushels, while North American clearances are estimated by Bradstreet's at 5,203,000. There were no complaints from the Winter wheat belt today, and the general opinion is that little damage has been done so far.

Coarse grains: There was very little doing in the coarse grains and nothing in the cash markets, with no bids for anything received. The futures were steady, but the weakness in wheat brought about some liquidation in oats and barley, and these markets lost ground, while rye closed relatively firm.

Flax: This market closed about 3c lower, the market being very dull, with trade featureless.

Money at Work

Earning—Saving—Investing

Should this stock be held because the original cost was greater than the present?

The original cost of a security should not be given too serious consideration in determining the advisability of selling.

The cost of a security should be left out of the question of selling if it is the proper time to sell. When a security reaches a certain quotation, ask yourself whether or not you would buy at that price. If you decide that you would not buy, is it not a good argument that you should sell?

Of course, money is often made by waiting, but all facts regarding the market, as well as conditions relating to that particular security, must be taken into consideration. The mere fact that it costs more than you would give for it is no reason for you delaying its sale.

Much unnecessary loss has been incurred by those who, unwilling to take a small loss, have held on and taken a large loss in the end because they allowed themselves to be influenced by the original cost.

New Tops and Going Higher Says Whitney

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Whitney, of Wall Street Financial Bureau says: Particularly during the latter part of today's session the market was called upon to absorb heavy profit taking. So much of this was absorbed that I doubt that this factor will be of much importance in tomorrow's session, and, consequently, despite the fact that we are again in new high territory for the year, I advise against profit taking unless specifically recommended, anticipating that further advances will be registered tomorrow and more recorded in the new week.

The rail group resumed its advance this afternoon, as you were advised would be the case. Rails, utilities and steels will continue to feature the session tomorrow.

For some time there has been recommended here the purchase of Continental Baking "A." At this time the stock is again brought to your attention with the recommendation that it be bought before it crosses 50. Earnings last year amounted to $8.93 a share on the stock, in comparison with $4.15 in 1928. In view of the present wheat and flour prices, and considering the stability of bread making as an industry, it is not conceivable that an issue with these earnings and entitled to an $8 dividend will remain around current levels. In the rail group, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western is still very attractively priced, while Missouri, Kansas & Texas still remains below 60.

In the utilities, there are to be expected new highs all around in the coming week, particularly in those utilities set forth here yesterday, which included American Water works, Brooklyn Union Gas, Consolidated Gas, Standard Gas & Electric and United Corporation, which may possibly be obtained tomorrow fractionally below 40, not to mention Western Union, which should certainly be bought when it can be obtained below 215.

There is no necessity for considering profits as yet in American Tobacco, and no reason for not continuing the purchase of Liggett & Myers "B," particularly while below 95, or for that matter any place below 100. The action of United States Steel and the steel group speaks for itself. I believe it is only a question of a short time now when steel will be flirting with the 200 mark.

UNDERTONE AT CHICAGO EASY

Wheat Prices Drop From Previous Close—Weakness Abroad and Slow Export Demand

SHIPPING INQUIRY FOR CORN MODERATE

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—The wheat market showed an easy undertone, and prices dropped over 2c from the finish of the previous day, with some stop-loss orders uncovered on the way down. Buying against bids was a factor in checking the decline. Weakness abroad had some effect on the local market, as did the continued slow export demand.

The recent upturn of 8c from inside figures weakened the technical position, and sentiment on the whole was somewhat less bullish than of late. Co-operatives continue to take cash wheat at loaning prices in the Northwest, with mills paying above the basis for choice grain.

Around 300,000 bushels of Winter wheat was reported sold at Minneapolis. Liverpool closed 1 1-2 to 1 5-8 lower, while Buenos Aires was 1 1-8c lower at midday. Crop reports from the Southwest are generally favorable. Modern Millers summary suggested that damage reports so far were inconsequental.

The Department of Agriculture comment on the 1930 wheat crop outlook for the United States was construed as bearish. Winnipeg had a report that the British Government would take 30,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat and ship it out from Montreal in the Spring.

Corn showed an easy undertone in sympathy with wheat and on the fairly liberal movement of cash grain to terminals. The shipping demand was moderately active, with the spot basis easier on lightweight grain. Buenos Aires futures were 3-4c lower at midday. Oats were dull and easier in sympathy with other grains, while rye declined with wheat. Trade was only fair.

NICKEL EXPORTS SHOW INCREASE

International Has One of Best Outputs on Record — Base Metals Expand

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

TORONTO, Feb. 14.—Exports of all grades of nickel from Canada during January were $112,000 or 21.8 per cent more than during the same month last year. This represents one of the best monthly outputs on record for International Nickel Co., which exports the bulk of the nickel of the Dominion.

Operation on Base Metals Mining Corpn. are to be enlarged upon to embrace development of the East Monarch as well as the West Monarch. This expansion of developments follows upon the rounding out of preparatory work which has now reached a stage to permit power and machine to be turned toward development of the two main deposits rather than on the East. Heretofore the development centered alone on the West Monarch. Under the conditions now prevailing it is estimated that some 60,000 tons of ore will be developed monthly, or sufficient new ore in a period of two months to keep the present 250-ton plant in operation for a full twelve months; in other words a rate six times as great as current mill requirements.

It is thought that yesterday's depression in B.A. Oil was due to the information received regarding earnings which showed the earnings for 1929 to be only fractionally higher than those for 1928.

Amity Copper actively pushing crosscut from the 1,000-foot level in an attempt to catch and indicate important ore body. Showings on this level are satisfactory. Amity intends to erect a concentrator.

Vipond intends to put down an additional number of diamond drill holes to explore the showing opened up early this week, believed to be an extension of the Hollinger No. 4 vein. It is understood that where intersected, the vein was of quite high grade and of good width.

FOREIGN POWER MAKES GROWTH

Profits Show Gain of Over 100 Per Cent—Earned $3.65 a Share—Good Progress Made

Gross and net profits over 100 per cent greater and earnings on the outstanding common stock up sharply at $3.65 a share, as compared with $1.15 a share, are shown in the annual report of Foreign Power Securities Corporation, Limited, covering the twelve months ended October 31, 1929. The growth in earnings shown is all the more remarkable in view of the fact that the preceding period covered a term of eighteen months. The balance sheet reflects the wide expansion achieved during the period, investments, cash and call loans showing an increase of around 50 per cent.

The profit and loss account shows revenues up at $520,092 from $341,039, and profits from investments up at $416,887 from $122,820, gross earnings being $936,980 as compared with $463,860. Deduction of expenses, taxes and interest leaves net earnings of $756,665, up from $434,317, and after preferred dividends, bond interest, discount and organization expenses, $415,898 was added to surplus.

SOME INTEREST IS SHOWN IN MINING

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14.—Irregularity in the oils and weakness in the more prominent mining issues marked today's trading session of the Vancouver Stock Exchange. Active leaders in the oil section of the list included Calmont, Freehold, and Mayland, all of which pointed downward. Calmont was off 6 at $1.54, Mayland dropped 7 to $1.35, and Freehold eased 3 to .60. Loss of 2c were suffered by A. P. Consolidated, and Sterling Pacific at $1.95 and 38 respectively. Firm spots included Dalhousie, Mercury, United, Associated, Eastcrest and Baltac, all of which registered gains ranging from 2c to 4c per share.

Mines were slightly more prominent than on recent days, with Premier and Reeves McDonald leading the section in point of activity. Premier was off 2c at $1.40, while Reeves McDonald suffered a 3 point loss at $1.02. Noble Five eased 2c to 20.

Employment Conditions Improving

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Brokers' loans in the week ended Tuesday increased $48,000,000 to a total of $3,450,000,000.

In the minds of many railroad men who were at first inclined to ridiculte the idea, the consolidation plan of the Interstate Commerce Commission is beginning to take on a serious aspect. The letter of Finance Director Mahaffie of the commission to the Baltimore & Ohio, the Delaware & Hudson, the Wabash and the Chesapeake & Ohio did much to change the original view, and now the formation by the Interstate Commerce Commission of a definite schedule of rules to be followed by rails in filing merger applications, has gone farther to weaken the sceptical attitude of many of these doubters.

Revision of Midcontinent crude oil prices to a point approximately 25 per cent lower than 1929 schedules will alter the basis of negotiations between the Sinclair Oil Company and the Prairie & Gas Company looking to a consolidation of the two concerns, it was learned last night from officials of both companies.

Widespread part-time employment and operation of manufacturing plants with reduced forces existed in New York city during January, but improved conditions set in toward the close of the month, the employment service of the Labor Department stated yesterday. Similar conditions were reported in New Jersey and Connecticut industrial areas. In a general survey for the country, it was stated that employment conditions were more depressed in New York State than elsewhere. It was predicted that the upward trend would continue and that within the next sixty to ninety days the country will be on a normal employment basis.

Dow Jones' Averages—Thirty industrials, high 275, low 268.97, last 272.27; up 1.22. Twenty rails, high 156.22, low 154.93, last 155.24; up .01. Twenty utilities, 97.78; up .76. Forty leading bonds, 93.82; off .20.

MARKET TONE IS CONFIDENT THROUGH DAY

Tactics Designed to Unsettle List Abandoned When No Following Is Created

WESTERN UNION MAY SHOW LARGE GAINS

(B.C. Bond Corporation, Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The market retained its confident tone, not only throughout the periods of generally rising prices, but also during the early afternoon, when desperate attempts to unsettle the list were made by pounding stocks known to be in a weak condition. Gillette, Simmons, Fox, etc., appeared in large strings on the tape at declining levels, but these movements failed to create a following and the tactics consequently were abandoned.

The increase of only $48,000,000 in brokers' loans shows the strong technical position of the market. Shorts will begin covering at the opening and higher prices should be attained during the first hour. Weekend profit-taking may develop later in the day, but this is not expected to be of appreciable dimensions, and should only exert a minor influence upon the trend. We believe that stocks have definitely demonstrated their ability to retain their gains and that they possess sufficient momentum to reach higher territory. For the time being, therefore, profit-taking should be on only a moderate scale and for no other purpose than the consolidation of one's position. We look for many new leaders to come into the market, thus affording a chance for other stocks to rest awhile. Continental Can. is a logical leader in the industrial group just as Consolidated Gas is the outstanding issue in the utility field. From time to time one may expect to hear bearish propaganda from sources ordinarily bullish on the situation. We believe that is it not worth while to be unduly influenced by such reports because the old maxim is that sold-out bulls usually turn bearish.

Western Union is again behind the market and may continue so far a little while, but will ultimately pick up and show large gains within a short time. It will be recalled that last year, when the utilities led the upswing, two issues in this group, namely, Western Union and American Telephone and Telegraph, persistently stayed behind the list. Many abandoned hope of ever seeing a movement in either of these stocks, when without warning, Western Union staged an advance of a total of about 100 points and American Tel. and Tel. made a similar gain.

We believe that the position of both issues strikingly resembles that of midsummer of 1929 and on short notice Western Union displayed a rising tendency in spite of the severe competition in its field, the future outlook for the company is definitely bright. The current hesitation is due to a new statement that no split-up is contemplated. The market, however, is reaching a stage where blue chips will once more be favored and the higher these stocks are, the broader will be their following. We advise buying Western Union.

Plucky Operator Saves Panic in Picture Theatre

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 14.—When fire broke out in the projection room of a local theatre Wednesday during a performance, the firemen removed their helmets and rubber coats so that they might enter the building without creating a panic. They made their entry and exit without the audience knowing of their danger, but the quick-witted operator who had arranged for their inconspicuous entry had already put out the flames. When a roll of film caught fire the operator sent an attendant to ring the alarm and instructed him to meet the firemen and arrange for their quiet entry, so that a panic might be avoided.

Tape Topics

It was a fairly active as well as a very mixed market at New York yesterday, a large number of issues selling off, while others rose. On the announcement that the banks had called $60,000,000, what rises there were appeared to lose way. Trading during the fourth hour was enlivened by an improved buying movement in United States Steel, which pushed into new high ground on the move at 188 1-4, up 3 3-8, on active transactions.

Bethlehem Steel gainted about one point. Westinghouse Electric had a net gain of nearly two points and New York Central was another outstanding feature of the high-grade stocks, running up 4 1-2 points to 192. Con. Gas at the close had a net gain of two points, and American Can a net loss also of some two points. Call money advanced from 4 to 4 1-2 per cent. Industrial averages were off .75, rails, up 1.02, and utilities, up 1.50. The total sales were 3,504,400.

Both the oils and the mines continued quiet yesterday on the local market, up to 1 o'clock only about 42,000 shares having been sold. In the afternoon, however, there was quite an activity in Premier, about 4,500 shares of which stock changed hands at $1.42 and $1.41, these being the prices at which most of the sales took place. The most active stock of the day was Freehold, which opened at 63c and closed practically without fluctuations at 61c to 63c.

Mayland opened at $1.35 and closed at $1.29 to $1.32, the high being $1.40 and the low $1.30. Sterling Pacific opened at 40c to 45c and closed a trifle lower at 38c to 40c. United, which opened at 83c to 85c, closed at 84c, bid. Calmont, opening at $1.55, stayed steady and closed at $1.54 to $1.55. Home opened at $9.65, bid, touched a high of $10 and a low of $9.80 before closing at $9.95 to $10, the last sale being at the latter price. There were a few sales of Associated, opening at $1.07 and closing at $1.09 to $1.10, and Baltac, which opened at 86c to 89c, touched 92c as the high and 88c as the low and closed at 90c to 95c, the last sale being at 92c.

In the mines, Reeves-McDonald's opening price was $1.05 to $1.08, with $1.02 to $1.03 quoted at the close. The only other active stock was Grandview, which opened at 11c and closed at 11 1-2c to 12c, with no variations. Cork Province sold about 4,000 shares, all at 3c, which was a new low for the stock for the year. Kootenay King also established a new low at the same price, opening at 3 1-2c to 3 1-4c and closing at 3 1-4c to 3 3-4c, and Porter-Idaho was in the new-low-for-the-year class at 20c, on the sale of 1,000 shares.

At Toronto the strong spot of the session was Wright-Hargreaves, opening at $2.05 to $2.10, the latter figure being the high and $1.96 the low, and closing at $2.05 to $2.08, with the last sale at $2.05. With the exception of this stock, sales were small, and most of the issues which had been headed upwards at midday turned soft towards the close, losses outnumbering the gains, although price reactions were nominal.

Noranda opened at $42.75, from which it went to $43 before closing at $42 to $42.05, with the latter price being that of the last sale. Teck Hughes, opening at $6.35, bid, touched a high of $6.55 and a low of 10c less, the last sale being at $6.45 and the closing figures $6.45 to $6.50. International Nickel opened at $38.85, hit $39, went back to $38.25 and closed at $38.25 to $38.40. Sherritt-Gordon remained about its opening price of $2.95 to $2.97, with a last sale of $2.91 and $2.90 to $2.93 quoted at the close. Amulet opened at $1.65 to $1.67 and closed at $1.60 to $1.65, Howey sold a few shares from 95c to 93c, and Premier, at this market, opened at $1.42, bid, and closed at $1.41 to $1.42.

The bond market at Toronto yesterday was generally improved, investment bankers reporting a more lively demand. Government offerings have been promptly disposed of, and, while the demand for municipals has increased noticeably, corporation bond issues recently launched were, it is reported, quickly taken up.

FEW COMPANIES INCORPORATED

Aggregate Capitalization Is Less Than Has Been Case for Some Time

TWO ADDITIONAL EXTRA-PROVINCIAL

The week's incorporations in the province of joint stock companies has not been large. For the most part the capitalization of the companies has also been small. The Canadian Prospecting & Development Company, of Vancouver, with a capitalization of $200,000, is the largest of them.

The remaining companies incorporated were as follows: Canadian & Foreign Shippers, Vancouver, $10,000; Christie Truck & Car Parts, Vancouver, $10,000; Clark & Lantz, Enderby, $15,000; Harold C. Ralph and Associates, Vancouver, $25,000; Howe & Company, Vancouver, $20,000; Northwestern Aerial Prospectors, Stewart, $50,000; Riverside Women's Institute, Pouce Coupe, under the Societies Act; Sun Coal Company, $10,000; Tzouhalem Logging Company, Vancouver, 10,000 shares of no par value.

Two companies were granted registration as extra-provincial companies. These were Regent Knitting Mills, of Montreal, and West Coast Collieries, of Toronto. The headquarters for the province in each of these cases is Vancouver.

STRIKE OF LIME AT MILL CITY RENEWS INTEREST

(Meharey, Roe & Co., Ltd.)

The report that Mill City Petroleums, Limited, struck limestone at 4,500 feet at midweek created renewed interest in the eastern flank of the Southern Turner Valley structure. Whether Mill City operations will be carried through in search of production with rotary tools or diamond or cable equipment has not yet been decided. In the interim the well is being drilled a short distance into the limestone before casing is run and cemented.

Simultaneously with this report came the news that Royalite No. 23, half a mile southeast of producer Okalta No. 1, will be shot with 1,000 quarts of nitro-glycerine in an effort to increase production. J. H. McLeod, production manager, Imperial Oil Company, Limited, states operations will be carried out in a day or so. Sterling Pacific, down to a total depth of 6,353 feet and about 1,200 feet in the lime, will be drilled indefinitely to a deep lime test. Maximum depth will be determined by results in the meantime. Homestead, about one and a half miles north of Mill City, made contact with limestone on Tuesday, and Wednesday expected to cease drilling at about twenty-five feet in lime to run casing and cement.

CRUDE SHOWING AT MOOSE DOME

FOLLOWS EXPLOSION OF GLYCERINE FOR STRAIGHTENING PURPOSES

McLeod No. 1 Blows Back Into Production—Explosion at Regent Wrecks Rigging

(Miller, Court & Co., Ltd.)

CALGARY, Feb. 14.—Moose Dome has crude showing in Devonian lime at 2,206 feet after shot made to assist straightening of hole. Experts are of the opinion seepage from lower depth released by explosion. Operation is backed by Noah Timmins, prominent mining operator, and associates, Pilling interests and Mayor Webb, of Winnipeg, with royalty privileges tightly held. The group holds a large tract of acreage in area.

Heron Pete, four miles south of Moose Dome well, is regarded as a highly interesting operation in view of the crude oil showing in Devonian lime at Moose Dome. Devonian limestone contributes a large portion of United States output.

McLeod No. 1 blew back into production of unestimated quantity shortly before midnight. It was allowed to blow free, to clean out, all night, and they may put it on the separator today. Operators had planned to blow lost tools to one side and drill from present lime depth of 900 feet, total 3,940 feet. The well will be watched and future policy decided. McLeod Nos. 3 and 4 are producing steadily; No. 5 is drilling at 2,800 feet.

Freehold No. 3 is expected to spud in in a few days. The location is just north of No. 2. Okalta No. 1 is held up in an attempt to clean for lost production. May start today. The well once produced 500 barrels a day, but fell off to 250 barrels before shutting off altogether.

Commonwealth, Milk River, is reported drilling more than 3,555 feet. The Devonian was struck at 3,485 feet.

Wabash was unsuccessful in effort to make intermittent bursts constant and is now drilling again. Was last reported at 3,000 feet and thought to be 300 feet in Devonian.

A.P. Consolidated officials intimate they may have an interesting announcement to make regarding the subleasing of section of Red Coulee property. A.P. Consolidated is drilling more than 5,322 feet. They do not anticipate lime for about 80 feet following recent cutting of Belemnites for the third time.

Delco Oil & Gas Company, with acreage in Southern Alberta, a large quantity of which was formerly held by Canadian Western Natural Gas, Light, Heat & Power Company, Calgary, is formulating programme of area near Red Coulee this Spring. Officials claim company is financed to carry out plans.

Mill City No. 1, located in the south end of Turner Valley, in L.S.D. 14, Section 4, Township 19, Range 2, west 5th, hit the limestone at 4,510 and drilled to 4,525 feet. The crew is rigging up to run a string of 6 1-4-inch casing to bottom, where it will be cemented.

Homestead No. 1 has drilled to 4,310 feet and is getting ready to cement 8 1-4-inch casing. It has been announced by officials of the company that the limestone was encountered at 4,286 feet. This well is located about 200 yards north of Eastcrest No. 1, which hit the lime at 4,307 feet and has had strong showings of wet gas.

At Mercury No. 3 the crew has complted repairs to the 8 1-4-inch casing and expects to resume drilling today. The well is 32 feet in the limestone formation at 5,115 feet.

Miracle No. 1 has drilled by the 360 feet of drill pipe lost in the hole and will cement today to hold the pipe back in formation. The well is in the Upper Fernies at 3,960 feet.

Okalta No. 3 hit the Home sands at 3,433 feet and had a strong showing of gas. They are underreaming to bottom. Ten-inch casing is frozen up at 3,325 feet. An effort will be made to loosen the casing and carry it on down the hole.

An explosion from an unknown cause, at Regent, hurled the separator 50 feet in the air and tore up the connecting pipe lines from the well. A new separator was being hooked up yesterday afternoon and they thought the gas flow would be turned in during the evening.

Spray was cased to 1,955 feet when the last report was received from the field. The well is down 2,000 feet and 13-inch casing is being carried down behind the tools.

Structure No. 1 is at 2,615 feet and is drilling a 12-inch open hole. The company sold its first oil to Royalite on Wednesday. Sioux City is drilling at 3,600 feet. Richfield has been drilling for three days below the old 3,700-foot level, but exact depth has not yet been reported here. Invaders is drilling at 4,500 feet. Turner Basin was shut down temporarily about two weeks ago at 3,854 feet. Anaconda is drilling at 2,150 feet. Calmont No. 1 is waiting for casing which will arrive on the site tomorrow. No. 7 is drilling at 3,221 feet. No. 8 standing cemented and tools being moved to No. 11. No. 10 setting 21 1-2-inch surface pipe at 506 feet. No. 11 rigging up. No. 12 derrick up. The locations of Calmont Nos. 2, 4, 6, 7, 10, 11 and 12 are on L.S.D. 11, 20-19-2-W. 5th M.

Monalta No. 2, in the border field, and completed a good water shut-off and everything is in readiness to continue drilling.

Wellington expects to be drilling again in about a week. The well is cemented 13 feet in the lime, and the new derrick is up.

COMMODITIES ARRIVE FROM CALIFORNIA

Two Cars of Vegetables and One Each of Oranges and Mediterranean Sweets on Markets

POTATO MARKET REMAINS FIRM

Trade volume on the local wholesale market yesterday showed a marked improvement over last week. Wholesalers were on the go all day receiving and sending out commodities. Prices were generally firm, but the buying was easy. California arrivals were heavier than for the past month, and the produce is being shipped on an easier cost basis, due to moderate weather, both in the Northwest and in California.

Potato markets throughout the Puget Sound areas and at all points in British Columbia have displayed a firmer tendency during the last fortnight. Conditions in the eastern and midwestern sections of the United States and Canada are dull and weak, with prices showing a decline. Locally, sales are comparatively good in most producing areas and in practically all consuming centres. The following quotations are in evidence on the local mart: Ashcroft and Yakima Netted Gems, $3.50 per 100-pound sack; local and Mainland, 15 cents less for the same quantity. Sweet potatoes are wholesaling at $4 per box.

Arrivals from California shipping centres were as follows: two cars of vegetables and one each of navel oranges and Mediterranean sweets. The vegetables reached the warehouses on Thursday, and the last two consignments arrived yesterday. The dealers are satisfied with the shipments from the South, as they help to supply the large inquiry. Included in the vegetable carlot was cauliflower, spinach, cabbage and celery.

Imported lettuce dropped considerably, and now is selling at $4.50 and $5.25, instead of $5.50 to $6.25, the former price. Artichokes also showed a decline yesterday, as did hothouse rhubarb.

Florida grapefruit is now selling at $8.50 to $10, and Arizona grapefruit has dropped from the market, as did Japanese marmalade oranges. Eight different brands of apples are available from $1.85 to $3.25 a box. Cooking pears of a fine quality made their initial appearance, and run from $1.50 to $2.25.

Egg prices continue at the same basis with a strong demand for extras and firsts. Weekly shipments roll out of the province for the Prairie and Eastern provinces. British Columbia is still the source of the Eastern supply, while consuming centres in some of the Prairie provinces are turning to United States to satisfy the large demand.

Butter is cleaning up on the local mart in fine style, and the majority of brands dropped from 1 to 2 cents a pound yesterday.

A geographer, at a geographers' banquet in Boston, told a story about Sir Richard Burton, the famous explorer, linguist, translator and whatnot.

"Burton," he began, "made the acquaintance of a bishop on a voyage home from India, and the two men got on well together, notwithstanding the difference in their beliefs.

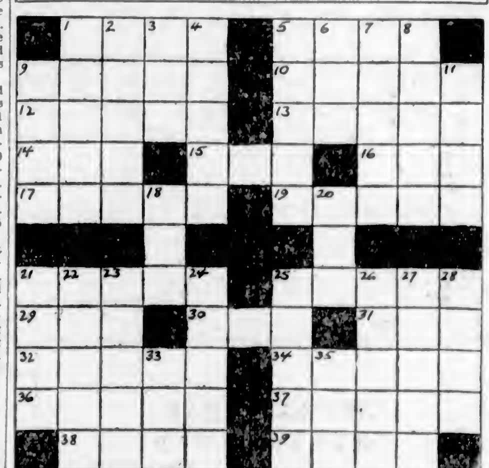

"The bishop, as they sat on deck one morning, pointed up toward half-a-dozen tame monkeys that were climbing in the rigging and said:

"'There, Capt. Burton'—Burton was only a captain then—'there are the folk you are descended from.'

"Burton looked at the monkeys, then he looked at the bishop.

"'Well, bishop,' he said, 'I at least have made some progress, but you, who are descended from the angels—how about you?'"

VERY SELECT HOME OF TUDOR DESIGN, SITUATE NEAR THE GOLF LINKS AND COMMANDING MARINE VIEWS
THIS house was carefully designed for comfort, convenience and light. The ground floor shows vestibule reception hall, reception-room, library or den, dining-room, kitchen and breakfast alcove, while upstairs, in addition to the master bedrooms, are two smaller bedrooms and maid's room. The plumbing throughout is of the best, while the bathroom floor and kitchen fittings are finished with tile. The living-room, with French doors opening to the dining-room, is especially attractive, being finished in mission, as also are the bedrooms. The house is heated by a silent automatic oil-burning furnace, while the fireplaces have electric grates. Access to the garage is provided by entrance from the basement. The grounds comprise over one-third of an acre and are well laid out with driveway, lawn and borders.
This home to the discriminating home-seeker is sure to please.

"ROSE MAIDEN" IS PRESENTED

Nanaimo Philharmonic Society Shows Talent in Production

NANAIMO, Feb. 13.—Under the direction of Mr. Andrew Dunsmore, the Nanaimo Philharmonic Society scored a decided triumph with the presentation of the "Rose Maiden" in the First United Church.

The cantata abounds with beautiful melodies, calling for a variety of expression and every mood in the theme of the story was elegantly interpreted by the soloist and by the chorus of forty voices. The "Rose Maiden," which was a somewhat different type of production than formerly given by the society seemed to grip the audience from the beginning, and unstinted applause was given the singers wherever an occasion presented. The general arrangement was beautifully enhanced by the artistic work of Mr. R. T. Coveney at the pipe organ, and Miss Beth Emery at the piano. In the preliminary part of the programme good talent was introduced, Mr. J. Galloway with Mrs. Brankston providing wonderful interpretations of "Pale Hands of Love" and "Night Winds," and other selections. Both were given a double encore. Mr. Gabriel Brown contributed violin selections which were equally popular, and he was recalled amid enthusiasm.

The effort of the society not only imparted the excellent work of the conductor but demonstrated in a handsome way that Nanaimo has sufficient talent to produce such an entertainment. While the audience could have been larger, no production of the Philharmonic Society received greater recognition in the way of applause. The artists who contributed to the successful venture in the solo work were Mrs. W. F. Drysdale, Mrs. Charles Trawford, Mrs. George Muir, Miss Lythgoe Mr. R. Husband, Mr. C. R. Lee and Mr. T. Lewis.

FIRE MARSHAL ACT

Amendments Are Introduced Into Legislature Aimed at Protection of Public Buildings

In the House Thursday, a bill to amend the Fire Marshal Act was introduced by Hon. R. H. Pooley, and read a first time. The bill proposed a number of changes found necessary under the working of the act to make it conform to existing conditions.

One section makes provision whereby the act may be made to apply to village municipalities which have come into existence to a considerable extent of late years. It calls for certain changes to make the act conform to this condition.

Provision is made that there shall be inspection at least once every two months, of all hotels, schools, theatres, skating rinks, dance halls, and every other place used as a place of public resort or amusement.

There is provision made for the keeping of one additional means of egress other than the main entrance in all buildings of public character.

CRICKET CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Fixtures Will Be Arranged Next Summer With Vancouver and Island Teams

CUMBERLAND, Feb. 13.—Judging by the enthusiasm displayed at the annual general meeting of the Cumberland Cricket Club held on Wednesday, the coming season will be a banner one. Last year's report was read by the secretary, who was heartily thanked for the great interest he had taken in the club during the past season. On the season's activities a deficit was shown, but arrangements were made at the meeting to meet this in the very near future.

In the election of officers, Lieut.-Colonel Charles W. Villiers was the unanimous choice for honorary president, and Mr. Thomas Graham and Dr. G. K. MacNaughton, M.P.P., honorary vice-presidents. The president will be George E. Apps; vice-president, J. C. Brown; secretary-treasurer, J. Vernon Jones; executive committee, J. Idiens (chairman), S. Gough, F. V. Hall, A. J. Taylor and T. Carney. Grounds committee will be: S. Gough (chairman), J. L. Brown, J. Vaughan, J. Vernon-Jones, L. H. Finch and W. Whyte; equipment, C. V. Dando, Jr.; refreshment committee, S. Gough, J. L. Brown and the secretary; selection committee will be the captain, vice-captain and J. L. Brown; official umpire, J. Coates, and the scorer Harry Brown.

The secretary was instructed to arrange fixtures and if possible arrange for games with one or two Vancouver teams in addition to the games usually played with Island teams.

Y.P.S. Meets

KEATING, Feb. 14.—The Young People's Society of the South Saanich United Church, held a well attended meeting in the church parlor on Monday evening. Mr. A. Hafer led the devotional period with which the evening commenced, after which Miss Ida Heyer took charge of the business session. A letter from the Young People's Council in Victoria, enclosing a questionnaire regarding the forthcoming rally, was read, and it was left in the hands of the president to fill out and return the same. It was announced that there would be no meeting on Monday evening, February 17, and on Monday evening, February 24, the society has been invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Stoddart, Saanichton. Following the business, the citizenship committee took charge, and Mr. L. E. Taylor, of Mount Newton, addressed the members in most interesting fashion, telling of life in Africa. Hearty thanks were extended to the speaker.

East Sooke News

EAST SOOKE, Feb. 13.—The monthly meeting of the Farmers' Institute was held at the Hall. It was a great pity that owing to the weather and the bad colds prevalent at present, that there were so few to hear the excellent and helpful address given by Mr. Asher, of the Triangle Chemical Co. Those who heard it were very much interested, as the large number of questions asked showed. Notice of an entertainment and dance on February 21 was given.

Frolic Is Held

SAANICHTON, Feb. 14.—The Saanich Conservative Association held an enjoyable frolic in the Agricultural Hall on Wednesday evening. Wheels of fortune and various games of chance proved a great source of enjoyment. An excellent five-piece orchestra supplied the music for dancing. Mr. W. O. Wallace made a very efficient master of ceremonies, and supper was served by the ladies of the society.

Mrs. S. F. Tolmie was present, also many guests from Victoria.

RURIDECANAL CHAPTERS MEET

Clergy of Rural Deaneries of Nanaimo and Comox Hold Joint Session

On Tuesday the clergy of the rural deaneries of Comox and Nanaimo held a united chapter meeting at St. Paul's Church, Nanamio. Proceedings opened with a celebration of Holy Communion at 10 a.m., the celebrant being Rev. Canon H. V. Hitchcox. Two very interesting addresses on "The Ministry of Conversion" were given by Archdeacon E. P. Laycock, and there were periods of prayer and medintation.

At 12:30 p.m. the chapter adjourned for lunch at the Malaspina Hotel as guests of the archdeacon.

By kind invitation, of Canon Hitchcox, the afternoon session was held at St. Paul's Rectory. A well-sustained discussion on various matters pertaining to church government was opened by the archdeacon, who later on gave valuable advice on reading and the use of theological libraries. Tea was kindly served by Mrs. H. V. Hitchcox.

The clergy from the Comox deanery were: Rev. E. Robothan, rural dean; Revs. R. D. Porter, G. L. Bourdillon and C. H. Popham. From the Nanaimo deanery: The Ven. Archdeacon H. A. Collison, rural dean, and Revs. Canon H. V. Hitchcox, B. E. Spurling, G. Stevenson and A. Bischlager.

GOVERNMENT AGENTS ARE BUSY PAYING COUGAR BOUNTIES

COURTENAY, Feb. 14.—Owing to the Winter-like conditions which have prevailed here for the last two months, cougars are having a very "thin" time, and hunters have been getting some profitable bags. From Butties and Quinsam Lakes, Stanley Gardner has claimed the bounty on eleven adult animals and three kittens. At the Government office in Cumberland twenty-two bounties have been poid in one week. Hunters are still busy in the district.

CUMBERLAND LAY MISSIONARY DIES

CUMBERLAND, Feb. 14.—Mr. U. Oyama, a lay missionary of the Cumberland United Church, who has been working amongst the Japanese in this district for the past ten years, passed to his reward on Tuesday, at the age of sixty-two years. Mr. Oyama also did missionary work for the Methodist Church at Steveston, Vancouver and Victoria for a period of ten years and became widely known as a devoted worker among the Japanese workers. The funeral service will be held on Friday at the Cumberland United Church and interment will take place in the Japanese Cemetery, Cumberland, with Rev. J. R. Hewitt, pastor of the Cumberland United Church, officiating. He will be assisted by Rev. Y. Utaka Ogura, of Victoria, and Lay Missionary Momoto, of Vancouver. Mr. Oyama leaves a grown-up family.

SPANISH COIN IS FOUND ON BEACH

COURTENAY, Feb. 14.—While hauling gravel from the beach at Comox, Mr. F. M. Taylor picked up a Spanish coin bearing the date of 1813 still in an excellent state of preservation. Although the coin was minted a hundred and seventeen years ago it may have been in circulation some years when perhaps it was brought to Vancouver Island by one of the many Spaniards who are known to have remained after the ceding to Great Britain by the Spanish of their interests in the North Pacific, late in the eighteenth century.

None Willing to Become Secretary

COURTENAY, Feb. 14.—At the recent annual meeting of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., difficulty was experienced in obtaining men willing to hold office. By a small majority, the meeting voted in favor of applying for a club licence. Comrades Bate and Baker are the new president and vice-president, respectively. No one would take on the work of secretary. The retiring officers, who did not seek re-election and who turned over the affairs of the branch in good shape, were accorded a hearty vote of thanks.

Volunteer Firemen Choose Officers

COURTENAY, Feb. 14.—The annual meeting of the Courtenay Volunteer Fire Brigade resulted in the election of the following officers: Chief, John Thomson; deputy chief, Percy Booth; secretary-treasurer, H. S. Baker; captain No. 1 company, William Leighton; No. 2 company, Mr. Demonte. An interesting report was submitted by the chief. The winning of competitions during the year shows the Courtenay brigade to be at a high state of efficiency.

CUMBERLAND CRIBBAGE

CUMBERLAND, Feb. 14.—The schedule in the Cumberland and District Cribbage League is drawing to a close with the Veterans of Cumberland and the Union Bay team fighting it out at the head of the table. During the week both these teams chalked up victories, the Vets winning against the Nondescripts by a score of 21 points to 15 and the Union Bay boys beating the Athletics by the same score, putting the latter out of the running definitely. Union Bay heads the league with fourteen points for nine games played, while the Vets have thirteen points for eight games played. The league schedule finishes March 18, after which a monster meet will be held with all teams in the league taking part.

Blacky Gets Even With Hooty

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Getting even may not pay,
But somehow brightens up a day.
—Blacky the Crow.

Now Blacky the Crow is like a great many human beings—brave when in company, but not brave at all when alone. Blacky loves the company of his own kind. He is never so happy as when he is one of a crowd of Crows.

Now, Blacky was feeling very much put out. He was so. He felt that not only had Hooty the Owl cheated him out of a number of breakfasts, for he knew very well that he wouldn't dare to go back to Farmer Brown's corncrib for some time. He knew that Hooty, having found him there once, would look for him there again. He would be quite likely to keep a watchful eye on that place early every morning.

I'll get even with him!" said Blacky over and over to himself. "I'll get even with him in some way. I don't know how I'll do it, but I will get even with him."

His chance came that very afternoon. It was chance, too; pure and simple. You see, Blacky just happened to find Hooty the Great Horned Owl taking a nap. Hooty likes to take a nap through the day and hunt at night. Blacky opened his mouth to scream at Hooty to wake him up, but closed it again without making a sound. He hurried away as fast as he could. When he was what he considered far enough, he alighted on top of a tall tree and began to scream as loud as he could. "Caw, Caw, Caw, Caw!" screamed Blacky. Pretty soon there was an answering caw in the distance. Then another and another.

Blacky kept calling and the other Crows kept answering. Those answers kept coming nearer and nearer and from several directions. Pretty soon they were gathered around Blacky and all of them talking at the same time. "What is it?" they demanded. "Why have you called us?"

Blacky's eyes twinkled. "I've found Hooty the Owl asleep," said he.

"Where, where, where?" demanded all the Crows.

"Follow me and I'll show you," replied Blacky, and led the way back to where Hooty was peacefully sleeping.

Hooty didn't sleep peacefully any longer. Such a racket as those Crows made! They flew over and around him and some of them alighted in the very tree he was sitting in, all of them cawing at the top of their lungs. No one could sleep with such a racket going on. Some of the boldest would swoop down and shriek in Hooty's very ears. He glared at them as only Hooty can glare. He snapped his bill and turned his head from side to side so rapidly that it looked as if he turned his head completely around. Of course, he did nothing of the sort, for no bird could do that. Now and then he hissed. He was very, very angry. How those Crows did tease him! Some of them darted in close enough to peck him and pull out a feather or two. He stood it for a while, and then suddenly spread those great wings of his, and when he did this those Crows all fled in a panic. You see, they know what some human folk seem not to know—which is, that Hooty can see perfectly well in the daytime.

But Hooty didn't chase any of them. He simply flew farther into the Green Forest and perched in a great evergreen tree where it was dark. He knew the Crows would not bother him much there.

Meanwhile, Blacky went his way chuckling, for he felt that now he was even with Hooty the Owl.

Pimples on Face Thought Everyone Was Looking at Her

Miss F. Foster, Nanaimo, B.C., writes:—"I used to suffer, something awful, with pimples on my face, and never felt as if I wanted to go out as I thought everyone was looking at me.

"A friend advised me to use

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

so I got a bottle and it worked wonders, and after using the second one to look at my face one would never think I ever had a pimple."

VISITORS TO GO SOON TO CHINA

Central Baptist Church to Hear Farewell Messages From Rev. L. G. and Mrs. Baker

Great missionary interest has been aroused among the regular Baptists of British Columbia by the regular Baptist convention having taken over a mission field with large opportunities in Kiangsi Province, Central China. There are already ten missionaries and seven native workers on the field.

On Sunday there is to be a missionary rally at the Central Baptist Church, when missionaries-elect, Rev. Lorimer G. and Mrs. Baker, will deliver farewell missionary messages before leaving to take up work on the Northwest Kiangsi mission field. Mr. Baker is the son of Rev. A. F. Baker, who was for fifteen years pastor of Mount Pleasant Baptist Church, Vancouver, and known and loved throughout the Province. Mr. L. G. Baker is a graduate of the University of British Columbia, and also the Bible Institute of Los Angeles, California, and has served in pastorates in Mission City and Marpole. He is an exceptionally good gospel singer and will sing at the services today. The visitors are expected to leave for their work in China the early part of April.

Children to See Temperance Slides At Victoria West

Tomorrow being Temperance Sunday throughout the province, Rev. H. T. Armitage will speak on the subject in his own pulpit during the morning service at Victoria West United Church. In connection with the general exchange of pulpits for the evening service, Rev. W. A. Guy, B.A., B.D., of Oak Bay United Church, will be the special speaker. There will be music at both services.

At the school session beginning at 12:15 o'clock, a number of special slides on temperance will be shown and explained by Mr. Marriot of Fairfield United Church. All interested are invited to be present.

PLANS TOLD FOR WEST COAST ROAD

Chamber Directors Given Views of Department of Public Works by Premier Tolmie

That the Department of Public Works favors the practical completion of the West Coast Road as far as Port Renfrew, before any extensive survey is undertaken over the country between that point and Clo-oose, was the message contined in a letter from Premier Tolmie, which was read to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the board.

The letter stated that, since survey could only be undertaken to the extent which the available funds for that work allowed, officials believed that it was advisable to concentrate upon finishing the road as far as Port Renfrew, and that further survey should be abandoned until such time as this work was nearing completion.

Mr. J. L. Beckwith said that the continuance of work upon this road would be of great benefit to the city of Victoria, and, at his suggestion, it was decided to inform the Government that the Chamber of Commerce was intensely in earnest in hoping that the Government would complete the highway at the earliest possible date.

At the close of the meeting Mr. P. B. Fowler, president of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that he intended at an early date to ask the directors to appoint him as their delegate to attend the National Foreign Trade Council in Los Angeles.

Quebec Likely To Go to Polls During Summer

QUEBEC, Feb. 14.—The Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph today says: "That Premier Taschereau will submit the policy and programme of the Liberal party to the country this Summer is now regarded as almost certain in unofficial circles, following the trend of events in the Provincial Legislature for the last six weeks. Not only is the proximity of the appeal to the electorate freely spoken of but the probable date has been fixed by the political wiseacres as June 16."

PREVIOUS CONVICTIONS

With three previous convictions against him, John Morrison, who pleaded guilty to a charge of being intoxicated in a public place, was sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment with hard labor, in the city police court yesterday.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make 16 ounces. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germ-laden phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Rev. A. J. Vincent's Topic to Be "The Loss of Power"

"The Loss of Power" is the text of the sermon upon which the pastor, Rev. A. J. Vincent will preach at the First Baptist Church on Sunday morning. The soloist for this service will be Miss Marjorie Watson. The church school will meet immediately following the morning service. In the evening the pastor will bring to a close the series of sermons he has been preaching during the past few weeks and will speak on "Why Men Love God So Little." Mr. Percy Edmonds will sing at this service, and the choir will render the anthem "Incline Thine Ear," by Mendelssohn.

The young people of the church will hold their weekly meeting on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. On Wednesday evening the midweek service of the church will be held for prayer and praise. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services.
